

BASKET BALL

WINSTON MILITIAMEN FALL BEFORE QUAKERS

Guilford Cagers Prove Superior In Every Phase Of The Game

The Guilford College basketball team defeated the Company G. quint, of Winston-Salem, Saturday night by the score of 45 to 22, wiping out the sting of defeat that was engendered by a trip to the Camel City last winter.

The Quakers started with a rush and soon piled up a score that was never threatened. "Shirt" Smith was the most outstanding player on the floor. He scored 20 of the 45 points to the Quaker's credit. Coble followed closely with a total of 15 points. Quick short passes on the part of the team made the scoring consistent and systematic.

Company G played a good game and really exhibited flashes of excellent work at times, but the Quaker guards were so close after the plays that the militiamen were forced to resort to long passes and risky shots from mid-floor which usually resulted in the Quakers recovering on the rebound. There were no "Crips" for the soilders.

During the first quarter the Guilford men were handicapped as they were not accustomed to playing on a floor freshly waxed for dancing. Greater accuracy and less clumsiness was displayed after the floor had been rosined.

The line-up and summary:

Co. G.	Pos.	Guilford
Lambe		Cottrane
	L. F.
Beck		Coble
	R. F.
Kofer		Moore
	C.
Simowitz		Griffin
	L. G.
Bowles		Smith
	R. G.

Substitutions: Co. G, Langley, for Kofer, Kofer for Langley, Langley for Beck. Guilford, Tew for Cottrane Ferrall (6) for Scott.

Referee: Davis of Davidson.

COACH DOAK TO BUILD AROUND THREE VETERANS 1926 BASKETBALL TEAM

Prospect For Winning Team To Best Seen In Several Yeras

With the stage all cleared of football, college basketball is going through the make-up phase in preparation for its college debut with Carolina on January 16th. Several practice games have already been played and most of the members of the pre-season squad were given a chance to show their ability. Out of the four games already played, Guilford won them all by a large score. These games were won with two of last years letter men out of the lineup, name, Captain Tew and Ferrel star forward. Just who will represent Guilford during the coming season is largely a matter of speculation, however, it is certain that Guilford has the best prospects for a winning team that she has in several seasons. The five that Coach Doak picks from the present candidates will win many games for Guilford.

From last year's squad there are three latter men out fighting for positions on this year's team. They are the veterans around Coach Doak expects to build his team. These men are: Henry Tew, Richard Ferrell, and Rufus Smith.

Rufus Smith who was one of the

(Continued on page 3.)

VIRGINIA ROBINS GIVE CONCERT IN CHAPEL

The Virginia Robins gave their first concert of the year Wednesday morning in chapel.

The orchestra has been under the director of Mr. Grady S. Miller during the past two months and has made an improvement in this short time. However, since Mr. Miller could not be present to conduct Wednesday concert, it was not good on ensemble work. The solo parts were good and showed well balanced arranging.

The program ranged from the classical to the syncopated jazz. The first number was "Antonie's Victory," a fast heavy selection. The second was "Hearts Message," one of Zamerik's compositions. This was probably the best selection given by the orchestra. The duet parts with different arrangements. The last part of the program was made up of three selections of jazz which had its usual appeal to many.

A concert will be given one Wednesday night in Memorial Hall in the early part of January. Work has nesday night in Memorial Hall in the bers to given then.

FINANCIAL SECRETARY OF NATIONAL Y. W. SPEAKS

Miss Harriett Hitchcock, financial Secretary of the National board of Y. W. C. A. in New York City, who has been visiting the college, spoke in chapel Friday morning of the great work of the Y. W. C. A.

In showing that the association is a vital part in the making of a better world Miss Hitchcock mentioned the work of the Y in uniting the world into a closer fellowship and how the Y provided the only means of recreation for a large member of workers in larger cities.

Miss Hitchcock is making a tour of colleges in both North and South Carolina holding meetings with the Y. W. C. A. cabinet concerning the budget of the Y. W. C. A. She held two meetings with the cabinet here. Miss Hitchcock went from Guilford to Salem college where she will hold several meetings.

PHILOMATHEANS SPEND AN EVENING AS THE GUESTS OF HENRY CLAY SOCIETY

Short Varied Program Marks Biennial Social Function

On Friday evening, December 4, the Philomathean Literary Society was entertained as the guests of the Henry Clay Literary Society at its regular meeting which was held on this occasion in Memorial Hall.

The program proper was preceded by an impressive chaplan conducted by Charles Coble. However, the literary program itself started with a snap that quickened interest and never allowed it to weaken throughout the evening. Dewey Sheffield delivered the first number on the program, an oration entitled, "The Romance of Leander and Laura." 'Tis here that the formal language of journalism must be dropped and a style adopted, partaking of the school of Josh Billings, Artemus Ward, Mark Twain, Bill Nye and perhaps Eli Perkins, in order to transmit a conception of what this paradoxical number was like. This reading, given in a grave but unaffected manner, narrated the adventures of a very "young man of 62 years whose long grey hair on his bald head rustled in the fierce wind of the calm day while that same fierce wind struggled through the long wavy beard on his smooth shaven face, when meanwhile, he was wooing the beautiful Laura—" whose dazzling beauty and repulsive ugliness struck her admirers with disgust and tantalized them with her charms! It was so original and cleverly arranged that it kept all present vacillating from the extremes of mirth to the extremes of doleful grief!

Harvey Dinkins' discussion of the life of John Quincy Adams was prefaced by a simple formula by which students can distinguish which was he elder in the Adams family, John Adams or John Quincy Adams. This, he said, is a simple matter if it is remembered that the younger had a middle name to distinguish him from—the old man Adam." Leaving the light vein behind he gave a comprehensive discussion of the life of this prominent historical figure, eulogizing him as a—"man who would not be driven by party whip and a man who accomplished more by his absolute honesty and independence than most men in public life are able to accomplish by any means they may employ.

A double quartette consisting of Prof. H. O. Smith, Edwin Brown, Samuel Keen, Joseph Cox, Morris Trotter,

(Continued on page 2.)

Guilford To Become a Member Of Southern Association Of Colleges

President Binford Attends Annual Session Held In Charleston, South Carolina

President Binford returned to the college on Saturday afternoon after attending a conference of the Association of College and Secondary Schools of the Southern States, which was held at Charleston, South Carolina, December first to fourth inclusive. President Binford went to the Conference to present the application of Guilford College for membership in the Southern Association. He says, "In recent years the scholastic standards of Guilford College have been the same endowment of the college has made membership of the college impossible. The recent additions to the endowment will largely correct this hindrance to our membership. By the time that the application comes up for final consideration, a year from this fall, we hope to have completely fulfilled the requirements of the Southern

CAMPUS CALENDER

Dec. 12, "Adam and Eva"
Dec. 15, Christmas Program by the Choral Society.
Dec. 18, Web-Zay Reception.
Dec. 19, Student-Faculty Banquet.
Dec. 22, Christmas Vacation.
Jan. 5, Recitations Resumed

ARTHUR LYON PROMIENT HIGH POINT MAN DIES

Was a Graduate of Guilford and a Booster of Athletics

Authur Lyon, Alumnus of Guilford College and prominent business man of High Point, N. C., dies at 9:30 o'clock, Wednesday, December 2nd.

On Wednesday evening Mr. Lyon accompanied by his brother-in-law C. F. Tomlinson, also of High Point, attended a dinner party given by one of their friends at Sedgefield Manor located between Greensboro and High Point. Immediately after the dinner as he was going from the manor house to his car he had an attack of heart disease and died thirty minutes later, before his physician could reach him. Tho Mr. Lyon had been subject to heart attacks he seemed in fine spirits during the evening and his death came as a great shock to his friends.

Mr. Lyon was almost 54 years of age. He came to New Garden Boarding School from Durham, N. C., in 1885 and graduated from Guilford College in 1891. The next year he accepted a position with the American Tobacco Company and was connected with this company, in Durham and New York City, for twelve years. From 1905 to 1914 he was with the Tominson Chair Company of High Point. He served as city manager of High Point for two years. Since 1917 he has been connected with the Snow Lunbmer Company also of High Point, and at the time of his death was secretary-treasurer of this company. For a short time he was president of the Carolina Baseball league and was a prominent member of the High Point lodge of Elks.

In intellectual ability and athletic activity, Authur Lyon was always recognized as a lead while at Guilford College. He completed with honor the Scientific Course in 1891. However he mastered Latin with the same ease as he did Mathematics and Science.

He excelled at Guilford in tennis and baseball.

Because of his character and ability,

(Continued on page 2.)

FORTY FIRST ANNUAL WEBSTERIAN CONTEST WON BY CHARLES WEIR

Spoke On "Our Problem Of Crime And Its Solution—Paul Swanson And Loyless Melvin Other Speakers

With a speech well organized as to thought, well constructed as to detail, and delivered in a almost flawless manner, Charles S. Weir took first place and won the gold medal offered in the forty-first annual oratorical contest of the Websterian Literary Society which was held in Memorial Hall Saturday night.

The winner had but two opponents in the contest. Lovless Melvin, who spoke upon "Obedience," and Paul Swanson, who spoke upon "Permanent Peace through Moral Education." The program was marked for its briefness but was outstanding in detail and exactness of presentation.

"Our problem of Crime and its Solution" was the title of the oration with which Charles Weir carried way the honors of the evening. He called attention to the increasing volume of crime with which the country has been flooded recently and stated what he thought were the main reasons for the increase: first, the carrying of fire-arms; second, great incoming hordes of foreigners that are coming into the country and are not being readily assimilated; third, general negligence of law which is now bordering upon actual contempt for legislative restraint.

The speaker offered remedies for the situation which he outlined under three separate heads. One of the more important consideration was a general revision of the parole and pardon laws with arrangements for segregation of the hardened criminals

(Continued on page 2.)

PROFESSOR COX SAYS, "CULTIVATE THE RIGHT"

The idea of coveting and cultivating the right colleges spirit was the subject of Professor Cox's chapel talk Thursday morning.

In beginning his talk, Mr. Cox reminded the student of the great advantages which are being offered to them, probably with great sacrifice to fathers and mothers, and the duty of every student to make the best of opportunity. "No college student can repay any college for the opportunity offered him," he said.

In continuing his talk the speaker stressed the fact that only the fittest survive and come to the top. "If this is true in nature," he said, "so is it true with man."

In speaking of individual interest and selfishness, Mr. Cox said, "Not for their own pleasure should men and women desire the best of opportunity, but for the sake of others." "We have, each of us, that within us which will, if it is cultivated, make us better. What we need is loyalty to the right."

DOCTOR PERISHO SPEAKS TO FRIENDS IN RALEIGH

Doctor Perisho has had an extra full calendar lately, in that his time has been almost filled up with trips away from the college to make addresses. Last Sunday he addressed the Friends of Raleigh at the Y. M. C. A. He reports a very active group of Friends there, although their limited number has caused them to hesitate in establishing a church there. Doctor Perisho spoke on "The Application of Christianity to Conditions of 1925."

This week, on Thursday night, he is addressing the students and people of the community of Snow Camp on the "World Court." He has been invited to speak to the Rotary Club of Thomasville on Wednesday, December 16.

(Continued on page 4.)

1925-1926 BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

Jan. 16, Carolina, at Chapel Hill
Jan. 20, Elon College, at Elon
Jan. 22, High Point, at Guilford
Jan. 30, High Point, at High Point
Feb. 1, Duke University, at Durham
Feb. 2, Wake Forest, at Wake Forest (pending)
Feb. 4, Salisbury Y., at Salisbury
Feb. 5, Lenoir-Rhyan, at Hickory
Feb. 6, Davidson, at Davidson
Feb. 11, Lenoir-Rhyan, at Guilford
Feb. 13, Elon College, at Guilford
Feb. 15, N. C. State, at Guilford
Feb. 16, Richmond Blues, at Richmond
Feb. 17, Randolph Macon, at Aceland
Feb. 18, University of Richmond, at Richmond
Feb. 19, Open
Feb. 20, Lynchburg, at Lynchburg
Feb. 22, Richmond Blues, at Richmond
Feb. '4, N. C. State, at Guilford
Feb. 25, Wake Forest, at Guilford
Feb. ?, Davidson, at Guilford (pending)