STATE WINS

North Carolina State defeated Guilford Monday night by a score of 30-16 in a rather uninteresting game. State jumped into a lead early in the first quarter, which the Guilfordians were never able to overcome. At half time State was leading 10-6. RANDOLPH-MACON DEFEATED

Wednesday the Fighting Quakers rose in their wrath and wreaked vengeance on the ill-fated Virginian team they happened to face, defeating Randolph-Macon by the substantial score of 28-20.

Guilford's free-throw shooting was a feature of the game, the Quakers netting 10 points by this route. Guilford's brilliant passing game again was a feature of the game.

Moore starred for Guilford, showing uncanny accuracy at shooting, and scoring 11 points for the Guilford aggregation. Butterworth was the out-

FRESHMAN TEAM SPRINGS A SURPRISE BY DEFEATING STATE'S FRESHMAN QUINT

Team Works Like a Machine And Downs Wolflets 19-18

In one of the most exciting and spectacular games witnessed on the local floor this year, the Guilford College Freshman Basketball team defeated the strong State College Freshman quint by the score of 19 to 18.

The game was hard fought throughout. The Guilford team did not give the visitors a minute's rest from the first whistle to the final second of play.

The local team started the game by fighting the State team to a stand still. They made use of every opportunity to score, and on defence they were invincible. Due to air tight guarding State's pet play Warren to Young to Goodwin failed to work a single time. Guilford's passing was superb. They held the ball in their own end of the court until there was a good chance to go through with it; and this nearly always resulted in a score.

The State Freshman team on the other hand, although man for man a better team, did not possess the smooth team work that was exhibited by their opponents. In the first half they seemed rather inclined to let their opponents rush them rather than rush their opponents. In the last half of the game, however, they came back strong and put considerably more ginger into the game. They were still, however, deficient in team work, and seemed to be willing that one or two individual players do all the starting.

Goodwin, the tall forward on the State team, probably did the best work for his team. However, he seemed to have an off night because

MUSCLE SHOALS AND ITS VALUE TO UNITED STATES IS DISCUSSED AT CHAPEL

Dr. Elwood Perisho Makes Plea For Government Ownership And Development.

"Interesting things come before the 69th congress," began Dr. Elwood C. Perisho in his Chapel talk Wednesday morning, "but the next big thing which will come before this congress is the Muscle Shoals question."

Following this quotation Dr. Perisho gave briefly the location and history of Muscle Shoals a stretch of the Tennessee River in the northern part of Alabama. In this part of the river there is within a very few miles a fall of about thirty feet. The river being the third in size in the United States has an enormous amount of water power available at this place.

During the World War engineers selected Muscle Shoals as a very favorable site for a munition plant. The speaker continued by giving some data concerning the water power of Muscle Shoals compared with the water power of the whole United States also the expense of the building of the munition plant.

The total estimated water power of the United State is twenty million of horse power while the total horse power now in use is eight millions, ten percent of which is in Muscle Shoals. Yet, only about one-fourth of the

TOM SIKES ADDRESSES MISSIONS SCHOOL ON CAMPUS EVANGELISM

Tells Students To Live The "Good News."

Following the third meeting of the School of Missions last Sunday night, Rev. Tom Sykes was the special speaker who addressed the assembly of classes. He spoke upon the subject, "Campus Evangelism."

Mr. Sykes defined the term, "Evangelism" as living the "Good News," rather than telling it, in the literal sense. He remarked at length upon the futility of attempting to tell the "Good News" when the ones who would attempt to do so are not living examples of the kind of life which they are attempting to emulate. He deplored a fallacy which the older people of the church are prone to allow the youth to believe and which they ever encourage. This fallacy is in the statement which one hears, "It is easy to live a Christian life." "To be a Christian is not easy," he said. "We might as well face the facts."

The speaker made a forceful comparison of the attitude of the average present day with a person's attitude whom he observed a short time since. "People are like the man I knew who bought real estate for $12,000. He immediately began to ask $80,000 for his property, in spite of the fact that the same company from whom he purchased the land had hundreds of lots that it would sell at a price not exceeding that for which the man purchased his property. Men want to get something of a great deal of worth for little. You can't get a great deal of good, spiritually, for little. The efforts that we expend, get for us what we secure. It's what we think about constantly that gets down into us and becomes a part of us."

The School of Missions is now just half through its schedule. So far, the attendance has been exceptionally good. On the first night, three

MUSIC DEPARTMENT IS TO HAVE A NEW GRAND PIANO

At the recent meeting of the Board of Trustees action was taken concerning Guilford's need for a new grand piano. The selection of the piano has been placed in the hands of Mrs. Glenn Gildersleeve. It is not certain as yet just what make will be chosen, but it is thought that Mrs. Gildersleeve favors either a Steinway or a Mason & Hamlin.

REECE HEADS CAST OF SPRING PRODUCTION OF THE DRAMATIC COUNCIL

Rehearsals Start This Week On "The Goose Hangs High." Strong Cast

"The Goose Hangs High" is the odd and delightful title that characterizes the spring production of the Drama Council. It is based upon Lewis Beach's clever comedy of adolescent school life and of distracted parents in a well to do family of the middle west.

The following excerpt from the monthly review in the Theatre Magazine is exceptionally well characterized with deftness and sympathetic insight into the dramatic possibilities of this play.

"Here is a play that should give comfort to every perplexed and distracted parent throughout the land. Mothers and fathers who are troubled at what they believe college life is doing to their sons and daughters; transforming well mannered, guileless, innocent (more or less), boys and girls into, fresh, fox-trotting cake eaters and bob-haired lipstick, cigarette smoking flappers will find their fears quite groundless, that when the emergency arises, the dear children know how to put aside their nonsense and always turn up trumps. This gratifying assurance alone insures the popularity of the play in every anxious home in the country.

"The scene is laid in the middle west in the well appointed historic home of Bernard Ingals, who for 15 years has held the position of city assessor. Ingals and his wife, Eunice, are far from rich, but by dint of much self denial, they have managed

INCOMPETENCY OF WOMEN SUBJECT OF WEB DEBATE

Whether or not women are as competent to hold offices and serve on juries as men, was the question for debate in the Websterian Hall on Friday night, February 19. Nereus English and John Hughes of the affirmative argued that the advent of women into politics had caused a great moral awakening and a betterment of conditions in general over the whole country, and that they viewed all things in a humanitarian way, thus covering politics and the courtroom with the refinement and tenderness of woman's spirit. They also contended that failure made thus far by women officials, should not be marked up against the whole sex forever because they had not yet been given time to show their merit. On the other hand Wilmer Steel and Charles Weir won the decision of the judges by showing the failure of women office holders and jurors. They also contended that women because of physiological and psychological reasons have more intense feelings and emotions than man, and unfortunately these sentiments overrule her reasoning power. They argued that the natural maternal instinct of the feminine sex eliminated them from judicial and administrative duties, where sentiment should not be taken into consideration.

For the second number Elwood Parker gave a humorous reading which was appreciated by all.

The society was glad to receive into its membership Forest S. Towe, who favored the society by a very helpful talk.

After a thorough and beneficial critic's report, the society adjourned.

Doctor Binford Reports An Increase In Enrollment For This Year

ENDOWMENT GROWING

Guilford Should Be Able To Qualify For Southern Association Of Colleges

Wednesday, February 18th, the Board of Trustees and the Advisory Committee met here in their regular joint February session.

Much of the meeting was taken up with financial affairs. As this was the regular time for the adoption of the year's budget.

President Raymond Binford, in his report to the board, remarked upon the extra favorable aspect of the present scholastic year. He showed an enrollment of 297 students for this year which is an increase of 11 over last year. The largest number that has been in actual attendance at any time this year is 280. This increase in enrollment has come in spite of the fact that the entrance requirements have been made more exacting.

Doctor Binford reported that good progress is being made on the collection of the endowment pledge which were made three years ago. The collections are nearing the mark that will place the actual endowment of Guilford at $500,000. All the pledges that were made three years ago will fall due this spring and if the collections in the closing months of their maturity are as good as they have been up to the present time the goal sought three years ago will be reached.

The favorable financial outlook, according to Doctor Binford, seemed to enhance the confidence and optimism of the Board of Trustees. Reflecting upon the fact that the extensive program which they set out upon three years ago is about completed, they seemed to look forward to an equally great step of progress for Guilford in the next three years.

The next and immediate step which the Trustees hope to make a reality for Guilford is her entrance into the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges. The committee which was appointed at the October meeting of the Trustees to arrange for Guilford's admission to the Association reported that the prospects were hopeful. The committee stated that such obstacles as remained could be removed between now and the next annual meeting of the Association as which time the application for membership will come up for consideration. The Trustees are laying definite plans to meet all requirements.

SOPHMORE CLASS ELECTS IRA G. NEWLIN PRESIDENT

Tuesday night the Sophomore Class elected officers for the spring term. Ira Newlin was elected president of the class, succeeding Walter Robertson. Byron Haworth will fill the office of vice-president and Nancy White will serve as secretary. Morris Trotter was elected marshal. After a short program the meeting adjourned with the intention in the minds of a few investigating the possibility of the class of '28 publishing or helping to publish an annual in their junior year. This will be brought up at the next meeting in order to sound out public opinion.
