TO SIDNEY LANIER

Singer of the Chattahoochee.
Winding through the vales along;
Fluter of the woodland music;
Singer of sweet southern song.

I would sing, O southern poet,
And I'd ever thankful be
For your kindred blood that's flowing
Through the heart and veins of me.

I too love the flute's sweet music
And there's a wildness in my soul;
I would hurry as your loved river
To the plain and to my goal.

I would sing, O southern poet!
Humbly, sweetly, reverently.
I would thank God ever for you—
Singer of the Chattahoochee!

George: "Do you like sports?"
Nancy: "Yes, but father won't let them long."

English Prof.—Your themes should be written so that even the most stupid of people can understand them.

Frosh.—Yes, sir. What part don't you understand.

BLUE RIDGE IS DISCUSSED BY GIRLS AT Y. W. C. A.

Maie Hollady, Pansy Donnell and Claudia Neel discussed Blue Ridge in dialogue at Y. W. C. A. last Thursday evening.

Situated in a valley surrounded by mountains, Blue Ridge is the summer home of Southern College which trains young men to be Y. M. C. A. secretaries. It is a summer resort and also the meeting place of the Y. W. C. A. Conference.

During last summer this conference was attended by over 500 students from various parts of the country; a number of foreign students were also present.

The activities of the conference include: classes; private conferences with teachers and public speakers; group meetings of students to discuss college problems; lectures by prominent speakers and various forms of recreation, such as, hiking, mountain climbing, swimming, rowing, and playing tennis.

The speaker expressed the desire that the Guilford College Y. W. C. A. would be well represented at the Blue Ridge Conference which begins in the early part of June.

ALICE THOMPSON HEADS PHILOMATHEAN SOCIETY

At the regular meeting of the Philomathean Literary Society Friday night, the following officers were installed to serve the next six weeks: Alice Thompson, President; Louise Frazier, Vice-President; Anna Finch, Secretary; Lucy Coston, Marshal. In the absence of the President, Louise Frazier presided.

The first number on the program was "What it means to be a Senior" by Maud Simpson. Second, "What it means to be a Junior" Louise White. Third, "What it means to be a Sophomore," Alma Hassell. Fourth "What it means to be a Freshman," Edith White. Gertrude Hire gave, "My First Impressions of Guilford College."

It was decided that the society hall should be redecorated. The following committee was appointed to look after the work Lalah Cox, Gladys Gardner and Lalah Hassell.

PANSY DONNELL ELECTED ZAY SOCIETY PRESIDENT

At the regular meeting of the Zatsian Literary Society last Friday evening, the following officers were elected to serve for the next six weeks: Pansy Donnell, President; Mary Frances Turner, Secretary; and Esther Reece, Marshal.

An Easter program was given. The first number being an interesting account of "Why we associate rabbits, biddies, and eggs with Easter," by Sudie Cox. This was followed by Easter music sung by Miss Campbell. Katherine Shields then described some of the interesting details of the Moravian Easter services. The last was a rather unique number entitled "Pipped Eggs" participated in by the entire society.

WILLARD ALLEN TAKES CHAIR IN WEB SOCIETY

The Websterian Literary Society installed into office the following men Friday night: Willard Allen, President; Reginald Marshall, Secretary; and George Hendrickson, Marsh l.

"Resolved: that Muscle Shoals should be leased under the supervision of a private concern" was the debate for the evening. The affirmative side, composed of Gurney Collins and Knox Pool maintained that a private concern like Henry Ford would develop the Shoals and help the American farmer to a great extent. The negative side composed of Elwood Parker and Otis Burke won the judges' decision by proving that by leasing the plant to a private concern monopoly would exist, causing high prices in fertilizers for the farmer.
