

"IT IS THE LITTLE THINGS IN LIFE THAT COUNT" SAYS PROF. SAMUEL L. HAWORTH

In his chapel talk Friday, May 21, Mr. Haworth asked, "Who hath despised the day of small things?" He then went on to say: it is a very important question and may be answered in the negative assuming that God is creator of the world and in it He has not despised little things. "Little drops of water; little grains of sand; make the mighty ocean; and this merry land."

Men of affairs do not despise the day of small things. A. T. Stewart, leading merchant Prince, picked up small grains of coffee in his store, and saved pieces of twine. A lawyer watches very carefully for little turns in answers. A doctor watches the very smallest symptoms. The United States Postal Department will not allow a mistake of one cent. It takes every cent to make a dollar. Eternity itself would be broken if one second is gone. Habit is made of little things and one's career is often determined by small things.

"I had a growing feeling to enter the ministry," said Mr. Haworth, "But, I was working in a post office. One day I took a paper and read it. In this paper I found two sentences about a man in Iowa. I wrote to him and we corresponded for a few months. It was not long after this that I succeeded him as pastor and met my wife. If it had not been for those two sentences, I would not be standing here today."

"It is the little things in life that count today."

Ode To Spring

Ho! spring with her budding tury,
Hath burst, with the dove's coo—
And awak'ning winter's slumbers,
Into things which are great and new.

A croak! Just a frog of the bottomland.
Adding its tiny cheer—
Announcing again winter's broken—
It's coming, so lovers beware.

A bud! then it's all broken;
So the breath 'o spring peeps thru—
It fills the air with much fragrance,
It's as sweet as the morning's dew.

A call! and the call is universal,
For God is breaking anew—
He's changing Mother Earth in her glory,
From the dead to the spring which is New.

PIANO PUPILS APPEAR IN ANNUAL SPRING RECITAL

Monday night, May 17, the piano students of Marie Luise Huth appeared in the spring recital. An interesting program was given in a splendid manner, each pupil demonstrating his or her ability to use the piano with much skill, reflecting credit on the instructor.

The best received numbers of the recital were the Brahms' "Hungarian Dances", Numbers 2 and 6 played by Misses Buckner and Elliott respectively. As a whole, however, the program was considered by many as probably the most interesting of all piano recitals during the past two years.

The program in full follows:
G. F. Handel: Passacaille with variations, Gertrude Masencup. L. V. Beethoven: (a) Duet, Kate Flowers; Turk's March from "the Ruins of Athens"; Mari Luise Huth; (b) Marcia Fuebne (from Sonata op.26), Lillian Buckner; (c) And.te (from Sonata op. 28), Esther Reece. F. Schubert: Fragment from "Unfinished Symphony", Byron Haworth. Schubert—Liszt: Valse Caprice. Blanche Spencer.

E. MacDowell: Pastoral Idyll, Samuel Keen. X. Scharwenka: Polish Dance, Thelma Pfaff. F. Chopin: (a) Valse brillante op. 34 Nr. 3, Mearle Garrett; (b) Valse op. 64 Nr. 2, Margery Cole. J. Brahms: Hungarian Dance Nr. 2, Lillian Buckner. J. Brahms: Hungarian Dance Nr. 6, Beatrice Elliott. F. Liszt: Hungarian Rhapsody Nr. 2, Virginia Saunders. M. Moszowski: Serenata, Alexander Pavlov. Rachmaninoff: Duo, Mearle Garrett; op.3, Beatrice Elliott. J. Brahms: Rhapsody op. 79 Nr. 1, Paul Reynolds. Saint Saens: Duo, Paul Reynolds; "Les Cygne", Mari Luise Huth.

MISS ELIZABETH LASSITER WEDS MR. CLAUDE ALLEN

Miss Elizabeth Lassiter of Davidson, N. C. and Claude Allen of New Bern, N. C., were married at Mooresville on February 2, 1926.

Miss Lassiter, who has been a student at Guilford for the past year, is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lassiter of Davidson.

One week end Miss Lassiter went home and was quietly married, within ten minutes after the ceremony she was on her way back to resume her studies at Guilford where she is a freshman.

Mr. Allen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Allen of New Bern. He is a junior at Davidson college and a popular fraternity man and football player.

The young couple will spend the summer at New Bern with the groom's parents. Next fall they will go to Davidson college where they will be students. Mr. Allen graduates next year.

THE Y. W. C. A. CABINETS HAVE A CAMP BREAKFAST

May 21. At the early hour of 5:45 on Friday morning, the old Y. W. C. A. cabinet was asked by the new cabinet to go to the Library steps. Here notes were found directing to another note and so on until the group were soon greeted by the new cabinet at the side of a little creek about a mile back of Professor Haworth's home. A real camp breakfast was served consisting of corn flakes with straw berries, scrambled eggs with bacon, toast, and coffee.

The guests of the morning besides the old cabinet were the advisory committee of Y. W., and Mr. Loy Long the student volunteer secretary.

After having fully enjoyed the morning outing along with the eats, a number of yells were given by both groups before the return to school in due time for classes.

FRESHMEN PLEDGE THEIR SUPPORT FOR AN ANNUAL

May 25—The main business of the Freshmen class at their regular meeting was a discussion relating to the publishing of an annual. It was the wish of the class to comply with the request made by the upper classes for helping in this matter. A new constitution was accepted by the class as a guide for the organization in the coming scholastic years.

The final meeting for this term was closed by a prayer made by Dewey Sheffield.

PROF. COX TO ENTER THE LIFE INSURANCE BUSINESS

Mr. Cox, who has taught in the English and education department of the college for the past year, has resigned to engage in other work, having accepted a position as district manager for the Columbian life insurance company, with headquarters in Winston-Salem. Mr. Cox and family, however, expect to continue to make their home at Guilford.

PROF. FRANCIS ANSCOMBE, ONCE A MEMBER GUILFORD FACULTY, RECEIVES PH. D.

On June 7, Francis C. Ancombe, head of the history department of Guilford College from 1913-1924, received his Ph. D. at the University of North Carolina where he has been teaching since leaving Guilford.

The subject of professor Ancombe's dissertation was "The Contribution of the Quakers to the Reconstruction of the South." For the past two years he has been doing research work along this line and this spring passed the examination for the doctor's degree.

Professor Ancombe received his A. B. at Earlham college in 1916 and the following year he attended John Hopkins university. In 1918 he became head of the department of history at Guilford and served in this capacity until 1924 when he resigned to become an instructor of history at the University of North Carolina. Here, on June 7, he received his degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

In September, professor Ancombe will head the department of history at Salem college, having resigned his position at the University.

This summer Mr. and Mrs. Ancombe will go to California where they hope to attend the California Yearly meeting of Friends held at Whittier college.

Mrs. Ancombe has spent much of her time painting during her stay at Chapel Hill and has just given an exhibition of her canvasses of local views.

GERTRUDE W. MENDENHALL ESTABLISHES SCHOLARSHIP AT GUILFORD IN HER WILL

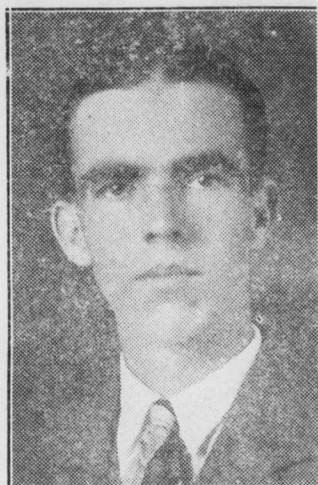

Miss Gertrude Mendenhall, one of the charter members of the faculty at North Carolina college, and a member of the advisory committee of Guilford College, died April 15. Interment was made in the Deep River Friend's church cemetery.

Miss Mendenhall was born April 9, 1861. Her parents were Dr. and Mrs. Nereus Mendenhall, of Guilford College. She received her earlier education at New Garden boarding school, now known as Guilford College. After her graduation she attended Wellesley college, where she received her A. B. degree. Prior to her acceptance of the chair of the department of mathematics at North Carolina college in 1892, she taught at Peace institute, Raleigh, and later at Guilford College.

She has been a life-long member of the Society of Friends. Much of her time was spent in church work acting as secretary of Yearly meetings, and often as clerk of Monthly meetings. She was also instrumental in uplifting the college with which she was connected. The endearing personality of Miss Mendenhall won for her a host of devoted friends.

In the will of Miss Gertrude Mendenhall, published in the Greensboro Daily News May 15, the following portion applies to Guilford College. One of the money portion of the estate goes to her sister Mary Mendenhall Hobbs, of Guilford College. The interest from this is to go to Mary Mendenhall Hobbs as long as she lives. If she is survived by her son Walter Mendenhall Hobbs, the interest is to go to him as long as he lives. After the death of Mary Mendenhall Hobbs and Walter Mendenhall Hobbs two-thirds of the said fund is to be paid to Guilford College under these conditions. The fund is to be known as the Guilford College Nereus and Oriana Mendenhall Memorial scholarship fund. The income from this fund will be used to aid worthy boys and girls who are not able to pay their tuition and expenses, and who have passed their freshman year at college with good records. A faculty committee will determine the receivers of this fund.

Professor George P. Wilson, head of the English department was called home Tuesday morning, on account of the death of his father, Thomas Wilson, whose passing occurred Monday evening at his home in Clarksville, Va., at the age of 88 years.

RAYMOND THOMAS
President-elect of the Y. M. C. A. for next year.

CHANDOS KIMREY APPEARS IN VOCAL RECITAL HERE

May 29.—Mr. James Wesley White, head of the voice department of Guilford College, presented his pupil, Miss Chandos Kimrey, in a voice recital here Saturday evening at 8:15. This recital ended a three year music course which entitles Miss Kimrey to certificate in voice.

Miss Kimrey was dressed in white taffeta trimmed in net and silver thread. She was very much at ease and sang with splendid diction and breath control. Her selection of songs demanded great range.

The stage was decorated with palms and different varieties of roses.

Much credit for the success of the recital must be given to Mrs. A. K. Moore of Greensboro who accompanied Miss Kimrey.

The program was as follows:

- (a) Caro mio ben—Giordani; (b) Vittoria, vittoria.—Carrasini.
- Night is falling (Etude de concert, arranged by Pauline Vierdot)—Haydn.
- (a) L' Anneau d' Argent—Chaminade; (b) Consuela a Nina—Wekerlin.
- (a) Twilight Song—S. Palmgren; (b) Where Roses Grow—R. Cox; (c) Pierrot—Winter Watts; (d) The South Winds are Blowing—J. Denmore.
- Aria—"Uan bel di Vedremo" (from the opera Mme. Butterfly)—Puccini.

GUILFORD GIRLS ATTEND MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

On Thursday, May 20, Maie Hollady, Aileen Beeson, and Hazard, attended the afternoon session of the Bi-Annual Missionary Conference of North Carolina Yearly Meeting, held at High Point. They represented the Y. W. C. A. of Guilford in an African booth, one of the seven in a missionary tour. Maie Hollady impersonated Miss Margaret Parker, the newest member of the Friend's mission at Kiamosi, Africa, while Alice Hazard guided the ladies in their tour through the country showing them kodak pictures of the different missions.

ATHLETIC GIRLS FEAST OFF CHICKEN WINGS AND ROLLS

May 26—The retiring members of the cabinet of the Women's Athletic Association gave a picnic supper last Wednesday afternoon for the members of next year's cabinet. The place of retreat was situated on the banks of a canal which runs through a big field back of Professor Haworth's. There the girls reposed peacefully in the shade of a big willow tree, and ate the greatest of sufficiency of sandwiches, pickles, fried chicken, rolls, and marshmallows, with the assistance of ice tea. There were eighteen persons in the party and nine fried chickens—most of which consisted of wings. Every girl declared that she would be able to fly back to Founders.

Mr. Howard O. Smith of the department of chemistry has recently presented the Library with several bound volumes of "Chemical Abstract" and the journal of the American Chemical Society. "Chemical Abstracts" is a most valuable publication for research work and it is hoped that additions will be made to these already in the library for to the completion of the set.

EAST PARLOR HAS NEW FURNITURE AND TABLES

Once Dreary Showcase is Now Made Attractive

The advisory committee has recently made a number of improvements in the east end of Founders hall. The guest room opposite East parlor has been re-furnished with a beautiful modern bedroom suit and new draperies, and the walls and floor redecorated. The appearance of the East parlor also has been much improved by the addition of two upholstered chairs, a table, a rug, and table mat. Mrs. Elwood Cox, of High Point, chairman of the committee appointed from the advisory committee, selected the furniture.

The project of the advisory committee at the present time is the rejuvenation of an old "Grandfather's Clock" which has been reposing in the basement at King Hall for a number of years. It is hoped that the clock will be in ready condition to be put in Founders hall by commencement.

However, there is still a need for various improvements such as attractive lighting fixtures for East parlor and a suitable picture to be placed over the mantle in the new guest room.

Carey Reece Is Elected As Business Manager Of The College Publication

At a board meeting of the Guilfordian Monday, May 21, Carey Reece was elected business manager for next fall, with Scott Parker as his assistant. This office was made vacant due to the fact that Edwin Brown, who has successfully served as manager this term, will gradu to this spring. The paper is looking forward to financial success next fall under the new administration.

Pathways

I have felt a great loneliness,
And feeling it I have wandered down pathways—
Pathways where the sun flecks through the trees—
Where violets spring up by mossy rocks—
Pathways that lead into the depth of woods—
Dark and silent and deep
But pregnant with thoughts in that silence.

I have always loved pathway—
Loved the little windings of them—
Loved to follow where they lead.

I have followed on until I was lost
In a wood.

I have followed paths down into my own heart,
But I have always been lost
In the dark and silent abyss of my soul.
