SCHOOL OF MISSIONS OPENS WITH ADDRESS GIVEN BY DR. RUSSELL

Classes in Christian Work to Convene Each Sunday
Night For 6 Weeks

SEVEN SUBJECTS TAUGHT

Large Number of College Students Enrolled—Center Section Stands Atop
One Hundred Percent

The Annual School of Missions of Guilford College opened last Sunday with an enrollment of nearly 200 members, the largest since the founding of the mission school. After a 45 minute class period the entire group gathered in the main auditorium to hear an address by Dr. Elbert Russel of Duke University. Dr. Russel, fresh from a trip to Europe and to the Holy Land, told from first hand knowledge that the Moslems and the Mohammedans do not want the Christian religion because the Christianity that they see is no better than their own religion. They think of Christianity as being a religion which advances selfish interests and militarism such as the religion of Europe, and our greatest task says Mr. Russel is to act in such a manner that these countries will have confidence in our religion.

Considerable interest was manifested in the mission school during registration. There are many college students who are members, and Center section of Cox hall dormitory tops the list with a one hundred percent membership.

The school proper began with eight classes, which began at 7:00 o'clock and lasted until eight. Dr. Elwood C. Perisho began his discussion on the great problems that are facing America today. Prof. Hill Turner took up the first chapter in the text "Moslem Women," but his class will be featured by addresses by Mr. Turner who has recently returned from the Holy Land. The other classes follow: "Stewardship" Professor H. T. Tinsley; "Quaker History" Professor Samuel Haworth; Teacher Training, Helen Binford; Quaker Missions, Miss Ida Millis; Friends and the Clash of Color, Joseph Peele; Mrs. Peele and Wilmer Steele have charge of the Juniors and Intermediates.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION IS DISCUSSED BY TINSLEY

An Outlet For Man's Desires Provided
For by God Who Helps Man in Orderly Ways

FAITH A VERY NECESSARY PART

Prof. H. T. Tinsley spoke in chapel last Tuesday morning on "Elements of Christian Education."

The first principle discussed by Mr. Tinsley was salvation and what we need to do to be saved. "We need to be saved from the things that are keeping us from becoming Christians," says C. D. Warner. "The fundamental things in Christian education are: Propitiation; purification from inherited taint by baptism; attachment to a divine Savior; aesthetic discipline; Buddhism, an exponent of Christian education that gives one a knowledge of his condition; and securing divine approval by righteousness," said the speaker.

The present tendency in Christian Education is to prevent wrong-doing. Punishment only makes one's conditions worse, and the wrong doer needs to be reformed.

Christian education provides an outlet for man's desire to talk with God. In Christian thinking there is no ob-

RECEPTION IS GIVEN BY THE COLEMANS

The Greensboro Country Club a Scene of Artistic Decorations

MANY GUESTS PRESENT

Many of the Guilford College students attended the wedding reception given at the Greensboro country club, January 31, by Mrs. Jesse McCracken for her daughter and son-in-law, Professor and Mrs. P. Evans Coleman, who were married on January 3. The evening was a most enjoyable one. The club room was artistically decorated with palms and white roses.

There were several musical numbers during the evening, given by the College quartette, Mrs. N. H. Stanley and Grady Miller of Greensboro. Mrs. Stanley and Mr. Miller concluded the musical program with a duet, "Song of Love" from "Blossom Time." Sandwiches, tea and punch were served to the guests.

During the evening some few hundred guests called to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Coleman, including friends from the College and prominent business people of Greensboro.

BINFORD READS PARTS FROM CHILDREN'S BIBLE

People of the Present, Fearful of Their Incapability, Are Not Willing to Be Classed Holy

RIGHTEOUSNESS PRECEDES FAME

"True greatness is always moral, never entirely material," said Dr. Raymond Binford in chapel here last Monday morning.

He read from "The Children's Bible" the experiences of Isaiah in the year when Uzziah died. In that day Isaiah saw a vision of a mighty ruler, sitting on a high and lofty throne, who told him not to be afraid because of his youth, but to put his trust in God and have no fear.

Turning to the New Testament he read of how Christ came from Nazareth into Galilee and was baptized of John, then of the temptation which followed, based on the fundamental question, "Am I the Son of God?"

Coming down to the present day Dr. Binford said, "In every day life there comes the question, am I good enough to do the great things? Frequently we are not willing to be recognized among the holy and excuse ourselves by saying that we are not capable." In conclusion he said, "There can be no greatness not recognized on the principles of righteousness."

The faculty and students are asked to suggest books for the library to purchase in the next order. Later, if they are not eliminated by censorship or lack of funds, the coveted books will appear in the library.

QUAKER QUINT RELIES ON MORAL VICTORIES

BOB DOAK'S BASKETEERS LOSE SOME HOT GAMES

Are Defeated by Elon, Wake-Forest,
A. C. C., Greensboro Y in Some
Mediocre Games Here

ARE INTERESTING BUT TRAGIC

In a hotly contested game here Saturday night, Guilford was defeated by her ancient rival, Elon by the score of 37 to 22. It was Elon's game from the first for they took a comfortable lead which Guilford was never able to overcome.

The Elon quint presented a passing attack which bewildered the Quakers for more than two-thirds of the game. They shot with unerring aim and in all presented a well balanced team.

On the other hand Guilford got off to a slow start and made numerous fumbles which robbed them of the possession of the ball many times. They experienced different difficulty in piercing the Elon team's defense and took a great many long shots. Relatively speaking, the Quakers shot long shots much better than they did crisp shots.

Newman was high scorer for Elon. Bock and Kelly's floor work and passing was very good. For Guilford, Moore and Coltrane starred, Coltrane being high scorer with ten points.

Lineup:
Guilford
Pamperin 7
Van de Voort 3
Moore
Coltrane(C) 10
Coble 2
Subs. Ayers, Yelverton, Coble.

OAK RIDGE LOSES

Saturday night the Guilford reserves journeyed over to Oak Ridge and were defeated 38 to 18. The Oak Ridge team was a well balanced organization while Guilford exhibited poor team work at times. Guilford had an unusual off night in shooting missing shots of all kinds from all angles.

Pierce was high scorer for Oak Ridge. Marshall and Ayers probably played best for Guilford.

Lineup:
Guilford
Pamperin
Griffin
Hole
Yelverton
Marshall

RECONCILIATION TOPIC OF MR. COLLINS' TALK

Urges Students to Take a Greater Interest in Destroying Spirit of War

UNITED SOCIETY THE SOLUTION

George L. Collins, traveling secretary for the Fellowship of Reconciliation organization, spoke to the Guilford College students recently urging them to take an active part in the move to keep countries out of war and to create a more friendly attitude between nations. The Fellowship of Reconciliation is a group of men and women of many races, nations, and classes who recognize the oneness of the world-wide human family. Mr. Collins made it clear that if we wish to live in this true unity and find out more and more about what it should mean, we shall have to put away war and the spirit of enmity, seeking to know instead the spirit of love that draws men together, in spite of

tory Over Fast Y Team From Greensboro Suburb

RESERVES LOSE TO OAK RIDGE

Thursday night the Guilford team snapped out of their slump and overwhelmed White Oak Y. M. C. A. in a full scoring contest. The Guilford team put up a real passing game and shot crisps seemingly at will.

Practically all of Guilford's goals were crisp shots, few long ones being attempted. Guilford made numerous substitutions who kept up the scoring. The Y team, excelled in long shots, played a very good game. Moore and Pamperin tied for high scoring honors with Griffin a close second.

Hughes and Johnson played best for White Oak.

A. C. C. WINS

Last Monday night the Guilford basketeers lost a hard fought game to A. C. C. by the score of 39 to 25.

The game started off slowly with A. C. C. scoring first. The game ran along smoothly the first half, but any hopes Guilford had of winning were soon blasted after the beginning of the second half for the A. C. C. team scored crisp shot after crisp shot. Fulghum was high scorer for A. C. C. with 14 points. Pamperin was high scorer for Guilford with eight points.

WAKE FOREST WINS

Wake Forest, probably state champions, hit Guilford Tuesday night and in their usual fashion snowed the Guilford team under. The visitors presented one of the smoothest and the best line passing attacks ever seen here. Combining this with their shooting ability they soon piled up a score which assured them of victory. The younger, lighter and less experienced team of Guilford fought hard but were not able to cope with Wake Forest. In the second half Wake Forest substituted their second team and it was while this team was in the game that Guilford scored most.

The shooting of James and Downton coupled with the passing of the entire team featured for Wake Forest. Moore and Coltrane starred for Guilford, getting 8 and 7 points respectively.

PART ANNUAL COPY GOES TO PRINTER; MAY LOWER PRICE

Proofs Received From Engravers and Editors Prepare Remaining Copy

TO BE FINISHED MAY 20

Unless the Unforeseen Occurs, Price
Will Be Lowered to $4.00 Cash.
Definite Announcement Later

By the time this copy of the Guilfordian is off the press, most of the copy of the Quaker will be in the hands of the Queen City Printing Company.

Most of the photographic work has been returned by the photographer and the class sections have been made out. All Seniors and Juniors paid their cut fees by the specified time but a few Sophomores and Freshmen neglected to attend to the matter and will not be included in the class section pictures.

The proofs for the page border design, the fly leaf design and the ex-libris design were received last week and have been the center of some enthusiastic discussion since then. The page border will be printed in gray on each page of the Annual. At the top is a design embodying two Quaker silhouettes and the name of the book and year. A plain column effect will go down both sides of the page and join the base. In the base is a picture of the old New Garden Meeting House. The fly leaves will have two Quaker silhouettes in gray relief on a background of home-spun effect. The ex libris is a small reproduction of the famous Quaker picture "The Presence in the Midst."

The editors have been working well into the wee hours of the night for the past week getting the copy ready to go to Charlotte on Tuesday. On this date a representative of the Printing Company will come up to interview the staff and straighten out some minor details.

Financially the Quaker seems to be on the path to success and unless some unforeseen thing arises to make it inadvisable the price of the book may be reduced from $5.00 to $4.00. This news will be received with a great deal of pleasure by many who have not already paid their subscription. A few have already paid the entire $5.00 and these will have a reimbursement. Definite announcement on the matter will be made at an early date.

BILL MAY PASS THIS SESSION

Dr. Elwood C. Perisho spoke in chapel, January 4, on the National Education Bill. He began by giving a short history of the bill which was presented to the Sixty-sixth Congress as the "Smith and Towner Bill;" it was known in the sixty-seventh Congress as the "Towner-Sterling Bill;" in the sixty-eighth Congress as the "Sterling-Reed Bill" and in the sixty-ninth Congress, which is now in session it is known as the "Reed-Curtis Bill."

In the sixty-sixth, sixty-seventh and sixty-eighth Congresses, the bill provided for the establishment of the National Department of Education with a Secretary of Education in the President's Cabinet, also for an annual appropriation of one hundred million dollars for education in the United States.
