A Thanksgiving program was presented in the Zatasian Literary Society on Friday evening. Kathryn Owen presented the "Origin of Thanksgiving" in an interesting manner, tracing it from the first proclamation of a day of thanks by Governor Bradford, to the present time. She dealt especially with the origin of our Thanksgiving customs. Annie Ray read two poems, "Every Day is Thanksgiving Day" and "The Child's World." The last number was a story by Mary Ellen Lassiter, "Ye Ancient Game of Football as Played in the Days of Henry VIII." This story was chosen because of the popular connection of gan to shyly creep into the doors of the lions' den. In their rushed preparation some of the hosts had failed or forgotten to straighten up recently used lounges while others overlooked the bolting of wardrobe doors. By some marvelous sense of direction and bearing on the part of the visitors not a lamb was lost in the home of the ferocious.

The annual Thanksgiving service at the church was held at 11:00. After the service at the church was over there seemed to be a mad rush for the dining halls where countless corpses, already dressed, awaited the heartless teeth of hungry lambs and lions.

In the afternoon, after the lions visited the lambs, an important and spectacular hockey game, the faculty vs. the girls, was played on the girls' hockey field. Due mainly to the endurance of Prof. Purdam and the skillful playing of Prof. Panoast, the faculty won.

The last number of the day's program was a Brunswick stew held in the woods about a half mile from the college. Thus ended a busy but happy day—and the night was clear but quiet.

SCHOLASTIC REPORT IS BETTER THAN BEFORE

The first quarter of the previous year could boast of only two such students. Thirty-three persons made all A's and B's, for the preceeding year the number was twenty-one.

Every quarter has a few who for some reason or other fall behind in passing their work; however, there were only 28 who did not pass nine hours work during the first quarter (for 1926, 12); three who passed only one course (1926 had 11 people who did no more); one who passed no work (there were five for the preceeding year.) Even this list of laggards has diminished, especially when one considers that this year has 31 more students enrolled than last year.

The teacher was explaining the meaning of some new words to her class of youngsters.

"An anecdote," said she, "is a short funny tale."

This having been repeated in chorus by the children, the teacher continued:

"And now I want you to write a sentence containing the word 'anecdote.'"

This was one of the sentences presented for her consideration:

"A rabbit has four legs and an anecdote."

She was distinctly a foreigner—she had asked for talcum powder.

"Mennen's?" asked the clerk.

"No, vimmin's."

"Want it scented?"

"No, ay better take it with me."

Diner: "Say, waiter, I'll have lamb chops with potatoes, and have the chops lean."

Waiter: "Which way, sir?"—The Salemite.

KING HIGH LOSES GAME WITH FRESHMAN FIVE

Freshman Team Outclasses King Team.
 E. Haworth is High Scorer For Guilford

RAYMOND THOMAS, KING'S COACH

Guilford College Freshman basketball team met King High Wednesday night, as their second opponents. The high school took the lead early in the game, but were unfortunate in being outclassed before the half was over. Coach Thomas talked to the Kings at the half and they displayed a shooting frolic in the first few minutes of the second half. However, the game ended with a 38-point score piled up against their score of 22. Meadows, for King, and Haworth, for Guilford, excelled the others in high score.

The lineup:
 Guilford King
 G. Alley (6) Palmer (9)
 Forward
 Powell (1) Moser (2)
 Forward
 Zachary (9) Meadows (11)
 Center
 W. Alley (5) C. Slate
 Guard
 Davis F. Slate
 Guard

Substitutes: Guilford—Haworth (20) for Powell, Shore for Zachary, Chisholm for G. Alley, Powell for Davis. King—Collins for Palmer.

ALUMNI NEWS

Dr. L. L. Hobbs, Jr., '07, is a surgeon in a hospital in Ridgway, Pa. His long connection with the Pennsylvania hospital in the time of the World War gave him a fine opportunity to practice surgery, for which he showed a marked aptitude.

He has been at Ridgway for several years and he finds it very difficult to get away from the hospital to take a needed rest. He is expected to be at home the first week of December.

Ruth Sampson, '27, is teaching in the consolidated school of Elm City, N. C.

The following alumni were here for Thanksgiving or the week-end:

Sidney Winslow, '27; Hardin Kimrey, '27; Chandos Kimrey, '27; Ruth Malpass, '27; Lola Beeson, '27; Margaret Levering, '25; Louise White, '27; Ruth L. White, '25; Vivian White, '25; Jack Harrel, '26; Raymond Thomas, '27.
