Joe Cox Attributes Calamity to Over-Population of Women and Gullibility of Men on Campus

Brotherly love and sisterly affection again reign supreme over Guilford's Quakerly campus after a week of unrest, suspicion, scandal and disillusionment.

Wild tales of dates pulled in the seclusion of East parlor during breakfast, anonymous rumors of tete-a-tetes behind the boxwoods at Founders, assertions by members of the dean's cabinet that the young men and women have been unnecessarily holding hands while playing three deep at the gym socials, and many other choice bits of scandal have electrified the atmosphere.

THE GUILFORDIAN immediately organized a campaign against vice and began an investigation in co-operation with the Women's Student Government. Because of the close friendship and harmony between the administration and the contributing editor of the paper, Joe Cox was placed in charge of the investigation. It was also realized that the great amount of time he spent at Founders might well be

LIBERAL RULES ARE ADVOCATED BY DEAN

Mrs. Andrews Expects to Liberalize Guilford in Near Future

NEW RULES OUTLINED

By RUTH LANE
Special Staff Correspondent for The Yellow Fever

Founders Hall, March 33.—Mrs. B. M.
B. Andrews, dean of women at Founders Hall for the past year, announced here today that she had reconsidered her resignation, and that she would probably return to the college again next year.

The reason for this decision was the fact that she considered her mission unfinished, and by remaining here another year it was thought that her program of liberality would be completed. It is her aim to make Guilford one of the most liberal of the small colleges in the United States.

When interviewed last night, Mrs.
Andrews pointed out the many radical changes that had been brought about since her coming last fall. The most notable of these are the granting of store privileges to all girls, the introduction of a complete system of book-

At great risk to his life, the slick, sly, sleuthing staff photographer of the Yellow Fever stalked his prey to the boxwood bushes in front of Founders and obtained this exclusive picture exposing immoral campus conditions.

MARRIAGE IS DISCUSSED

(By Secret Wire to The Guilfordian)

March 31.—The regular meeting of the faculty was held in the laundry here tonight with the president presiding, for the express purpose of cleaning things up. At the roll call all members were found present so they proceeded with the business.

The committee on storage space reported that there was an overstock of faculty marks on hand, and recommended that the surplus be disposed of at

STUDENT AFFAIRS BOARD SETTLES SOCIAL DISPUTE

Dispute Between Two Governing Bodies Over Interpretation of Rules Is Settled Without Bloodshed

DECISION RENDERED IN DETAIL

After sailing along smoothly and harmlessly since its creation, the Student Affairs Board forced itself to the front and showed Guilford College and the surrounding vicinity that it did have life and power, and that it would use them if necessary.

The cause of this sudden awakening was the dispute between the Men's Student Council and Mrs. Andrews, spokeswoman for the Women's Student Council, over a question of interpreting the social rules.

The point of dispute has centered mainly on the questions of who should get permission for dates, what time the seven o'clock bell should be rung, and how much sugar it was proper to put into the new teacups. Many and loud had been the meetings, both joint and separately, and it was earnestly desired by many of the students that it might be settled at once in order that peace

PAT CRAWFORD NOT TO LEAVE GUILFORD

Women's Student Government Refuses to Allow Him to Report to Giants

CROOKEDNESS CHARGED

The Girl's Student Council in a joint meeting with Dean Andrews and Miss Laura Worth last night refused to permit Coach Pat Crawford to report to the New York Giants, who are now training at Augusta, S. C.

The action of the Girls' Student Council came as a complete surprise to the political leaders on the campus.
By bribery, corrupt politics, lobbying, "log-rolling," patronage and "gerrymandering," the consent of the Student Affairs Board had been obtained for his early departure for training, and no trouble had been anticipated from the Girls' Student Council. When the matter was brought up, however, considerable opposition developed. Miss

Our Beloved Professor

NOW ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

A very touching incident happened on the campus a few weeks ago, one that plumbed the very depths of our emotion. Our esteemed Mr. Ray Parrish, while lying on a bed of pain, was suffering the tortures of the damned, caused by an attack of acute appendicitis which was brought on by eating too much ice cream in the dining room.
He was bearing his agony with manly fortitude, but despite his heroic struggles, a low moan of pain escaped his clenched teeth ever and anon. Our angel of mercy heard of Mr. Parrish's

It now becomes our grief-laden duty to speak of the almost unbearable misfortune which bows down the student body of Guilford. Our revered math teacher, the loving confidant and genial, ever-friendly adviser of the boys, has at last passed to his reward. Sad to say, he died in the throes of insanity, his death being caused by zealous labor and strenuous overwork on behalf of the boys. Rev. "Heathen" Mackie delivered a most touching eulogy on the many admirable qualities of the deceased, and the pallbearers were some bereaved lower classmen who were extremely grateful for the A's which had been so generously donated by our dear teacher. As the body, calm and serene in repose and with a smile of ineffable peace resting upon his beloved countenance, was being lowered into the grave, the soft strains of ethereal music floated out from the choir, composed of Espie Neece, Frances Osborne, Ervin Lemons and Edwin Rozell, who reverently sang "All God's Chillun Got Chryslers." A fitting monument has been erected to him in front of King Hall, and we sincerely trust that it will serve to keep his benevolence and magnanimity green in the memory of all those so fortunate as to come into contact with him.

Followers of the well-nigh universal sport of legging will be interested to know that Wilmer Steele, foremost legging authority on the campus, due to a long, successful practice of the art, has picked an all-Guilford legging team.
No one doubts Steele's ability along this line, as he has played the game faithfully and continuously on everything that looks like a faculty member, from the president and business manager down to the colored cooks in the kitchen. No form of legging has ever been too low for him to adopt and he knows all the tricks and finer points of the game, so the Yellow Fever regards his selections as authoritative.
The following is Coach "Leggio's" selection and his reasons for said selection:

"Due to the wealth of material, I have selected two teams, though I think

GRITTY GROTT

GROTT HOYLE WINNER FOOTBALL CAPTAINCY

After a brilliant career on the gridiron, Byron Haworth lost his most treasured possession, the football captaincy, (which he won from Walter Robertson last year in a poker game) to Cranford Hoyle, who has long been recognized on the campus as a religious leader, due to his broad views of race relationships and his excellent work as leader of the Y. W. C. A., became incensed when Haworth, the leader of the rougher element on the campus, claimed Hoyle was unfit to be
