GUILFORD COLLEGE, N. C., APRIL 18, 1928

NUMBER 23

ROBERT ATKINSON IS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE GUILFORD 'Y'

Hale Newlin, Vice-President; Currie Spivey, Sec.; Leslie Murphy, Treasurer

I. NEWLIN LEAVES OFFICE

President Atkinson Plans to Attend Blue Ridge Conference During Summer—Others May Go

April 12.—Robert Atkinson was elected president of the Y. M. C. A. for the year 1928-1929 at the regular "Y" meeting Thursday night. The tumultuous type of election last year was conspicuous by its absence. Elected to serve with Mr. Atkinson were Hale Newlin, vice-president; Currie Spivey, secretary; Leslie Murphy, re-elected treasurer; and Barclay Newlin, marshal.

An able group of officers has carried on the administrative work of the "Y" during the past year and three of the five members of the present cabinet have been retained in the organization for the next year's work. Ira G. Newlin, the retiring president, has made an efficient, capable administrator as president of the cabinet and according to members of the organization will be greatly missed next year. The Y. M. C. A. has exerted an uplifting influence on the student body and has worked to create a fellowship among the students by sponsoring the socials, the Sunday school organization, and the School of Missions.

President Atkinson has not formulated any definite plans as yet for next year but he expects to carry on the general policy of his predecessor. He hopes to attend the conference at Blue Ridge this summer and is urging the rest of the cabinet members to do likewise.

EUPHONIAN GLEE CLUB BANQUETS AT HYLMORE

Sarah Edgerton Acts As Toastmistress and Speeches Are Given by Students and Faculty

April 3.—The Euphonian Girls' Glee Club gave their annual banquet on Tuesday night in the Hylmore banquet hall, having as their guests a number of members of the Minnesingers' Glee Club, President Raymond Binford, Mrs. Binford, Mrs. B. M. B. Andrews, dean of women, Elton Trueblood, dean of men, and other young men from the college.

Sarah Edgerton, president of the club, acted as toastmistress. She began the program with a toast to the college. President Raymond Binford responded. He expressed much satisfaction with the work that has been done the past year by the club.

"Jo" Paul gave the toast to the director, Max Noah. In his response, Mr. Noah expressed his appreciation for the fine spirit and co-operation that has been manifested by the glee club during the year. He gave much credit to the president of the club for the effectiveness of the organization. The business manager, Ora E. Melvin, was highly complimented for her efficiency.

Other speakers on the program were Mrs. B. M. B. Andrews and Elton Trueblood. Prof. Trueblood brought Longfellow up to date by re-arranging some of his poems and giving them a modern touch.

Esther Reece gave a toast to the sponsor, Howard Trivette, who is manager of the Minnesinger Glee Club. Joe Cox responded to Mary Reynolds' toast to the guests.

Notice! Big Contest!

For some time the roomers in Cox and Archdale Halls have been complaining about the scarcity of hot water. Many of the men have had their morals utterly ruined for life by stepping into a shower of chilly, cold, frigid hot water that was gently flowing up from the boiler room. The Guilfordian has watched with great concern the increasing immorality that is arising on the campus due to this condition, and it now takes steps to remedy it. The proposition is this: To the subscriber who presents the most brilliant idea whereby hot water can be secured for these two despondent halls The Guilfordian will give a free ticket to the Carolina Theatre.

Here are the rules of the contest:

1. This contest is open to all subscribers of The Guilfordian except those officially connected with the staff.
2. The manuscript must be from 200 to 400 words in length.
2. All masterpieces must be in the hands of the contest editor by April 22 at 12 o'clock, noon. Address all communications to CONTEST EDITOR, care of The Guilfordian.
4. The winner will be announced and the winning masterpiece published in the next issue of this paper.

QUAKER TO BE OUT LAST PART OF MAY

Distinctive Features of Quakerism Are Especially Emphasized Throughout

PROOF TO BE READY SOON

The 1928 Quaker will be of interest to students and alumni for two reasons: first, like all publications of its sort, it will serve as a memory book, and second, it will be an addition to any library as a book of historic interest.

The theme of the annual emphasizes the particularly distinctive characteristics of Quakerism. Incidents taken from the lives of two leaders of the Quaker faith illustrate a number of traditional customs. The division pages in the book contain tipped on pen drawings of William Penn. One drawing represents his love affair; the other is taken from the ship called the "Welcome," from which he first set eyes upon what is now Philadelphia.

Each organization on the campus selected a sponsor and the sponsor pictures in Quaker costume occupy several pages. Beneath each picture is a characteristic sentence taken from the Journal of George Fox. For example, Fox disbelieved in "musick," so the two Glee Club sponsors appear critically examining musical instruments.

The senior characteristic pictures were also made in Quaker dress and many of them are very unique in appearance.

The binding of the book will be of a heavy rhinoceros mallow material in crimson. A bust view of William Penn will appear in oval form, and the letters will be of gray, thus carrying out the college colors.

Another interesting feature will be the fly-leaf pages. These are facsimiles of pen drawings also. The famous picture of "William Penn's Treaty With the Indians" covers both fly-leaves.

A representative from the company which is printing the annual visited the Quaker staff last week.

MISS LOUISE IS NOW RECOVERING AFTER A SERIOUS BREAKDOWN

Miss Louise Osborne Served 30 Years as Dean Here and Is Dearly Loved

MISS GAINEY WITH HER

Telegrams and Letters Keep Guilford Friends Closely Informed As to Her Progress

Miss Louise Osborne, beloved teacher known as Miss Louise, who served as dean of women and professor of Latin at Guilford College for over 30 years, has recently been seriously ill in a hospital in Indianapolis, Ind., and is now recovering nicely.

When a telegram was received last week, saying that Miss Louise was in a very critical condition, Miss Maud L. Gainey went immediately to be with her. Upon her arrival Miss Osborne seemed to brighten up and she inquired about her Guilford friends. She had been constantly thinking about them, and has appreciated having Miss Gainey with her.

At the close of the 1925-26 term, Miss Louise left Guilford, where she had served so long and faithfully, on account of her health. She went to Greensboro, Indiana, where she has been living since with some of her relatives. She has kept in close touch, however, with Guilford and is still very much interested in all that happens at the college where she spent so much of her time.

ROANOKE RAPIDS SCHOOL GIVES MUSICAL PROGRAM

Present a Varied Program of Vocal and Instrumental Music to Students and Faculty of College

SELECTIONS ARE WELL RENDERED

April 12.—Members of the Roanoke Rapids High School Music Department gave a concert in Memorial Hall Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

The program was divided into two parts: the first consisted of a group of orchestra selections, while the second was given by the members of the boys' and girls' glee clubs. Two faculty members appeared on the program. Miss Ruth Carlson gave two violin numbers and Miss Chrystal Heerin gave a vocal solo. There also appeared on the program three contest numbers, which the department entered in the State contest which was being held at N. C. C. W. this past week.

The Overture Mignonette by the orchestra, vocal solo, "Night Clouds," by Miss Sue Britton, and the girls' glee club numbers were especially well given and well received.

The musical selections rendered seemed to have been selected especially with regard for their distinction and freshness. The audience seemed to feel that although part of the program was of a classical nature, there was enough fun and music of a lighter nature to make the program enjoyable for all who attended.

Every phase of the orchestra's work showed a technique which could have been acquired only by hard and consistent work and under efficient direction. The chorus work, especially the numbers by the girls' glee club, was excellent and well sustained throughout their program.

GUILFORD LOSES DUAL DEBATE TO ELON TEAM

April 5.—The Guilford arguers lost both sides of a dual contest on the question of protection of investments in foreign countries, to Elon last night. Both debates were hotly contested, the judges' decision being 2-1 in both cases. Guilford was represented at home by Byron Haworth and Clare Trueblood, who upheld the affirmative side of the question, while Worth Mackie and Edwin Rozell went to Elon to defend the negative.

This contest ends the debating season for Guilford. Under the direction of Dean Trueblood the debaters have conducted seven debates; a triangular with High Point and Lenoir-Rhyne which Guilford won, dual debates with both Catawba and Elon, both of which were lost, and a contest with the Atlantic Christian College debaters in which Guilford's negative team secured the decision.

Although the record is far from perfect, it is the best Guilford has had in several years. Next year Coach Trueblood hopes to arrange a northern trip to debate Haverford and possibly Earlham.

PRESS CONVENTION TO MEET AT DUKE

W. O. Saunders, of Elizabeth City, Will Deliver Principal Address Opening Night

GOOD TIME IS PROMISED

The fifteenth semi-annual meeting of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association will be held at Duke University April 26, 27 and 28. H. L. Hester, editor of The Chronicle and president of the Press Association, is perfecting plans for the entertainment of the delegates, and other officers of his staff are at work securing outstanding men in the newspaper world to address the young journalists. W. O. Saunders, editor of The Elizabeth City Independent, has been secured to give the opening address to the delegates.

Besides the serious work of the conference, a good time is promised all those who are fortunate enough to attend. There will be one banquet, and arrangements for other entertainments are under way.

Each college editor has been requested to send a file of his papers to the Winston-Salem Journal, which will judge from these the best college paper in the state; at the same time the editors are to pick their six best editorials and send them to The Greensboro Daily News, which will judge the best college editor.

Each publication is entitled to send two delegates to the convention. As yet, neither The Guilfordian nor The Quaker has picked their representatives, though in the past it has been customary for the editor and business manager of each publication to attend.

THREE HARD GAMES FOR BASEBALL MEN

The baseball squad faces a large assignment this week. Tuesday it meets Lynchburg here and Friday the Mountain Bears from Lenoir-Rhyne will venture forth to seek revenge for the walloping the Quakers gave them Easter Monday. Saturday the Quakers again clash with the Elon Christians at Siler City. This is the second contest of a three-game series and Guilford will make every effort to even the series.

THE HOME CONCERT GIVEN SATURDAY BY MINNESINGERS CLUB

"The Mulligan Musketeers" and "Far Away in the South" Make Big Hit

PROGRAM IS VERY GOOD

Ira Newlin, Appearing As Comedian, Keeps Audience in Good Humor; Quartette Big Success

April 14.—The Minnesingers concert Saturday night was fully enjoyed by all who heard it. From the very beginning the program progressed with unusual pep. There were various types of entertainment throughout. Everything from comedian stunts to fairies playing among the clouds found its place in the program.

The Glee Club sang with great precision and showed that much time had been spent in practice since last September when the club was organized for the year. The two numbers which the audience most appreciated were "The Mulligan Musketeers," which the club had to repeat, and the closing song, "Far Away in the South."

The special groups were all well received. The Pierot and Pierette novelty number, sung by Paul Reynolds and Glenn Robertson, was especially requested as an encore.

Members of the quartette, wearing sailor suits, were called for several encores. They also sang an extra group including Brahms' "Lullaby" and "Drink to me only with thine eyes."

Ira Newlin appeared as a comedian and kept his audience laughing throughout his entire appearance.

ANNUAL HIGH SCHOOL DAY HELD SATURDAY

Tennis Tournament Being Arranged; Guilford Men Meet Panthers in Track on Hobbs Field

ORATORICAL, ATHLETIC CONTESTS

The annual high school day will be held at Guilford on Saturday, April 21. Arrangements for the annual fete are under the direction of Professor L. L. Williams and he has announced the following program: 1. Declamation contest for high school boys. 2. Recitation contest for high school girls. 3. Tennis tournament for high school boys. 4. High school baseball game between champions of Forsyth and Guilford counties at 1:30 p. m. 5. An outdoor pageant of the Guilford College girls. 6. Awarding of prizes to winners of high school contests, Memorial Hall, following the declamation-recitation contest in the evening.

As an additional attraction the Guilford cindermen will meet the High Point College track team on Hobbs field from 9 to 12 a. m.

Copies of the complete program, rules governing the contest, and invitations to the contest have been sent to 600 high schools in the state. It is expected that there will be a large number of contestants and visitors for the day. Names of contestants must be in by the 16th of April. All those taking part in the contests will be guests of the college for the day.

This is the first year that Guilford has tried to hold a tennis tournament. The tennis manager is hard at work getting the courts in condition for the matches. The preliminary contests will
