

QUAKER SPORTS

QUAKES

The basketball season just closed could not be termed a successful one. However, the Quaker team did have brilliant moments and did win some difficult games, defeating such teams as Wofford and Wake Forest and giving the Richmond Blues, a strong professional team of Virginia, a run for their money. That the Quakers had championship material is quite obvious, but the loss of Haworth and Cobe and the injury of Marshall certainly put a crimp in Guilford's title hopes.

Now we may turn to next year's chances. With Chisholm, Alley, Haworth, Yelverton, Cheek, and Stout around whom to build, it seems that a strong team should be produced. Quite often the freshman class holds varsity material as happened last year when Haworth, who was a yearling, held the season's scoring honors.

Now baseball is at hand. Shepard has already held light workouts and the prospects are fair. Much will depend upon the pitching staff. The development of new material or the return of Gough would certainly brighten the general aspect. Much interest is shown in the sport, both by the candidates and the student body.

The editor's attention has been called to the last issue of the Hi-Po which elaborated lengthily on a recent mistake in Quakes. We assure the Hi-Po that it was a mistake and not an intentional falsehood as they were disposed to fear.

Spring football has certainly been a success this year and has brought to light some heretofore unheralded football material and has given experience to many. Davis, especially, shows promise as a back while several prospective linemen were hauled from under the bushel measure. Many freshmen who were afraid to go out last fall took part in the spring sport, discovered their capabilities and will undoubtedly be varsity material some day.

QUAKERS NOSED OUT BY ELON BASKETEERS IN CLOSING CONTEST

Christians Come from Behind to Grab Lead in the Closing Minutes

SCORE TIED AT HALF 10-10

Van der Voort High Scorer for Quakers in His Last Game—Also Last Game for Marshall, Moore, and Ayers

Feb. 28.—Tonight the Quakers met and were defeated by their ancient adversaries, the Elon Christians. Invading the Quaker camp, the Elonites took the heavy end of a 29-27 score in one of the hardest played and most closely contested games ever witnessed in the wood-box. The game was close from the start, and it was early evident that neither team had a set-up.

The Christians were out to avenge a previous defeat, and the Quakers were set on keeping a clean slate. The Elon boys held a slight edge during most of the first period, maintaining a one or two point lead. Just before the gun, however, the Quakers sunk one to tie the score at 10 all.

In the second half, the Guilford lads started off like a flash and soon had the Christians under a seven point handicap. At this point, every one felt that the Quaker boys had the game on ice. However, the Elon boys seemed not nearly so pessimistic and started a rally which ended in a 29-27 count in their favor. Van der Voort was easily high scorer of the Quakers despite the fact that he seemed unable to make a free shot good. Rollins led the Elon attack.

The game meant a great deal to the team and the college, because it was the season's last game and was with the greatest rival. However, it was of greater significance to Captain Marshall, Stan Moore, Robert Ayers and Van der Voort. It was, for these men,

GIRLS' GYM MEET TO BE HELD SOON

Program Includes Aesthetic Dancing As Well As Many Entertaining and Unique Stunts

PERFECT CIRCUS ORGANIZATION

On March 23rd, Mrs. B. M. B. Andrews plans to present the gymnastic students in the annual meet. Work has been progressing steadily since Christmas, and the classes are learning new stunts every day.

Besides the usual floor drills and aesthetic work, each class is working on stunts which will be presented while the judges are deciding. There will be unique races as well as other stunts. Because of the large number of students who will participate in the stunts it will be necessary to have more than one group perform at a time. In other words, it will be similar to a four or five ring circus.

The stunts and drills will be worked off in rapid succession. Mrs. Andrews and the students hope to make the meet as big a success as it was last year.

The judges will be athletic directors from nearby colleges.

The last opportunity of glorifying the Crimson and Grey on the basketball court. These men graduate this spring and will leave a great hole in the Quaker squad.

"Iron Men" Defeat "Golden Stream" 7-0

Baseball Schedule Nears Completion

With the baseball season near at hand, the manager is hard at work to furnish victims for his charges. Manager Denny reports sixteen games definitely arranged and several others pending. His schedule when complete will furnish about twenty games, several of which will be played on a trip through Virginia. The baseball candidates are taking light workouts and will very shortly settle down in earnest to the grind that is necessary in the production of a real team.

DAVIS STARS FOR LOSERS

Golden Stream Scores Safety When Patrick Fails to Get Off Punt

Guilford College, Feb. 28.—Coach Hoyle's "Iron Men" football team won a hard fought grid battle here this afternoon from the "Golden Stream" squad, 7-2.

The winners scored in the opening minutes of play when Haworth received a beautiful pass from Cude and raced 40 yards for the only touchdown. The same combination was good for the extra point. The "Golden Stream" managed to score a safety near the close of the game when the "Iron Men" were unable to get off a punt.

The game was played in the rain and mud, which was ankle deep, and soon covered the players and made it hard to distinguish the men on either side. The condition of the field made it impossible for the fast backs to get going and as a result very few yards were made through the line or around the ends.

Captain Patrick and Haworth, ends on the "Iron Men" team, were the stars of the game. Patrick played a beautiful defensive game while the combination of Cude-to-Haworth was the greatest ground gainer for the winners. Cude showed fine judgment at quarter, this being his first attempt.

Davis for the losers was the only man to gain any ground all afternoon by carrying the ball. He reeled off several nice gains and with a dry field he promises to be a real threat.

QUAKERS DROP CLOSE ONE TO CATAWBANS

Indians Forge Ahead in Last Half to Defeat Quakers, 30-21—Miller Leads Visitor's Attack

VAN DER VOORT LEADS QUAKERS

In a rather close game, the Catawba Indians defeated the Quakers on the latter's home court. The Indians led by a narrow margin a great part of the game, the score at the half being 13-10. Toward the last of the game the Catawbans drew ahead and established a safe lead. The Quaker hopes were crushed when Van der Voort, high scorer for the Quakers, fouled out. Miller was high scorer for the Indians while Finch was best on defense. The final score was 30-21, Catawba. Captain Marshall got in for only a minute or two at the very last of the game. He was injured on the Virginia trip and has been incapacitated since.
