QUAKES

By H. S. WMS, JR.

Elvin Haworth, Quaker track flash and star forward on the basketball team, is to return to Guilford next fall. Elvin found it impossible to return this year and he has been living in Danville, Ind., with his mother. The track squad has greatly felt the loss of Elvin who was captain-elect and his return will be welcomed by all those connected with Quaker athletics.

Since Zachary became eligible he certainly has proved he can pitch. He has pitched two games and allowed only fifteen hits. While doing so he struck out fifteen men. The mound candidates have all shown improvement recently, with the exception of Harper, who is suffering with a sprained ankle.

"Shorty" Hendrix, second sacker of the Quakers, is hitting his stride with the willow. As a result several runs have crossed the plate. The past two games have proved that others can use a bat, among the most prominent of these are Bunn, Shore, E. Davis and others. On the game with the Winston Twins the Guilford Boys were put up against five pitchers and they held up well against all of them.

Coach Shepard's hitherto untried track squad will compete with Wake Forest on Monday. The boys have received their final polishing and they expect to do much in the meet.

THE FERRELLS AND SMITH TO MAJORS

Rick Ferrell and Shirt Smith Form Famous Battery for the Quakers.

BOTH GO TO DETROIT

Jumping from that period over several men who went to smaller branches of professional baseball, we come to another group of community boys under the leadership of Coach Bob Doak who was also a product of the same training and from this time on there was a wealth of material.

George Ferrell is the first of these to go into professional ball, making his debut in the Cotton States league with Charlie Carroll. He led the circuit in batting and was purchased by Memphis in Southern league where he has remained since that time.

Next of this group was Rick Ferrell who with Shirt Smith constituted one of the most famous batteries in the history of the school. All the time that these boys were playing in college they had a troupe of scouts on their trail and Rick ended up by signing a Detroit contract. They farmed him out to Kinston in the Virginia league and the next season found him with Columbus in the American Association where he remained for the next three seasons. There followed some mix-up in regard to just whose property he was and Judge Landis declared him a free agent. Ferrell proceeded to sell himself to the St. Louis Americans for $25,000. He was with this club last season and experts classed him as one of the best young receivers to go up in recent years.

Shirt Smith the other part of that famous battery team, waited for two seasons before he signed with the Tigers. They farmed him to Montreal, in the International league and after remaining there for a while he moved to Toledo in the same circuit. Last season he was with Beaumont, in the Texas league but later he was moved to Fort Smith in the Western Association. His record for the year in games won and lost showed 20 victories against 14 defeats. His earned run average was 1.72 per nine inning game, among the very lowest figures for organized baseball if not a record. In completing this performance he struck out 168 men. This year he is to be with Seattle in the Pacific coast league but he is still the property of the Detroit team.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS MOVE OUTDOORS AS SPRING ARRIVES

Baseball Is the Major Sport While Archery, Tennis and Track Are Minors.

BASEBALL IS REQUIRED

Only Those Interested In the Minor Sports Are Participating In Them—All Popular.

Physical education for women is taking a much different trend during the spring months from that followed during the fall and winter. Baseball is the major sport with track, tennis, and archery as minors. Practices are going along very smoothly. Every girl takes baseball, while only those particularly interested in the minor sports take them. Points are given for a sufficient number of practices and the making of any team, this is an incentive to which much of the enthusiasm over spring sports may be attributed.

One day each week is given over now to a rehearsal of the spring festival which is to be held May 1. At this time a pageant, based on one of the loveliest of the Greek myths, is to be given. The story is that of Ceres, whose daughter Prosepeia is stolen from her by Pluto, god of the underworld, and taken there to live with him. After much persuasion Pluto consents to let Prosepeia live with her mother, Ceres, for six months of the year. Throughout the pageant, Grecian maidens give dances of consolation for Ceres, who mourns for her daughter.

The spring festival has been very carefully planned out and work on it has been very enthusiastically begun. With such a beginning it bids fair for an excellent presentation.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASS'N ANNOUNCES ITS HONORS

New Equipment Creates An Opportunity for Greater Variety and Makes Gym Classes Interesting.

MANY RECEIVE HONOR POINTS

For the last two years the program for physical education for the young women has included practice in stunts, individual and in two's and three's. The keen interest created by the chance at individual accomplishment was increased by offering points for successfully doing the stunts as judged by the directors. Only one day each week of regular work for about two months was spent at stunts but the girls were encouraged to practice the stunts outside of class. In the gymnastic meet the informal work that was used for entertainment primarily was received hilariously by the audience.

Only recently have the young women had equipment for apparatus work and they had to learn the fundamentals before any headway in the work could be made. Quite a few, however, eager to learn something new spent a great deal of time at apparatus work.

The following young women have made the best records this year in stunts and apparatus works—being chosen, by virtue of the highest number of points gained. For stunts:

Seniors: Lassiter, 125 points; Ray, 85; Bullard, 63. Juniors: Ether Lindley, 130; Wafford, 91; Hinshaw, 71. Sophomores: Dunn, 162; Bangs, 158;

Appalachian proved an easy victim to the tune of 13 to 2. Zachary again proved the master and gave only five hits. Zachary and Stout got three bingles each and contributed much to the run column.

The line-up:

Guilford	Appalachian
