

Hallowe'en Party Tonight For Entire Student Body

STARTS AT 6 P. M.

Social Committee Plans All-School Event for Whip-Poor-Will Club House.

COSTUMES WORN BY ALL

Margaret Perkins in Charge of Entertainment, Main Feature of Which Will Be Barbecue Supper.

Hallowe'en is here! The time for witches, ghosts and goblins, when owls hoot louder, bats are more numerous, cats are much blacker, has come!

Our social committee remembered this and planned for us a party tonight. We will leave Founders at 6:00 and journey down to the noted Whip-Poor-Will Lodge where a barbecue supper will be waiting.

We are happy to announce that the "Bowen's Symphonic Orchestra" will furnish our music. And Guy says that the boys are "fit as a fiddle."

There will be stunts. Now's the time to put those bright ideas into practice. The brightest idea will be rewarded. Each class and the faculty has a chance! The most original costume will be given due recognition.

What part of the entertainment will not be looked after by the refreshment committee will be seen to by Margaret Perkins and her assistants.

Nelson Jones has had a year's experience with class barbecues and today will come to the succor of the whole school. He and Priscilla White are in charge of the refreshments.

Securing of the place and decorating the same has been cared for by Leroy Miller and Julia Blair Hodgkin. Charlie Biddle is supposed to be in charge of the transportation but in most cases the responsibility will be individually assumed.

COLLEGE SOCIETIES VOTE FOR FINAL DISBANDMENT

Organization of Some Sort to Be Substituted for Philomathean and Zatasian Groups.

THIS YEAR THEIR TWENTY-FIFTH

In view of the waning interest in the women's literary societies at Guilford during the past few years, it was voted October 20 to formally disband the organizations.

There was some discussion last week as to what should be done with the groups and it was generally agreed that an organization of some sort should be substituted for them if they were discontinued. There was much discussion before the members finally voted unanimously to allow the Philomathean and Zatasian societies follow the path taken by the Clay and Webster men who buried their organization four years ago.

Elizabeth Alexander was the last president of the Zatasian society and Eunice Otwell, of the Philomathean group.

This year marks the 25th anniversary of the founding of the societies.

It has not been decided just what organization will replace the girls' societies.

Junior Girls Bake Cakes

The three junior majors in home economics 5 have been making demonstrations in cake-baking in class during the past week. This training is in preparation for junior talks as well as for future professional demonstrations.

Rufus Jones to Speak on Campus

Rufus M. Jones, professor of Philosophy at Haverford College, has accepted an invitation to come to Guilford College to speak and to discuss everyday problems with the students. He is expected to be here Saturday and Sunday, November 18 and 19.

Professor Jones is an outstanding philosopher, lecturer and writer among the religious leaders of the country. As a preacher he ranked in the one hundred best preachers in America, selected by members of various denominations.

Rufus Jones is a man of wide experience and unusual accomplishments. He has written numbers of books dealing with phases of religion.

INDIVIDUAL TALENT USED ON PROGRAMS

Class Meetings Utilize Members of Student Body for Entertainment During Week.

PLAN VERY SUCCESSFUL

Unusual entertainments by some of the talented members of the student body have been featured in the class meetings at the past two sessions.

October 19, the Senior class was entertained by Irma Lee Graves by a number of her own readings; Dorothy Sturdivant gave some ukelele selections and a reading to the Junior class; Elizabeth Adams, Elene Younts, and Hazel Wright sang for the Sophomore class. The Freshmen had a business meeting and selected Elenor Wood, Wes Vaughn, Dorothy Ragsdale and Jimmie Lamb as social committee for the Hallowe'en party.

October 25, Dr. Binford spoke to the Senior class about their caps and gowns and about the program January 13, Charter Day; the Junior class had Paul Davis to show tricks with cards. The Sophomore class was entertained by L. T. New in a number of vocal selections; the Freshman class elected Thomas Miller for the student affairs board.

Miss Lasley gave cards to all the classes for students to write and hand in, "Why I Came to Guilford."

HOLD SPECIAL PROGRAM AT MUSIC ORGANIZATION

Professor Noah's Students Meet Every Other Week, All Taking Part in Presentations.

A feature of the music department this year is the music class lesson—so-called—held every other Monday night in Max Noah's studio in the Music building at 7:30. All music students take part in every program. Each member is privileged to invite a friend. The main purpose of the class is to give individual opportunity for performance.

The class will meet Monday night, October 23, for the second meeting of the year. Those taking part were L. T. New, Elizabeth Adams, Mina Donnell, Frances McIver, Louise Lee, Elene Younts, Massey Tange, Martha Taylor, Naomi Binford, Ralph Vaughn, Jessie Bowen, and members of the orchestra.

Special programs are to be provided from time to time by outsiders.

NAME EDGERTON AND PARSONS TO ENTER FOR SCHOLARSHIPS

Guilford Candidates for Rhodes Award Selected by Faculty Last Week.

TAKE TESTS IN JANUARY

Must Be Considered by State Committee Which Chooses a Pair; District Sends Two to Oxford.

The faculty recommended David Parsons, '33, and William Edgerton, '34, as applicants for the Rhodes Scholarships. They will appear before the Rhodes Scholarship Committee of the State of North Carolina in January. The committee, made up of Rhodes scholars in North Carolina, meets the applicants informally at a dinner and interviews each one separately. Each candidate submits a list of personal interests and objects by which the committee questions him.

The two boys selected from the state attend the district meeting and the two from the district go to England in October. The scholarships provide for three years of study at Oxford University.

David Parsons, of High Point, is at present studying at Haverford on a scholarship received last year. He is a history major and will take his M.A. in that subject at Haverford. He was president of the graduating class of 1932 and captain of the tennis team, as well as being editor of the "Quaker" his last year. He was a member of the debating team and the dramatic council. He was also active in connection with the student affairs board, being president his last year. He was also chief marshal.

William Edgerton, of Greensboro, is graduating this summer after summer school, having completed his work in three years when he receives his diploma.

Most of his time is taken with his news bureau work and scholastic pursuits at present. He is a member of the A Capella Choir, was active in dramatics in his freshman year and edited the Freshman Guilfordian in 1931. He is a junior marshal.

Give Interesting Chapel Programs

October 16

Dr. Binford told about the Haverford Centennial program.

October 17

Mr. E. T. McSwain, principal of Greensboro high school, suggested that, since we are passing through an economic, political, social, and moral revolution, we be well informed about economics and government.

October 20

Mrs. Max Noah sang "Minor and Major," "Were My Song With Wings Provided," "Le Coeur de M'amie," and, for an encore "Specially Jim."

October 23

Mr. Haworth announced that Rufus Jones would be here November 18-19.

October 24

Mr. J. A. Kellenberger, of Greensboro, told that if we were serious, courteous and efficient we would undoubtedly get ahead.

October 26

Mrs. George C. Eichhorn, well known among musical circles in Greensboro, played some of her own compositions on the piano.

Dramatic Council Selects Cast to Play in "The Fool"

College Parents Are Given Party

The Student Affairs Board of Guilford College is planning a party for parents of the students the night of November 4, next Saturday, according to Leroy Miller, president of the board.

Arrangements for the party are somewhat indefinite as yet, but it will probably be held at Founders' hall.

Parents of all students will be invited, but the party will be primarily for the parents of those students who live in the community, Greensboro and nearby towns.

Approximately one-third of the student body comes under this designation.

This will be the first affair of the sort to be sponsored by the college in recent years.

PLAN TO ORGANIZE FRENCH CLUB SOON

Professor Flemming and Students Working on Formation of Campus Group.

REQUIREMENTS ARE HIGH

To a meeting of high rating French students Thursday evening, October 16, Professor James Flemming proposed the formation of a French Club at Guilford College. No definite action was taken, but every student was enthusiastic over the possibility.

Professor Fleming outlined a tentative plan for organization, activities, and selection of members of the club. His outline was discussed and alterations were suggested. The final launching of the club, however, will probably be in the hands of a large group which is to meet after the final disbanding of the literary societies.

The membership of the club is to be highly selective. The qualifications suggested by the meeting are three: a minimum quality average of 1.5, a minimum grade in French of B, at least a quarter of French in Guilford College. Applicants will be elected by a two-thirds majority.

The activities of the club will be social and cultural; the cultural concern will be largely with French literature and music. Fortnightly or monthly regular meetings are suggested, with other meetings as occasion requires. Possibly the club will be connected with the "Alliance Francaise."

It is understood that these provisions are highly tentative, and that even the formation of the club rests with meetings.

SOPHOMORE CLASS PUTS ON POLLYANNA PARTY

The Sophomore class was delightfully entertained at a Pollyanna Party in the home of Colum Schenk on Friday evening, October 20. Anna Naomi Binford was in charge of the program.

The guests were divided into three groups, Gladtown, Pleasantville and Happyville. Many contests were carried on among the towns and the winner of each contest was awarded a certain number of points. Pleasantville scored the most points and each member of this town was awarded a prize.

Punch, cookies, and candy were enjoyed by everyone.

DATE IS SELECTED

To Be Given November 25 in Guilford Auditorium—Large Number Participate.

SILVER TAKES LEAD ROLE

Rose Askew, Outstanding in Last Fall's Presentation, Is First Woman Character in Play.

George Silver has been chosen to play the leading part in Channing Pollock's "The Fool," which will be presented November 25 by the college dramatic council, Professor Phillip Furnas announced Thursday.

The lead is "Daniel," the fool, who tries to lead a life like Christ. The girl is "Clare" (Rose Askew), who leaves "Daniel" to marry "Jerry" (Ralph Ward), a rich, young ne'er-do-well. "Jerry's" father, "Mr. Goodkind," is played by Warren Benzanson.

The minister in the church in which Daniel preaches is "Dr. Wadham" (Robert Poole).

There are a few rich society women in the cast: "Mrs. Henry Gilliam" (Esther Lee Cox); "Mrs. Thornbury" (Julia Blair Hodgkin); "Dilly Gilliam" (Emily Virginia Levering), and "Mrs. Tice" (Anna Naomi Binford).

Some of the poor people who have been aided by "Daniel" are "Grubby" (Robert Anderson), "Mack" (L. V. Smith), "Mrs. Mulligan" (Dorothy Sturdivant), "Mrs. Henckley" (Ida Mae Higgins), "Mr. Henckley" (William Grigg), "Miss Levinson" (Margaret Perkins), and "Pearl Hennig" (Mamie Rose McGinnis).

A Pole who works in the mines is "Umanski" (Earl Kuykendall). Pearl Hennig's husband is "Joe" (Russell Henderson). "Benfield" (Harry Brown) and "Stedtmann" (John Bradshaw). The sexton of the church is "Riggs" (Franklin Fowler). The other two in the play are "Mr. Barnaby" (Samra Smith), and the poor man, (Talmadge Smith).

The role of "Mary Margaret" is not yet filled. The role of "Goodkind" and "Jerry" may be changed in the future.

DEBATING COUNCIL HAS ADOPTED CONSTITUTION

Provides for No Radical Changes in Body; Is Their First Written Charter.

PLAN INTER-CLASS DEBATES SOON

The debating council adopted its constitution which has been under construction all this semester, last week. The first constitution that the body has ever had, it provides for one representative from each class and one faculty adviser, no radical departures from former usage being made. It also provides rules for inter-class debates.

The query for the Sophomore-Freshman inter-class debates is "Resolved: That the United States should own and operate railroads."

The query for the upper-class debates will be decided upon in the near future. The question of Russian recognition was considered but has been abandoned.

Students Buy Tickets

Eighteen students on the campus bought tickets to concerts of the Civic Music Association of Greensboro. Transportation to these concerts will be provided by the school bus. These tickets can be used in every city in the United States having a Civic Music Association.