Carl Shurtz Memorial Foundation Sponsors Display of Prints and Lithographs.

MISS JOHNSON LECTURER

Artists From All the Modern Schools of Painting Are in the Collection.

The Carl Schurtz Memorial Foundation will sponsor an exhibit of a collection of etchings, lithographs and wood cuts by modern German artists, in the Society halls at Founders all next week. The purpose of the exhibit is to further the cultural understanding between the United States and Germany.

The exhibit, containing approximately 150 original prints, illustrates the development of the modern schools of art through the last 50 years, beginning with the work of Max Liebermann, first impressionistic painter in Germany.

Yvonne Johnson, who travels with the exhibit, will be here to give lectures on the collection. This Philosophy 10 class will spend the entire week studying this exhibit.

Well known artists in the collection are: Liebermann, Coriuth, Slevogt, Hans Meid, Walter Klenn and Von Hoffmann belonging to the school of impressionism. Robert Sterl and Kaetha Kollwitz, who belong to the school of realism with their studies of peasants and workers. In the school of expressionism are Barlack, Heckel, Nolde, Hofer and Pechstein.

The school of abstract art is represented by Kandinsky, Schlemmer, Campendouch and Baumelster.

The exhibit is free of charge and will be open to the public from 2 to 5 in the afternoons.

NEW MEMBER OF STAFF AT GUILFORD COLLEGE

Clarence Tobias Drives Through via Philadelphia and Richmond, Meeting Bad Weather.

CENTENNIAL COMMITTEE MEETS

Driving at the rate of 25 miles per hour for 14 hours, Clarence Tobias arrived here last Saturday, despite the hazardous roads between Philadelphia and Richmond, to assume his duties as Secretary of the College.

Mr. Tobias has made an extensive study of the systems of raising money and especially the most successful methods used in eastern day schools.

Mr. Tobias attended a meeting of the New York sponsoring committee at the Town Hall Club in New York City, Friday, February 2.

There was a meeting of the Centennial Committee last Wednesday to consider the most important steps to be pursued and the 28 articles of the agenda.

When he is not traveling, Mr. Tobias will keep in as close touch with the college as possible. His office adjoins President Binford's and Jewell Conrad is his secretary.

MacKenzie Replaces Gouger

Choir to Sponsor Concert Tuesday

The North Carolina Ensemble, a small orchestra under the direction of Thor Martin Johnson, will give a concert in the college auditorium Tuesday night at 8:15. Max Noah announced this week. Tickets purchased for the piano concert last week will be good Tuesday night.

The concert is sponsored by the A Capella Choir.

The musical program Tuesday night represents the second attempt of the music department of the college to create an interest in outside musical attractions; the Van Zant concert, to which Van Zant failed to come, drew a fairly large audience from the student body.

OFFICIALLY ADOPT NAME FOR ART CLUB

Retains Title Unofficially Used Since Group Started Holding Meetings.

NOAH MAKES A BIG HIT

The name, "Fine Arts Club," was officially chosen by the group which has been going under that name, at their last meeting, January 29.

After a short program, the rules were read by Mrs. Max Noah, followed by an amusing game. The game consisted of impersonating musical pictures. Mr. Noah, as Handel's father, with a handkerchief on his head and an imitation of a candle as he tottered and shook weakly while looking over the shoulder of the boy Handel (Annie Evelyn Powell) proved to be the hit of the evening. Ervin Werner, as Beethoven, could not get entirely the maestro's stern, thoughtful look in his imitation of the "Moonlight Sonata" picture.

Those who took part in the program were Frances McIver, who sang "Memory" and "Morning Wind;" Esther Stillson, who gave a paper on current events; Esther Perkins, who played "Country Gardens" and "Boy Scout March" on her horn, accompanied by Hazel Powell; Wes Vaughn, who played the "Erl-King," by Schubert, on the piano.

Monday night, February 27, the following students are supposed to take part: Erline Hunter, Louise Lee, Mina Donnell, Ervin Werner, Frances McIver, Anna Bonham, Julia Blair Hodgins and the members of the string and voice quartette.

PRESENT VARIED CHAPEL PROGRAMS PAST WEEKS

Dr. Binford and John Hughes Occupy Two Days Each on the Card.

A varied chapel program, containing both outside and home talent was put on by Professor Samuel Haworth in the past two weeks.

Professor Samuel Haworth spoke informally on three news items, showing present trends Monday, January 29.

Dr. Binford gave some readings relating to science and religion, Thursday and Friday, January 31 and February 1.

Mr. Charles Pier, member of the music department of Greensboro College, accompanied by Miss Audrey Bruton, played the cello Friday, February 2.

John A. Hughes, former English clergyman, spoke on Pendle Hill of which he is now acting director, Monday, February 5.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE SPONSORS OF PARTY FOR ENTIRE SCHOOL

Affair Enjoyed by Students; Mrs. Binford and Mrs. Purdom Serve Coffee.

MARK MILESTONE PASSED

Dancing, Bridge and Other Games Entertain Guests; Decorations Carry Out Valentine Motif.

A college party for the entire student body and faculty was sponsored by the social committees at Founder's hall last night, starting immediately after supper and ending at 9:30.

Directly following supper, coffee was served by Mrs. Helen T. Binford and Mrs. E. G. Purdom, assisted by a student committee under the leadership of Miss Priscilla White.

Decorations were in accordance with the Valentine season and were under the charge of Miss Julia Blair Hodgins and Miss Martha Taylor.

Dancing for those who cared for it was directed by Charles Biddle and Nelson Jones, who were in charge of securing of the music for the occasion.

For those not interested in dancing, games, including bridge, were available in East Parlor.

Miss Margaret Perkins presided over the players.

The entertainment last night was noteworthy for the reason that it was the first of its type ever given, being radically different from any other social ever held at Guilford.

Carefully planned by the social committees with the object in view of emphasizing the radical features, it accomplished its aim.

COLLEGE DEBATE TEAMS SELECTED AT MEETING

Freshmen and Seniors Each Contribute Two Orators and One Alternate for the Debaters.

CONTEST HELD IN GREENSBORO

In a recent meeting of the faculty debating committee, of which Prof. A. I. Newlin is chairman, the inter-collegiate debating teams were selected.

The two upper classmen who were selected are Leroy Miller and Lynn Weston. Both Miller and Weston have had previous experience in college debating. The freshmen who were selected are Robert Poole and Thomas Miller. Poole and Miller have had experience in high school debating. William Copeland and John Bradshaw were selected as alternates.

The question to be debated is: "Resolved, that the powers of the President should be increased as a settled policy."

Dates for inter-collegiate debates have not been set; however, the college will be represented by a debating team in the Tri-State Forensic Tournament to be held in Greensboro in March.

CHOIR WELL RECEIVED; GOES TO GRAHAM SOON

Tomorrow night the Guilford College A Capella choir, under the direction of Max Noah, will go to Graham where it will give its fourth concert of this season.

Last Sunday the choir was heard by an audience that overflowed the Central Friends church at High Point.

On Sunday, February 18, the choir will give another concert at Kernersville.

COLLEGE DOGS LIVE AND DIE AND ARE MOURNED

The old maid has her traditional cat and the Modern Bachelor has his dog—so it seems on Guilford campus.

These dear little things often afford much pleasure for their masters. Ask Ladd Coble about the pup that he found on his bed. Maybe that's why he's sleeping out nights now. Then there's John Burgwyn and his little white spitz. In moment of loneliness one might hear Johnny say, "My lady doesn't love me but my little Spitz do." The dog certainly follows him closely enough.

Then there's that cute little brown pup of Louise Lee's who answers to the name "Rye." He seems to be all over the campus under everyone's feet; and they do fall for him!

Among the faculty animals are Nash and Nick, the German police dogs. Nick, so recently a tiny pup, is now a romping lion. Nash, once the property of the Mears-Hodgins combination, now graces the Noah menage.

Among those "gone but not forgotten" are Binford's "Skippy" and Priss White's "Pete."

HONOR ROLL ROSTER SHOWS AN INCREASE

Represents a Gain of Four Over Mid-Semester List of Last Year.

FRESHMEN PREDOMINATE

The midterm honor roll is larger this year than last. There are 21 this year and there were 17 last year. The decrease and increase according to the classes are as follows: the seniors, four more; the juniors, three less, and the sophomores four less. It should be remembered that last year's freshmen are this year's sophomores, and so on through the classes.

Felsie Riddle, a junior, is the only representative of her class to make honor roll standing.

The other honor roll students are: Seniors—Warren Beanson, Esther Lee Cox, William Edgerton, George Silver, Samra Smith, Clara Belle Welch, and Priscilla White.

Sophomores—Frances Alexander, Mary Bryant, Edgar Meibohm, and Naomi Binford.

Freshmen—John Bradshaw, Milo Gibbons, Addison Hill, Naomi Hollis, Robert Poole, Jasper Seabolt, Robert Van Auker, Kendrick Vestal, and Elnor Webster.

NELSON JONES IS NEW SENIOR CLASS LEADER

Walter Streb Is Elected President by the Sophomores; Freshmen Hear Musical Program.

The seniors elected as president, Nelson Jones; vice-president, George Silver; secretary and treasurer, Martha Lane, at class meeting Thursday. The sophomore officers elected are Walter Streb, president; Walter Ilman, vice-president; secretary, Colum Schenck, and Gerald Allen, treasurer.

The freshmen elected their council representatives, which were Clarence Hill and Fair Swaim; this was followed by a musical program by Elizabeth Adams and Dorothy Sturdivant.

DRAMATIC COUNCIL WORKING ON PLANS FOR OPEN THEATRE

Place to Give Outdoor Performances Possible, Dependent on Action of Authorities.

GAIN FOUR NEW MEMBERS

Esther Lee Cox and Harry Brown Awarded Keys for Outstanding Work in Plays.

Plans for the building of an outdoor theatre on the campus, as yet very vague, are in the process of formation. Professor Phillip Furnas, head of the Dramatic Council, said this week. A theatre of this type will be constructed, according to Professor Furnas, unless unforeseen objections from the administration develop.

Four new members were accepted into the Guilford Dramatic Council this week and two keys were awarded.

To Esther Lee Cox and Harry Brown went keys for participation in dramatics to the extent that they have each acquired 18 points. Both Miss Cox and Brown have helped in the plays in business and back-stage roles as well as in the actual acting.

Invited to join the council were Bill Edgerton, Frances Alexander, Julia Blair Hodgins, and Ervin Werner. Eight points are required for membership, including participation in at least two plays, coupled with a majority vote of the council to invite the candidate to join.

The award of the Dramatics key is a signal honor to Miss Cox and Brown inasmuch as only two are at present on the campus. Rose Askew and Henry Turner having been presented with them last year.

Selection of the spring play to be given will take place in the near future, according to Professor Furnas, though no headway has been made on his choice as yet.

New officers for the council were slated to be elected the latter part of this week.

VOTE NEW MEMBERS INTO GUILFORD FRENCH CLUB

Plan to Discontinue the Speaking of English in Future Meetings of the Organization.

DECIDE TO ALTER CONSTITUTION

The French Club elected a number of new members at their meeting Friday night, January 26.

Several names were presented and voted upon by the members of the club, but only four were passed upon. Those were Anna Jean Bonham, John Macomber, Jane Clegg, freshman, and Billie Osborne, a sophomore.

The constitution was discussed and altered some upon the approval of the members. The question of buying china for the club was not decided upon, but the committee is to have a report next time.

During the meeting nothing was spoken but French and only French will be spoken in the future meetings as far as possible, as it is in the same aim of the club to be an intellectual meeting which will aid and benefit the members in improving their French. The club desires to give a French atmosphere to each meeting. Martha Taylor was in charge of the last meeting.

The next meeting will be held Friday night, February 16, at which time new officers will be elected and the new members will be initiated. Ruth Fuquay will be in charge.
