MUSIC FEDERATION CLUBS TO MEET HERE THURSDAY

Piedmont District Represented by Members from Nine Nearby Towns.

COLLEGE CHOIR WILL SING

Purpose of Meet Is to Forward Good
Music and to Develop Musical Talent.

The Piedmont District Meeting of the North Carolina Federation of Music clubs will be held on the Guilford College campus on Thursday, October 25, from 10:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. All sessions up to 3 o'clock will be held in the auditorium. The Club is a national federation, having its national officers and also its state officers, of which Mrs. Eugene Davis, of Statesville, is the president for North Carolina. The Piedmont district will be represented at the meeting by members from Burlington, Lexington, High Point, Graham, Mebane, Thomasville, Winston, and Greensboro. Mrs. Carroll Atkinson, of Greensboro, as chairman of the meet, will be in charge. In charge of the junior work of the federation will be Mrs. Herbert Coble, of Burlington. The purpose of the organization is to forward good music in home, school, and church, and to develop all musical talent from the child through the adult.

The Guilford College A Capella Choir, under the directorship, of Max Noah, will sing two numbers in the morning program, "Hail, Gladding Light," by Charles Wood, and "The Holly and the Ivy," by Ruthland Boughton.

SECOND COLLEGE DANCE HELD LAST WEEK-END

Music by New College Orchestra;
Another Dance to Be Given Tonight in Gymnasium.

FREDERICKS TO FURNISH MUSIC

Under the sponsorship of the college committee, the second college social of the year was held at Founders Hall Saturday night, October 13.

Music was furnished by the new college orchestra for those who wished to dance. Games were played in the other parlors for those not interested in dancing.

Another dance is to be given tonight. For this it is hoped that the dancing will be carried on in the gymnasium, or some other large place, so that dancing will not be difficult due to limited space. The music for tonight will again be furnished by the college orchestra, under the leadership of Johnny Fredericks.

CURRENT EVENTS SHOW STRIKE AND MURDER

The most important event of the past two weeks was the assassination of King Alexander of Yugoslavia. The mass suicide attempt of 1,200 Hungarians is the next in importance.

Alexander was killed in Marseilles, France, along with Louis Barthow, as they were riding through the streets. Since Alexander's son is too young to be king, Alexander's brother will be prince regent.

The strike of the Hungarian mine workers shows the unrest in Europe. These men, who are suffering untold torture, are determined to die in the mines unless wages are raised. They have been partially successful in getting higher wages.

PRESIDENT MILNER AND TOBIAS RETURN HOME

Dr. Clyde A. Milner, president of Guilford College, and Clarence A. Tobias, secretary of the college, will return to the campus some time tonight. Reports state that the trip has been quite successful. Besides the scheduled program they attended a Rotary dinner in Washington, D. C., and a tea at the Florida Street meeting in the same city.

Former students of Guilford at Haverford and Hartford had the privilege of seeing them. Dr. Milner took part in the Centennial procession at Hartford.

The program at the Guilford College Club alumni meeting in Philadelphia was: a speech by Walter Haviland, headmaster of Friends Select School, a member of the Guilford faculty in 1890; a speech by David Henley, and speeches by Dr. Milner and Mr. Tobias.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL IS HOST TO FRESHMEN

Delicious Food, 100 Mile Dash
Are Highlights of the Evening.

STUDENTS GIVE PROGRAM

Sports was the theme of the buffet supper given by the women's athletic council in honor of the Freshman girls Monday night at Men's Center.

The Center was attractively decorated with sporty features, balls, tennis rackets, and nets.

Mildred Marlette acted as toastmistress. The Physical Education director, Mrs. John Anderson, gave a talk on sports in general, then short speeches were given by each member of the council on the activity of which she had charge. Helen Lassiter spoke on the point system; Frances Johnson, tennis; Mamie Rose McGinnis, hockey; Mary Weber, volley ball; Ailene Johnson, archery; Emily Ragsdale, speedball; Frances McIver, track, and Colum Shenck, natural dancing.

The supper consisted of oyster stew, peanut butter sandwiches, banana sandwiches, cream cheese and olive sandwiches, pie a la mode, and coffee.

After the supper, games and dancing were enjoyed by all.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HAS ROAST AT FISH POND

Members of the college Sunday school enjoyed a weiner roast at Clyde Pleasant's pond last night. Mildred Marlette and Sybil Barrow entertained the group with an amusing presentation of the "Two Black Crows."

The Sunday School met in front of Founder's Hall at 5:30 and walked in a group to the fish-pond.

Bill Price, superintendent of the Sunday school, and Orpha Newlin, chairman of the social committee, had charge of the arrangements for the picnic.

Other picnics and socials are being planned for this year for the members of the Sunday school.

Mrs. Milner Returns

Mrs. E. C. Milner, dean of women, and professor in courses of English and psychology, has returned to the college. Tuesday she taught her first class since her recent illness, English 3. She returned to psychology I on Wednesday, and on Friday to children's literature. She plans to take up her administrative duties soon.

DR. COKER OF DUKE SPEAKS THURSDAY

Garden Club of Guilford College Has Dr. Coker to Speak on North Carolina Trees.

FAMOUS BOTANIST HERE

A nationally-known biologist, Dr. W. C. Coker, professor of botany at the University of North Carolina, will be the speaker for the Garden Club of Guilford College at Memorial Hall on Thursday, October 25, Miss Eleanor Fox, president, stated yesterday.

Dr. Coker specializes in the field of "fungi" and has written several books on this subject. He has also made extensive studies in connection with the study of trees, and has written "A Guide to Trees of North Carolina."

Trees, as the subject of Dr. Coker's speech, will be dealt with locally, as people know them in North Carolina.

There has recently been published a book, "Trees of the Southeastern States," which Dr. Coker has written in collaboration with Dr. Totter.

A tea in honor of Dr. Coker will be given at the home of Mrs. Jennie Hart Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5.

Music for the occasion is being planned by Professor Noah.

The admission is free and all students are invited to come.

SUPERINTENDENT PHILLIPS OF GREENSBORO LECTURES

Speaks on Success; President Milner Gives Illustrative Incidents in Life of Paul.

PROFESSOR MAX NOAH SINGS

October 3

President Milner spoke about an incident in the life of Paul, giving a very impressive illustration of how people are always being either overrated or underrated.

October 5

Mr. Noah sang several selections. He was accompanied at the piano by his wife.

October 8

Mr. Haworth gave an exposition on the object of punishment. He explained that punishment was not always the means of securing justice.

October 9

Supt. Phillips, of the Greensboro schools, gave a talk on the subject of success.

Music Director Receives Harsh Penalty For Speeding to Reach Choir on Time

Arrested? Appeared in traffic court? A college professor? Un-speakable!

A stunned Guilford College student body is gradually recovering from the shock it received last Friday on looking over the morning paper. The Daily News stated in black and white that Max Noah (a member of the Guilford faculty) was one of those who had run afoul (at better than 35 miles per hour) of the long dragnet's arm of the law and had as a result been fined costs and had his driver's license revoked for ten days.

Members of the student body, on being approached, gave widely divergent views on the subject. Said one, "I was not surprised that Mr. Noah was speeding, but that he

PATHWAYS IMPROVED BY STUDENTS ON CAMPUS

Efforts to improve and beautify the walks on the campus are being made by student labor under the guidance of Mr. Newlin. Mr. Newlin stated it was his intention to have the walks rebuilt in such a way as to afford better drainage and a better top surface.

It will take considerable time to work all the walks on the campus with the present number of student laborers. However, Mr. Newlin hopes to have much of the project finished by Home-Coming Day so as to have the campus walks in good condition and appearance for this celebration.

MARTHA TAYLOR IS PRESIDENT AGAIN

Several Pianists Made Their Initial Appearance at the Second Meeting.

NEW, PROGRAM CHAIRMAN

Election of this year's officers took place at the second meeting of the Fine Arts Club on October 8. Martha Taylor was re-elected president; L. T. New became vice-president and program chairman, and Lib Adams was chosen secretary-treasurer.

The program for next meeting was made out at this time by volunteers of the members, the way it is planned to be done each time. There will be three piano numbers presented by William Collier, Frances Melver, and Mina Donnell; three voice number by Annie Lee Fitzgerald, Lib Adams, and Jewell Conrad. Virginia Levering will give a reading, and Philip Kelsey has promised a talk. Martha Taylor may perform. This program will be on October 29.

The program of October 8 opened with a talk about Johann Bach, by Helen Potts. This program consisted of a considerable amount of new talent. The second number was "Traumerei," played by DeLacy Faust. Two readings were given by Mary Evans: "The Bear," and "Jonathan Bing." Hazel Wright made her initial appearance as she sang the well known "Long, Long Ago." That was followed by a rendition of Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata," adagio movement," by Peggy Mostrom. In contrast Annie Laura Vannoy played the trifling "Rustle of Spring." That was followed by Mina Donnell singing "Morning Wind." Louise Lee then showed what could be done in interpretation as she played one of Chopin's "Preludes." The program closed with L. T. New singing the rollicking "Neapolitan Nights."

ENTERTAINMENT AND LECTURE COURSE IS NOW BEING PLANNED

Community Parent Teachers Association and Others
Are Interested.

DEA PRESENTED BY NOAH

Two to Four Numbers First Year; Expansion Later; Mr. Sutor Speaks.

At the Monday morning chapel, October 16, Mr. Noah presented and discussed a plan for the formation of a lecture and entertainment course for Guilford. The idea had been previously considered by a group composed of representatives from the community Parent-Teacher Association, the Alumni Association, and the college.

Mr. Noah stated that a tentative price might be 75 cents for college and high school students, and a dollar for others. This would necessitate, however, 300 patrons who could be drawn from the college, the community, Oak Ridge, Summerfield, and perhaps from Greensboro, Jamestown, High Point and other nearby points.

The course would consist of from two to four numbers, depending on the kind and quality of entertainment wanted and obtainable. The Carolina Playmakers and the North Carolina Symphony were suggested as possible numbers.

In later years, Mr. Noah pointed out, this course could be expanded to more numbers, and, if successful, to the securing of world talent.

In the open discussion afterwards Mr. Sutor emphasized the need and definite use of such a course in the education offered by a liberal arts college.

PARSONS NEW PRESIDENT OF THE FRESHMAN CLASS

Professor Shepard Gives Results of Conservative-Liberal Test to Seniors and Freshmen.

FURNAS TALKS TO SOPHOMORES

The class meetings of October 11 and 18 occupied a wide range of subjects.

At the Freshman class meeting October 18, the candidates for office nominated the week before were voted on. The officers elected are as follows: President, Jim Parsons; vice-president, McRay Robertson; secretary, Rebecca Weandt; student affairs representative, Walter Neave; Men's Student Council Representative, Robert Roche.

The Sophomore class was entertained on October 11 by Professor Furnas, who made a brief talk on the background of the assassination of King Alexander of Serbia. On October 18 Mrs. Noah entertained with a humorous reading.

At Senior class meeting on October 18, Professor Shepard gave the results of the questionnaires filled in by the Senior and Freshman classes. The results indicated that, as a whole, the Seniors are liberal-minded, while the Freshmen are slightly conservative. It was also found that the boys are more conservative than the girls.

Debate Teams Selected

Debating teams were chosen recently. Three boys, incidentally, who are all from Greensboro, compose the Sophomore team. The members are Tommy Miller, Henry Nau, and Ray Hollis, with James Lovings acting as alternate.

Three girls were successful in winning places on the Freshman debating team. The debaters are Frances Purdom, Beatrice Rohr and Rebecca Weandt.
