GUILFORD IS STILL ON LIST OF SCHOOLS HAVING 'A' STANDING

Starts Third Three-Year Period
as Accredited Member, Southern Association.

MILNER BACK ON CAMPUS

Makes Speech in Charlotte for State
Conference of Hi-Y Clubs.

Out of the 42 colleges in North Carolina, only 15 are accredited colleges. Dr. Clyde A. Milner attended the meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in Atlanta, Ga., and gave the tri-annual report of Guilford College, which was accepted by this accredited association.

There are 20 requirements that a college has to meet in order to become a member of this association. Some of the requirements are: A live and well-distributed library of at least 12,000 volumes; faculty training; a certain percentage of the faculty to have doctor's degrees, or the equivalent; endowment of half million dollars; and specific requirements for entrance and graduation.

Guilford has been a member of this association since 1926 and continues in good standing. State associations, regional associations, and national associations are the three standardizing agencies of educational institutions. It is the administration's wish that Guilford become a member of the Association of American Universities, which is the national association.

While in Atlanta for the conference, President Milner also attended the special meetings for deans of arts colleges and for directors of summer schools.

On his way back he spoke before the state convention of Hi-Y clubs in Charlotte last Saturday.

MISS SHIELDS ASSISTS IN LIBRARY WORK HERE

Helps Miss Ricks for a Short Period;
Has Had Several Years' Experience.

Catherine Shields, of Carthage, who is a graduate from Guilford (1926), has consented to give her services in research works to the college library for a period of three weeks. Miss Shields worked in the Guilford library during her junior and senior years. After graduation she attended the Drexel Institute in Philadelphia, where she completed her work for librarian in 1928. Since then she has been affiliated with the public library in Charlotte and was librarian in the Boyden High School library in Salisbury.

Miss Shields' work here is organizing, refileing, and clipping the information which has been collected through the library on N. C. Quakers and Guilford College.

This valuable information is in newspaper clipping form and as yet has not been found in book form.

The material deals with writers, musicians, history artists, folk lore and personal narratives of N. C. and the Quakers of N. C.

This organized material will afford a valuable information file which will be of great interest and help to our college library.

Christmas Holidays to Start Wednesday

Christmas holidays will start at 11:30 Wednesday morning, December 19. Unless one has no classes he cannot leave before this time. Everyone must be back at school in time for classes Wednesday afternoon, January 3.

The ruling concerning holiday cuts still holds good. Anyone cutting a class the week before or after the vacation will be cut out of class and receive an F, unless they have been excused by the dean.

Y. W. BAZAAR FEATURES COLLEGE DANCE TONIGHT

Baby Cabinet Acts as Waitress to Serve Customers During the Evening.

ORCHESTRA PLAYS FOR DANCERS

An innovation in parties is occurring tonight, in the form of a Japanese dance bazaar held at Mary Hobbs Hall at 7:00. The dining room will be decorated for dancing. In a Japanese tea room just off the dancing room will be sold buttered pie a la made, apple pie, oyster soup, persimmon pudding with whipped cream, coffee and doughnuts.

The annual Y. W. C. A. bazaar has been converted into a combination bazaar and dance. There will be quaint little shops equipped with odd, useful articles that will be on sale.

Japanese waitresses, better known as the Baby Y Cabinet, will serve the customers during the evening.

The orchestra will play for the dancing. There will be two novelty dances. Several games will be played and there will be a fortune-teller. The high light of the evening will occur when a cake is given to the most beautiful girl there.

MRS. MILNER SPEAKS AT WOMAN'S COLLEGE

Mrs. Ernestine Cookson Milner spoke at the installation of the Phi Beta Kappa at W. C. U. N. C. This is being organized as a branch of the organization of the University at Chapel Hill.

Mrs. Milner is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, as are also Dr. Raymond Binford and Mr. Clarence E. Tobias.

"Sausages for Philosophy" is Fair Trade According to Tobias and German Friend

Among the odors of Mem. Hall last Friday afternoon was the smell of sausages. Being a "nose for news" reporter, I followed my nose to Mr. Tobias' office and there, to my surprise, he had 15 pounds of German sausages spread out on his desk. He hales me in a jovial manner and next thing I know I have smelled the 21 different varieties and my salivary glands are functioning (Psy. 1). All the time Mr. Tobias is repeating one phrase: "From Philosophy to Sausages." (A reporter begins and ends conversation with questions). In answer to my eager questioning he tells the story of his college days. (No, he isn't a magazine salesman.)

It seems that he and Hans Loch, a German classmate, are supposed to be studying philosophy, but instead they both have a yen for sausages. They trek across Germany toasting sausages and since every town and county has its definite tradition

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN COLLEGE RULES PUT INTO EFFECT

Exam and Class Schedules for Next Semester Are Already Up.

SENIORS NEED C AVERAGE

No Change in Registration Allowable
Later Than Two Weeks
After First Class.

Several important changes in college regulations will be put in the new college catalogue and will go into effect by September, 1935.

No student will be allowed to register for either first or second semester or to change registration later than two weeks after the first day of classes except by special permission from the Personnel Committee. The policy of the Personnel Committee will be to give permission only in very unusual cases.

Beginning next September, in addition to the present requirements for junior and senior standing, a student will be required to have a quality average of above an average of C in order to have such standing.

No changes have been made in regard to registration for the second semester this year. Seniors will register in the registrar's office during the first few days of the examinations. Juniors and sophomores will register Friday afternoon, January 18, 1935.

Freshmen will register Saturday morning, January 19, 1935.

There are certain important rules in regard to registration. Registration is not complete until the students' matriculation card has been signed by the treasurer. Students will be allowed no off-campus permissions until they secure the treasurer's signature. The administration urges that such students should make arrangements for their finances before registration day.

The schedule for examinations and for classes of next semester are on the bulletin board.

Joseph Peele Reads At Joint Y

Joseph Peele read at Joint "Y" Thursday evening, November 7. He read the story, "The Courage of the Commonplace." Joseph Peele is a former teacher of elocution and pastor at Guilford.

and way to make sausages, a great many flavors are produced in each district. (By the sausages ye shall know the town.) Mr. Tobias and his friend became professional tasters of the sausages.

But this story goes on: His friend is an attache at the German Embassy in Ankara, Turkey. Mr. Loch is still studying philosophy but is unable to obtain the books he wants. Mr. Tobias makes a bargain (these shrewd Americans). "If I send you philosophy books, will you send me sausages?"

Hans Loch immediately writes to his mother, who lives in Stuttgart, Germany: "She makes selections and sends the sausages to her son's American friend."

So, it is sausages for philosophy. A good bargain, eh, what? This remains to be seen, as I am told that certain members of the faculty are to be invited to Mr. Tobias' home for a sausage tasting party in German style.

New Bulletin for Students Composed

A new bulletin for prospective students was sent last Monday. It had been prepared by Mrs. Milner. It is composed mostly of pictures of the campus, buildings, professors and student officers. Each picture has some explanation with it. The idea of it is to show the various phases of school life at Guilford. The first picture depicts the campus, the next two buildings. Following that appear heads of departments, and student officers with a discussion of campus organizations and activities. There is a brief discussion on sports with pictures. This is the second bulletin put out in the past few months.

Red and black, bright orange, green, pale yellow, and purple make up the unique color bindings of these books. The contents are equally interesting.

There are two valuable reference sets in the order: a set of "Johns Hopkins University Studies in Historical and Political Science" covering the subjects of Science, Education, Political Science, and History of North Carolina. "Mythology of All Races" is a reference set to 13 volumes with handsome illustrations.

Miss Ricks says that this is probably the last order that will come through the Carnegie Corporation since this is the last year of their grant.

MISS HUTH FINISHES THESIS FOR MASTERS

International Christmas Party Given at Her Home for Students in Spanish and German.

"The Problem of Introducing Culture as an Integral Part of Modern Foreign Language Teaching in American Colleges" is the subject of the thesis which Miss Maria Luisi Huth, of the department of German and Spanish, has finished in fulfillment of the requirement for the master's degree at Columbia University.

The degree will be granted February 5, 1935.

At the present time, as a result of the traditional development of stressing literature in college education, the other factors of culture are being neglected. Miss Huth proposes in her thesis to teach habits, customs, and religious beliefs in modern languages as well as to teach the literature itself.

Guilfordian Discontinued

This is the last regular issue of the Guilfordian until February, the discontinuance being caused by lack of funds. There is some possibility, however, that there may be one issue during January, commemorating Charter day.
