

EXPECT NUMBER OF OLD GRADS FOR HOMECOMING DAY

Great Many Events Planned to Entertain Alumni on November 9.

W. C. T. C. FOOTBALL GAME

"Death Takes a Holiday" to Be Presented in College Auditorium at 8 o'clock.

A large number of alumni are expected for the annual Guilford College home-coming day to be held on November 9. J. Wilmer Pancoast, chairman of the home-coming committee, announced recently.

Perhaps the most outstanding event of the day, according to Mrs. Milner who has charge, is the cross-country meet with State College, which was defeated by the Guilford College harrriers earlier in the season. By defeating the Carolina reserves and State College, the Quaker aggregation has drawn much favorable comment and recognition. This meet is scheduled for 11 a.m. along with the alumni-Guilford hockey game.

Football Game

At 3 o'clock the Guilford football team has its last home game of the season with Western Carolina Teachers College, and the Guilford squad has a good chance to win. Another important event on the schedule is the supper meeting of the Monogram club at the Jefferson club at 6:30 p.m. Present at this meeting will be Coach Bob Doak, "Chick" Smith, the Ferrells of baseball fame, and many old Guilfordians.

To climax the program, Prof. P. W. Furnas, head of the English department, and the Dramatics council will present "Death Takes a Holiday" in the college auditorium at 8 o'clock.

SPANISH-GERMAN CLUB HAS THREE SPEAKERS

Pictures Will Feature Lectures to Be Given During Coming Month;
One Already Heard.

BURK SMITH HEARD LAST NIGHT

The Guilford College Germanic-Hispanic society, headed by Miss Marie Huth, professor of German and Spanish at the college, will hear three lectures during the month of November. Miss Huth announced here yesterday.

November 1 the club heard Burk Smith, from Duke, who has made a bicycle tour of Germany and surrounding countries. He showed pictures to the language group, besides making interesting remarks. This lecture was for the clubs and was held in one of the rooms in King hall.

November 8, Charles A. Farrell, proprietor of the Art Shop in Greensboro, will show moving pictures on Mexico in the college auditorium. He has traveled extensively in Mexico during the past summer. The pictures will include scenes far from the accustomed tourist routes depicting the people in their ceremonials, in their gay moods, and in the performance of their simple tasks.

The next week the clubs propose to have Miss Alice K. Abbott, Spanish professor of W. C. U. N. C. She will give a lecture on Spain. Miss Abbott has traveled in Spain and her lecture will prove very interesting.

Schools Mobilize For Peace Nov. 8

Most of the colleges in the United States are holding mass meetings November 8 at 11 a. m. as a mobilization for peace. Guilford is planning a meeting at this time, and all are invited to attend. The meeting is sponsored by the National "Y's" and National Federation of Councils, and other national groups.

At its meeting Thursday night, October 31, the International Club voted to join the International Relations Club, which is backed by the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace. This entitles it to the Carnegie books and pamphlets on international relations. The members of the club signed up as charter members and elected Beatrice Rohr as corresponding secretary and Bill Price as recording secretary.

RUSSIAN CHOIR WILL GIVE CONCERT HERE

Carolina Playmakers Are Also Booked on College-Community Program.

SLAVIC SINGERS FAMOUS

As its initial program for this year the Guilford College-Community entertainment course will present Mme. Margarita Slaviansky's world-famous Russian chorus in a delightful musical entertainment on Monday evening, November 18, according to Mr. W. O. Suiter, college chairman of the course.

The chorus will present a varied program, offering in addition to its quaint native songs and fiery dances several American folk songs.

The Russian group was organized 75 years ago in Russia, since which time it has visited over 50 countries, rendering successful performances everywhere. Its present conductor, Mme. Margarita Slaviansky, is one of the few internationally known women conductors. Featured as soloists are Mlle. Maria Slaviansky, sister of the conductor, and Ivan Butenko, both world-famous for many years. A balalaika orchestra is carried by the chorus, which interprets very beautifully the Slavic music.

Mr. Suiter has announced that later programs in the entertainment course will bring the Carolina Playmakers, of Chapel Hill, in the late fall.

AMERICAN NEUTRALITY DISCUSSED IN CHAPEL

Professor A. I. Newlin, Head of History Department, Traces History of Neutrality Proclamations.

Mr. Algie Newlin, of Guilford's history department, gave a talk on the history of American neutrality during chapel period on Tuesday, October 22. His object was to show that, while the outbreak of foreign wars in the past has generally led to an immediate proclamation of neutrality by the current administration, the ruling has frequently been reversed in the long run. We must take care, according to Mr. Newlin, to insure the effectiveness and lasting nature of President Roosevelt's recent proclamation of political and economic non-partisanship.

Also heard in chapel during the past two weeks were: Dr. Milner, who spoke on the dangers of reckless driving; Dr. Pope, whose subject was "Aims in Living"; Mr. Shepard, who discussed the early history of North Carolina.

MEIBOHM RECEIVES NOMINATION FOR ACADEMIC AWARD

President of Student Affairs
Board Chosen for Rhodes Scholarship Candidacy.

HAS HONOR ROLL RECORD

He Was Marshal Last Year, President of Class; Is Member of Track Team.

Edgar Meibohm, member of the senior class, and a day student from Greensboro, has been recommended by the faculty as the Guilford College candidate for the Rhodes scholarship awarded each fall to 32 outstanding students in the United States, enabling them to study at Oxford University in England.

Meibohm, who will be 20 years old in December, has achieved the highest scholastic record attained here in recent years, and possibly the most remarkable scholastic record ever made in the school's 99 years of active training. A perfect record of all A's is the score which Edgar Meibohm has to show for his three years in college, augmented by a perfect high school record at Greensboro Senior high of all A's for four years—seven consecutive years of perfect scholarship.

He will complete an unusually difficult course of study at Guilford this spring with a major in chemistry, mathematics, and physics, whereas the average student for the B. S. degree completes only one major. He has taken from 17 to 20 semester hours of school work each of his three school years; the average is 16 semester hours.

The young man has entered vigorously into the college life with numerous extra-curricular activities. As a freshman he was a member of the track team and the debating club, as well as secretary of his class. In the second year he was a member of the track team, debating council, student affairs board, college choir, and held the valuable and prized Marvin Hardin scholarship.

He became president of the student affairs board, president of the junior class, and a college marshal in his junior year. He is for the second year holding the office of president of the student affairs board.

Meibohm will appear before the state committee on the Rhodes scholarship with outstanding scholars from North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Virginia, and Tennessee on December 12 or 14.

Naomi Binford spoke on the merits of music methods. The orchestra then played several selections.

MISS LASLEY COMPILES DIRECTORY OF ALUMNI

Miss Era Lasley, registrar of Guilford College and a member of the college alumni association, will compile a directory which will include all the alumni for the past hundred years. This directory will cover (arranged in alphabetical order) all the students who have attended New Garden Boarding school and Guilford College.

A list as to classes and as to geographical location will also be arranged. This information will include the names of faculty members, board of trustees, and all important committees connected with the college.

Miss Lasley wishes the co-operation of all the alumni and students, as it will be information about Guilfordians.

The directory is being published for the centennial.

PLAY CAST ACTS MORE NATURALLY BACKSTAGE

Footlights Don't Illuminate Dramatic Part of Production; "Study Room" and "Social Room" Designated.

The backstage just as do underworld hangouts and exclusive speakeasies appears very innocent on the surface. One would never think that a professor's office could be the setting for a tragedy of the locked door. The lover stands outside and tears his hair, while the maid and the playwright inside shake the door every once and a while, not concerned apparently about their getting out. The "study room" and the "social room," which were established so that even if one was in a play one might turn up with a lesson studied occasionally, are constantly in use. It seems to us that in both rooms they study—the campus course. Here is an innocent enough looking scene—two people sitting on two chairs. Ah, but it is J. L. making love to Esther again.

Who is the sober figure in black yon who reeks melodrama in every syllable? 'Tis our great Milton, but never fear, he will be calmed down by and by and be better for having thrown himself into the plot.

Our leading man seems to get plenty of practice in improving his technique on every girl who appears backstage.

REPRESENTATIVES TO FIVE YEARS' MEETING RETURN OCTOBER 30

Several Members of Guilford Faculty Attend Meeting in Richmond, Ind.

J. HOGE RICKS ATTENDS

Brother to Guilford Librarian Takes Active Part in Quaker Conference;
Rufus Jones Speaks.

The delegation which the Guilford faculty sent to the Five Years' Meeting of Friends returned to the campus Wednesday, October 30, after an absence of approximately 10 days. Those who attended were President Milner, Dr. Raymond Binford, Mrs. Binford, and Professor and Mrs. Haworth.

In addition to the faculty embassy, Guilford was represented by J. Hoge Ricks, brother of Miss Katherine C. Ricks, the college librarian. He acted as assistant to William O. Mendenhall, presiding clerk of the meeting, and himself presided over a number of the group discussions.

The convention, held this time at Richmond, Ind., concerned itself with the work of the Society of Friends all over the world, and took the form mainly of reports and inspirational talks, and lasted from Tuesday, October 22, through Monday, October 28. Among the more prominent speakers were Tom Sykes, High Point evangelist; Rufus M. Jones, former Haverford professor, who spoke on "Friends and the Mind of Christ for Today," and Willard O. Trueblood.

GUILFORD MEN INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK

Three Students Hurt When Cars Collide at Intersection in Greensboro;
Burgwyn's Wounds Serious.

AINSLEY HAS FRACTURED SKULL

William Burgwyn, Aubrey Ainsley, and Jack Fitzgerald, popular members of the Guilford student body, were involved in a very serious automobile accident which occurred at the intersection of McGee and Spring streets in Greensboro about 9 o'clock on the night of September 20.

Burgwyn, son of W. H. S. Burgwyn, of Woodland, and brother to John Burgwyn, of football fame, was critically injured as a result of a bad cut on the left side of the neck which severed both arteries. Ainsley sustained a broken left collar bone and several painful bruises, but his condition was not considered as dangerous. Fitzgerald escaped from the accident with only minor injuries and was able to return to the college immediately.

The accident occurred when the Guilford car, driven by Ainsley, collided with the automobile driven by J. L. Kendall, of Greensboro. All four men were taken to the Clinic hospital, where emergency measures were applied to stop the great loss of blood from Burgwyn's wound.

As this article goes to press, Bill, for whom little hope was held at first, and Ainsley, who suffered a slight relapse, are reported "doing nicely."

Miss Ricks Away

Miss Katherine C. Ricks, librarian at Guilford, left campus Thursday, October 31, for Baltimore, Md., where she will attend the Baltimore Yearly Meeting of Friends.
