QUAKER SPORTS

Quakers Down Teachers In Winning Season's First CLUB HOLDS FIRST

FOX OUAKER STAR

Home-Coming Crowd of Students and Alumni Here for Last Home Game.

LOCALS SCORE WIN BY 18-6

Outplay Catamounts in Every Depart-ment to Pile Up Twelve-Point Margin.

Before a large and jubilant home coming crowd of alumni and students, the Guilford College gridiron eleven ran roughshod over a valiant and scrappy Western Carolina Teacher squad to win, 18 to 6. This was the first win of the Quakers to date and showed the sterling performance they are capable of delivering when clashing with a team where within their weight class. The Quakers held the upper

The Quakers held the upper hand throughout the entire battle, rolling up 15 first downs to the visitors' 7, gaining a total of 347 yards to 122, and completely outclassing the Catamounts in pletely outclassing the Catamounts in the running and passing ends of the game. The locals amassed 228 yards on the ground to their opponents' 69, and gained 119 yards via the aerial route to the Teachers' 53.

First Quarter
Guilford elected to receive the kick off, and after running several ground plays, punted to midfield. The Cata-mounts attempted to gain through the line play. Several plays later, Acree faded back and tossed a pass which Shackner, Teacher quarterback, intercepted and toted down the sideline to ring up the first score of the game. Sutton's attempted place-kick was short. ended with Guilford in The quarter ion of the ball deep in Teacher

Second Quarter
On the second play of the quarter,
Fox reversed and lateralled to Leonard, who scooted around left end for 12 yards and a six-pointer. Acree's at-tempt for conversion failed. Six plays tempt for conversion failed. Six plays later Fox intercepted a Catamount pass and raced 18 yards for the second Quaker touchdown. Fox fumbled the ball on the try for extra point and the score remained 12 to 6.

Third Quarter
Neither team threatened in the third period and the game quickly developed into a punting duel between Fox and into a punting duel between Fox and Shachner. Woolley, who went in as substitute end, stood out on the defen-sive with his spectacular tackling and breaking up of Teacher ground plays. As the period ended, Aerce heaved a beautiful pass to Bowers, who was downed deep in Teacher territory.

Fourth Quarter
The Cats succeeded in stopping the Quaker march which bogged down on the 20-yard line, and after gaining possession of the pigskin they threw a long pass which Carroll intercepted and re-turned to the 13. Again the Quakers had a golden opportunity to score, but Acree fumbled and the Teachers recov-ered. In the closing minutes, the Quakers started another goal-line march and a pass from Fox to McCommons brought the third score. The final whistle blew as the Quakers missed their extra-point

Cliff Fox stood out in the Quaker backfield with his running, kicking, and passing, while Shachner played the stellar role for the Cats. Leonard got really loose and displayed a fast and shifty performance in returning punts shirty performance in returning punts and in carrying the ball from serimmage. Woolley, Davis and Carroll shone on the defense, while Tilson's tackling in backing up the line deserves laurels in the secondary.

Harriers to Meet Carolina Reserves

An informal announcement has been made to the effect that the col-lege athletic committee is definitely giving thought to the awarding of track letters to the first five men on the Quaker cross-country team. The faculty members of the committee are in favor of the move, as are the student representatives to the body. The cross-country team is planning to participate in the Southern Conference cross-country championships at Carolina next Saturday, and they are scheduled to meet the Chapel Hill reserves again, to whom they dropped an earlier meet by one point.

GUILFORD TOPPED CONFERENCE IN '28

Quakers Took Four Out of Four to Walk Off With the Crown.

BEAT CATAWBA TO WIN

Seven years have elapsed since Guilford last put a Little Six championship ditions?" football team on the gridiron. In 1928, game season to ring up five victories against three defeats. The team was captained by Hoyle and coached by Norman Shepard, brother of our own F. Carlyle Shepard. Shepard is now head coach of football at Randolph-Macon College in Virginia, where he went directly upon leaving Guilford.

The Quakers of that year started the season with dull prospects, since every backfield regular had been lost through graduation. The first game of the season was with Davidson, and the reserve strength of the Presbyterian school prevailed as they defeated the Quakers, 27 to 0. On September 29 the Quakers met and defeated the Campbell College eleven, 19 to 0; the heavy Guilford line kept the Campbell backs under cover all afternoon and prevented any scoring threats. On October 6 the Quakers went down in defeat to Roanoke College. who, that year, sported one of Virginia's Indian strongest teams which shone with a bril-six-point six-point six-poi liant passing game. On October 20 the Guilford squad dropped a surprise game to the Lynchburg Hornets, 12 to 6, in a game which found the Hornets in a complete second-half reversal of form. One week later the Quakers invaded Elon and trounced the Christians, 7 to 0; the score is no indication of the game, however, since the Quakers completely outplayed the Elonites failed to score several times only by the slightest margin.

From this point the Quakers went forward to crush Atlantic Christian and Lenoir-Rhyne on successive Saturdays by substantial scores. The final game

Before You Buy Christmas Cards SEE

The Beautiful Engraved Guilford Seal Cards

THE BOOKSTORE

CRIMSON AND GRAY ATHLETIC BANOUET

Famous Sports Alumni Among Group Meeting at Jefferson Standard Club.

RICK FERRELL A SPEAKER

anization Founded With Intent to Promote Bigger and Better Athletics at Guilford College.

The first meeting of the newly organ zed Crimson and Gray Club was held Saturday evening, November 9, at the Jefferson Club. Some 50 former lettermen of Guilford College were present and enjoyed the evening, which was greatly enhanced by a sumptuous turkey dinner.

After the meal a general discussion of Guilford College athletics was opened. Such eminent alumni as Rick Ferrell, "Chick" Doak, Bob Doak, "Chunk" Warrick, "Shirt" Smith, Bob Jamieson, Earl Cummings, Mears English, Reverend Peele, Jesse Turner, John Burgwyn, J. P. Anderson, F. C. Shepard, J. G. Fracior, "How? Ragan, Jimny Bun, Luke zier, "Hop" Ragan, Jimmy Bunn, Luke Copeland, and A. I. Newlin expressed their various opinions and viewpoints on the athletic situation at the Quaker institution. Many proposals were put forward in answer to the question, "What shall be done about existing con-

It was definitely proposed and accepted that the aim of this group be to promote better athletics at Guilford, after which a decision was tendered concerning acting officers of the organ-ization. It was decided that the president of the Monogram Club, Fred Newman, and the secretary, Claude Hepler, shall also perform in these respective capacities in the Crimson and Gray

The next meeting of the organization will take place late in the spring, and it is hoped that this will be a bigger and better meeting to promote bigger and better athletics at Guilford. It is hoped that this organization will succeed in its efforts and that the enthusi-asm shown at the meeting may stand as a promise of things to come.

of the season was the Thanksgiving Day clash with the Catawba Indians, which was played at Salisbury. The Quakers stacked up against a really p

PREFERRED ERSONAL STATIONERY

Wills Book & Stationery Co.

Complete Line of Varsity and Sport Sweaters COBLE

344 S. Elm St. Greensboro, N. C.

Jos. J. STONE & Co.

College Engraving Announcements Invitations

225 S. Davie St. GREENSBORO, N. C.

Quaker Harriers Defeated In Return Meet With State

Elon Game Free to Guilford Students

The annual football classic be tween the Guilford Quakers and the Elon Christians will be played in the Greensboro Memorial stadium on November 23. The game this year is Guilford's game, which means that all Guilford students are means that all cultivid students are admitted free at the gate. Since this is our game, there is no reason why there should not be a 100 per cent support of the student body, the weather being reasonable, so let's have the entire school at Greensboro rooting for the team next Saturday.

LENOIR-RHYNE WINS OVER LOCAL SOUAD

Quakers Play Best Game of Season But Lack Punch to Score.

FOX SCORES LONE TALLY

Outplaying their opponents for four straight quarters and waging a strong defensive game, the Guilford Quakers traveled to Hickory on November 1 to drop the first and only night game of the season to the Lenoir-Rhyne Bears, 14 to 6. The Quakers, handicapped by the superior weight of the Bears, who averaged about 190 pounds on the line, put on an offensive that kept the ball in Lenoir-Rhyne territory for the entire first half and most of the second. Fox, Quaker fullback, played his best game of the season and starred in the Quaker backfield in all three departments, run-ning, passing, and kicking. The Bears ning, passing, and kicking. The Bears chalked up their first tally early in the third quarter and scored again in the closing minutes of the game, while the Quakers scored just before the final

The Sultan got sore on his harem And invented a scheme for to scare 'em caught him a mouse Which he loosed in his house:

(The confusion is called haremscarem.)

DAVIS SCORES WIN

New and Probable All-Time Record for Quaker Course.

CLOSE SCORE OF 27 TO 28

Edgar Meibohm Is Barely Nosed Out by Davis of State in Blanket Finish.

feated for the first time on Saturday, November 9, when it met the State College harriers as part of the Quaker home-coming day celebration.

A fast-stepping State team which had previously been defeated by the Quakers won the meet by one point as they garnered 27 to Guilford's 28. In winning, State clipped a minute and 19 seconds off the old record of 17 minutes and 45 seconds to establish a new and probable all-time record of 16 minutes nd 25 seconds for the Quaker threemile course.

Davis, State's flashy cross-country star, led the pack at the finish line as he breezed across one step ahead of Edgar Meibohm, who has been the out standing star for the Quakers during the current season. The rest of the the current season. The rest of the speedsters were strung out in the following order: Bowers, of Guilford, third; Alvin Meibohm, of Guilford, fourth; Fallon, of State, fifth; Holloway, of State, sixth; Steimette, of State, seventh; and Bornous, of State, eighth. Ninth to fourteenth place positions were taken by Guilford men in the following order: Hockett, Taylor, Blair, Nunnery Reynolds, and Murray.

The race developed into a spectacle

when Meibohm and Davis raced down the stretch neck and neck, and it the stretch neck and neck, and it wasn't until the judges' decision was rendered that the crowd was certain of the winner. Meibohm, however, tired at the winner. Meibohm, however, tired at the finish and was evidently beaten by a small margin as Davis came through

FRAZIER-SMITH Sporting Goods Company

Distributors for
A. G. Spalding & Bros.
Sporting and Athletic Equipment 125 South Greene Street GREENSBORO, N. C.

College Men!

DRESS UP

Thanksgiving

Quality Suit or Topcoat

for $25 at

Younts De Boe Co.