DR. A. D. BEITTEL MAKES FIRST CHAPEL ADDRESS

New Professor Emphasizes the Importance of Intellectual Honesty and Curiosity as Mental Qualities.

MUSICAL PROGRAMS PRESENTED

Dr. A. D. Beittel, Guilford's newest faculty member, made his first appearance before the whole student body as chapel speaker on the morning of January 27. His talk concerned the make-up of the ideal college student, with emphasis on the qualities of intellectual curiosity and intellectual honesty, which he considers essential. He developed the lack of these faculties in the equipment of the average college graduate of today.

Other highlights of the chapel programs of the past two weeks include a musical novelty program presented by Will Lindsay, of Greensboro, who performed on the harmonica, piano, and banjo, and rendered several vocal selections; a discussion of London, yesterday and today, by Dr. J. R. Miller, of the Greensboro college faculty; and a talk by Dr. Wesley Taylor, of Greensboro.

TAP WATER MAINS IN HAMILTON LAKES FOR NEW SUPPLY

WPA Grant Permits Guilford to Secure Use of Adequate Source.

TO INSTALL LARGER TANK

Four Fire Hydrants Will Be Placed on Campus to Insure Safety of Buildings.

An additional water supply for Guilford college and employes of the college, has been made possible in the authorization by the Greensboro City Council of a contract for the college with the town of Hamilton Lakes to make a water main connection with the supply from Greensboro. Complete connections are expected within the next two months.

A recent WPA grant to the college will facilitate connection on the west terminus of the Hamilton Lake line of the main, which will extend west on the Friendly Road past the two new faculty houses and across the athletic field.

With addition of the water supply a new tank, holding 40,000 gallons, or four times the capacity of the old tank, will be placed adjacent to the one in present use. This will strengthen the pressure and also contribute to the provision of four new hydrants to be placed in the most needed areas for better fire control and safety.

DR. CLYDE A. MILNER SPEAKS IN WINSTON

Guilford President Delivers Commencement
Address to Mid-Term Graduates of Three High Schools.

EDUCATION IS SUBJECT OF TALK

Dr. Clyde A. Milner delivered the commencement address to mid-term graduates of three Winston-Salem high schools last Friday night, speaking on the subject, "Education for a Changing World."

Reynolds high school, North Winston high, and South Winston high in a combined commencement exercise at which 95 degrees were conferred, Dr. Milner pointed out that while the world is changing, the real values of life are constant. Urging the graduates to seek the constant values, he suggested four helps: Learn to do thoroughly and significantly the task at hand; recognize that the moral and spiritual world is unchanged; train for service to fellow-men rather than a selfish easy profession; and grasp a knowledge of the growing sense of the reverent and of the new appreciation of spiritual life.

Guilford's president also addressed two other groups last week. Tuesday night he spoke at the Leaders' meeting of the White Oak Y. M. C. A., and Thursday night he was guest speaker at the annual banquet meeting of the Burlington Chamber of Commerce.

Next Friday afternoon Dr. Milner will address the Alumni of the Mount Airy chapter and Friday evening he will be the principle speaker on the special Ladies' Night program of the Mount Airy Kiwanis club.
