

CHAPEL COMMITTEE TO MAKE CHANGES IN YEAR'S PROGRAM

Classes to Be Seated for First Time Without Respect of Sex.

STUDENTS TO SUGGEST

Mr. Samuel Haworth is Chairman of Committee; Beittel, Weis, Dorey, and Ruble Are Members.

The chapel list which appeared on the bulletin board in the lobby of Memorial hall Friday morning, September 18, was the first in the history of the college to seat the classes alphabetically without respect to sex. This change was brought about by the efforts of the faculty-student chapel committee, which in itself is a novelty designed to minimize student dissatisfaction with the old chapel set-up.

The chapel has long held an important place in the life of the college, and the faculty have looked upon it as an integral part in the education of the students. In addition to the student representation on the chapel board, the student body has been urged to make suggestions concerning improvements of the system.

A number of student organizations have been approached with a view to being responsible for one or more programs. Increased singing of both sacred and secular songs is planned to carry out the committee's plan for increased student participation in chapel programs.

At its meeting on Thursday, September 24, the committee considered one of the chapel comments current on campus—that greater quality and less quantity is eminently desirable.

The membership of the chapel group are Samuel Haworth, chairman; Drs. A. D. Beittel and E. H. F. Weis, faculty members; and Frank Dorey and Katherine Ruble, representatives of the student body.

GUILFORD COLLEGE CHOIR HAS LARGE MEMBERSHIP

Dr. Weis Begins Second Year as Director; Committee Members Are Elected September 18.

TRIP TO FLORIDA IS RUMORED

The A Capella Choir of Guilford College started its ninth season last week with 76 students seeking membership. This nearly doubles that of last year.

On Friday, September 18, the members of the choir committee were elected by the group. Those getting the positions were: Senior Representative, L. T. New; Junior Representative, Betty Trotter; Sophomore Representative, Alvin Meibohm; Freshman Representative, Mary Ellen Daw; Representative-at-large, Bill Grigg; Representative to the Student Affairs Board, Keitt Sawyer.

Dr. Ezra H. F. Weis, head of the Department of Music, is beginning his second year as director of the choir. It is rumored that the choir is considering a trip to Florida during the Christmas vacation.

Class '36 Elects Officers

The Class of '36 elected on May 21, 1936, as its officers for the next five years, the following: James Fulp, Kernersville, N. C., president; Julia Cannon, Guilford College, secretary; Daryl Kent, South Glen Falls, N. Y., vice-president; Edgar Meibohm, Greensboro, chairman of gift committee; Misses Mary Bryant, Woodland, and Anna Naomi Binford, Guilford College, joint historians.

MISS DOVIE CHENAULT

DR. MILNER VISITS TERCENTENARY FETE

Guilford's President Invited to Attend Harvard's Anniversary Celebration.

CEREMONY LASTS 3 DAYS

Dr. Clyde A. Milner, President of Guilford College, recently attended the celebration of Harvard's Tercentenary year as a representative of the college. The three-day official ceremony, held from September 15 to 18 at Cambridge, Mass., is only part of an extensive program which has been going on for a month or longer.

Dr. Milner is one of several college presidents invited by the Harvard authorities to attend the formal rites, which included various academic processions, a speech by President Roosevelt, and other similar functions.

At the conclusion of his stay at the university, Dr. Milner proceeded to New York city, where he attended several alumni meetings and conferred with local members of the Centennial committee.

WORK ON STUDENT HUT WILL BEGIN THIS FALL

Centennial Project, Begun Last Spring by the Student Body, to Become a Reality, Dr. Milner Says.

The "Y" Hut, the project of the student body for the Centennial year begun last spring, is about to become a reality. Dr. Clyde A. Milner, president of the college, announced last week that the money for the student center, which is to be made from the old laundry between Founder's and Mary Hobbs' Halls, has been raised. He said that actual work on the building would begin early this fall.

The money for the project was raised through the giving of entertainments by the different organizations and by individual subscriptions of the students.

The class of 1936 gave as its class gift the brick fireplace in the Hut. The repairs necessary on the building include a hardwood floor, a new roof, a Colonial door, the annexation of a kitchenette.

G. C. HAS ADDITION OF SIX MEMBERS TO 1936-37 STAFF

Four Newcomers to Be Added to Faculty, Two to Administration.

MISS CHENAULT DIETITIAN

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hodges to Head Departments of Physical Education; S. Smith Teaches English.

Six new members have been added to the Guilford College staff for the Centennial year. Of the six, four have been added to the faculty and two to the administrative branch of the college organization. Among the newcomers are the following: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hodges, who will be, respectively the heads of men's and women's physical education; Miss Dovie Chenaault, succeeding Mrs. Eloise Postlethwaite as assistant professor of Home Economics and dietitian; Mr. Samra Smith, '34, instructor in English and assistant to the librarian; Miss Julia Cannon, '36, assistant to the treasurer; and Mr. David Parsons, '33, secretary to the Centennial committee.

New Coach Is Ex-Tar Heel

Hodges is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, where he starred in football and track, attaining the rank of All-State tackle. After his graduation he was added to the coaching staff at Oak Ridge Military Institute.

Mrs. Hodges is a graduate of the Woman's College, University of North Carolina. During her undergraduate career she was prominent among the school athletes as well as the campus socialites. She is understudying Mrs. John P. Anderson at Guilford this year.

Miss Chenaault is a graduate of the University of Alabama, and holds a Master's degree from Columbia, where she was assistant dietitian of the University Commons for two years. In addition to her work at Columbia, she has had considerable experience in elementary and secondary school canteens in Alabama.

Parsons Smith, and Miss Cannon are all graduates of Guilford College. The two men were both recipients of the Haverford scholarship, and both hold Master's degrees from that college. Miss Cannon is one of last June's graduates who was a student assistant in the Treasurer's office during her undergraduate career.

Fine to Be Charged On Overdue Books

Beginning September 20 a fine of two cents a day will be charged on overdue books. Twenty-five cents for the first hour and ten cents for each hour thereafter will be charged on all late reserve books. Any student having a fine, either for reserve or overdue books, will not be allowed to check out books until his account is settled.

CAMPUS EMBROILED IN CONTROVERSY OVER ELECTIONS

Republican, Democrat and Socialist Factions Formed at Guilford—Meetings Held.

BLAIR, PERIAN LEADERS

Student Straw Vote is Planned as Climax of Campaign; Partisan Groups Seek Converts.

The Guilford campus is involved this fall in one of the hottest political campaigns in the history of the college, by courtesy of the joint Y's. As the result of an inspiration which originated with Y. M. C. A. President John Bradshaw, the joint organization has set in motion a system by which the campus is divided, according to inclination, into Republican, Democrat, and Socialist parties. These political groups will devote the time between now and November 3 to the task of attempting to enroll the inert majority in one organization or another.

The scheme was inaugurated at a meeting held Thursday evening, September 17, in Memorial Hall. At this time Charlie Blair was chosen by the Republicans to act as their leader in the forthcoming campaign. John Perian was selected to head the Democratic party organization, and Ralph Spillman is Comrade No. 1 of the Socialists.

The meeting held the following Thursday evening was turned over to the campus New Dealers, who presented as the mainstay of their program Lawyer J. T. Carruthers, Young Democratic candidate for the state legislature from the Greensboro area. Similar meetings will be held from week to week by other campus political clubs.

A poll of campus opinion through the medium of a straw vote shortly preceding the national elections is planned as the culminating feature of the project, which many feel is likely to be the most successful of any launched by the Y's in recent years.

LIBRARY ACKNOWLEDGES PAST SUMMER'S GIFTS

Individuals and Organizations Donate Books, Periodicals, and Pictures to Library Collection.

BOOKS ADDED TO FICTION GROUP

The Library wishes to acknowledge the following gifts which were sent to the college this summer: Dr. William Wolff, of Philadelphia, Pa., contributed magazines for the chemistry department. Dr. Anna Gove, retired physician of Woman's College, gave 24 books and 24 periodicals. Miss Jean Levering, of Guilford College, donated art books and pictures, five books, and 258 periodicals.

The Library now has "Honey in the Horn," by H. L. Davis, which won the Harper prize; "The South Looks at Its Post," by B. B. Kendrick and O. M. Arnett; "Sparkenbroke," by Charles Morgan; "The Nazi Dictatorship," by Frederick Schumann; two books by D. C. Peattie, "Almanac for Moderns," and "Singing in the Wilderness" (Audobon); "How to Live," by Arnold Bennett, and "The Power of Non-violence," by Richard B. Gregg.

College Given German Books

The Modern Language Department announces the gift of three German books, to be awarded as prizes for excellence in German. The gift was made by the German Consulate in New Orleans, through the courtesy of Dr. Wendler and Dr. Stahlberg.

JAMES C. CORNETTE ATTENDS MUNICH U.

Guilford Student to Spend Junior Year in Study in Germany.

WINS A SCHOLARSHIP

James Clark Cornette, Jr., '38, sailed September 13 for Germany, preparatory to enrolling at the University of Munich on October 1. Cornette, who attended Guilford College last year, was one of the winning competitors for a scholarship entitling him to spend his junior year in Munich.

The scholarship was organized on a nation-wide basis, and Guilford's prodigy stood high in a field of some 30 winners.

The record made by Cornette during his two years at Guilford was characterized by uniform scholastic brilliance. He made the honor roll consistently, and had one of the best quality averages in the student body.

SENIORS SELECT HEPLER AS CLASS PRESIDENT

Beatrice Rohr, President, and Keitt Sawyer, Vice-President, Are Chosen to Lead Juniors.

Officers for the coming year were chosen by the junior and senior classes at their first regular meetings of the 1936-1937 school year, held Thursday, September 17. The class of '37 selected Claude Hepler, Betsy Bulla, Elinor Webster, and Kendrick Vestal to serve respectively as president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer of Guilford's most dignified group of undergraduates.

Among the juniors, Beatrice Rohr, elected vice-president of the class at a meeting held late last spring, became president on the resignation of Lyndon Wilson. Keitt Sawyer was named to take Miss Rohr's place as vice-president of the class of '38.

This Year's Freshmen Furnish Abundant Proof of Evolution

One hundred and twenty-three freshmen from as far away as Japan and as near as Guilford College entered the class of 1940. Famous Freshmen? Guilford has some who already have had notations placed by their names for such varied abilities as singing, wooling, knowledge of musical instruments, public speaking, and aptitude for applying cosmetics in a becoming fashion.

Eight states and three foreign nations are represented by this cosmopolitan group, there being one student each from Japan, Maryland, and Iowa; two from Connecticut and Massachusetts; three from Virginia and New York; nine from New Jersey; and 95 from North Carolina. Naturally Guilford County leads all North Carolina counties with 59 recruits; Alamance follows with eight; Forsyth and Wayne, four each; Randolph, three; Rockingham, two; all others together, 15. Approximately 30 day students ride to the campus from Greensboro and spend a portion of the day here sleeping and reading and wishing they had something new to eat.

Among Guilford's 90 odd dormitory freshmen Kenneth Morris deserves practically as much as notice as the 6:30 breakfast bell for his statement, "I don't like to do something without any purpose in it!" Rats also furnish mystery in the ever present Bertha Fitzgerald, a future medico, who chatters with everyone in general, and Phyllis Weinberg, who gargles every
