On Friday night, January 22, the first affair to take place in the new Student Affairs building was held when a small group of 16 students and Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Beittel met for an evening of entertainment. Before an open fire dancing and numerous games were enjoyed. Refreshments of punch and cakes were served.

The presence of Miss Katherine McHale, director of the American Association of University Women, in Greensboro last week was the occasion for three social functions. At noon Miss McHale was honored by a luncheon given by Miss Margaret Edwards of the faculty of W. C. U. N. C. Representatives from W. C. U. N. C., Greensboro College, and Guilford College were present. During the afternoon a tea was given in honor of Miss McHale at Greensboro College. Among those attending were Mrs. Raymond Binford, Miss Eva Campbell, and Mrs. Clyde A. Milner, who presided at the tea table. In the evening a banquet was held, at which Miss McHale, the guest speaker, outlined the program of the A. A. U. W. Those present at the banquet from Guilford College were Mrs. Clyde A. Milner, Miss Eva Campbell, Mrs. A. I. Newlin, Miss Katherine Ricks, Mrs. Raymond Binford, Mrs. E. F. H. Weis, and Miss Virginia Ragsdale.

On Wednesday evening, January 20, Mrs. Clyde A. Milner and Miss Virginia Levering attended the first annual Y. W. C. A. banquet held at Chapel Hill under the auspices of the University Y. W. C. A., of which Miss Mamie Rose McGinnis, a graduate of Guilford, '35, is president. Mrs. Milner, speaker for the evening, presented a talk on "The Heritage of the Y. W. C. A."

The faculty home evenings were revived on last Sunday night, when Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Binford and Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Beittel opened their homes for the students. Interesting and vital subjects were discussed. By these visits it is hoped that the faculty and students will be brought closer together.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer C. Holt announce the birth of a boy, Palmer G. Holt, Jr., born last week.

Local members of the Society of Friends attended a banquet held in Founders' hall Saturday evening, February 6. The coming Friends' World Conference, to be held in September, 1937, provided the main topic for discussion. Mrs. Passmore Elkington was the speaker of the evening, and Prof. S. L. Harworth acted as toastmaster.

Guilford College's Y. W. C. A. cabinet briefly entertained the Y. W. C. A. cabinet of Bennett College for Women at a social meeting held at the home of Mrs. A. D. Beittel, adviser of the local council. The evening's program was abridged by the fact that the guests were late in arriving, having gotten misled, if not seriously lost, on the way.

Sunday afternoon socials in the Student Hut are planned as frequent future features of campus life by the "Y" cabinets. Two have already been held, on January 24 and 31, at which the lack of furniture was found to constitute no considerable drawback. That there was none last Sunday was due to the simultaneous absence from the campus of Becky Weant and Dave Stafford, social chairmen of the two councils.

VOCAL SOLOS FEATURED AT FINE ARTS CLUB

Trotter Gives Piano Solo; Parker Gives Talk on Musical Current Events.

The Fine Arts club met Monday night, February 8, at the music building and enjoyed a musical program, which consisted of:

- Musical current events; "Sunrise and Sunset" (Spross)—Cora Worth Parker. "Still as the Night" (Bohm), "Such a Little Fellow" (Dechmont)—Helen Potts. "A Little Pink Rose" (Bond), "Just a Wearyin' for You" (Bond)—Betsy Lucke. Italian Concerto (Bach)—Betty Trotter.

A student at Holy Cross submitted a rather thin notebook for a junior English elective, with the following verse on the cover:

The turtle has a tough shell,
Its meat is lush and tender.
And so your judgment of this book
By its cover never render.
The Prof, who is something of a poet himself, replied as follows:
The turtle far outweighs it shell;
It has more meat and bulk as well.
I fear these lush and tender findings
Seem slim beneath such heavy bindings.

CHOIR PLANS TO SING IN BURLINGTON SUNDAY

Years Third Choral Program is Sponsored by Burlington Chapter of Guilford Alumni Association.

The Guilford College A Capella choir will sing in Burlington tomorrow under the sponsorship of the Guilford Alumni association of that city. Arrangements for the concert were made by William Lee Rudd, president of the local association.

This will be the third concert presented by the choir this year. The season's first appearance was at Guilford high school on Friday, February 5, in the early afternoon; and the second took place the following Sunday in the meeting house at Springfield, N. C. Another concert, originally planned for the Friends' meeting house in High Point on Sunday evening, was abandoned as a consequence of the choir's decision that the Springfield program would, in all probability, be attended by members of the High Point and Archdale meetings.

Mr. Frank Burns Discusses Movies
Mr. Frank Burns, manager of the Carolina Theatre, led a discussion on current movies, their popularity, dislike, value, and interest at the class meetings of the sophomores and freshmen Thursday morning, February 11. Mr. Burns' conversation with the underclassmen, definitely advertised as not being a speech, was very enlightening to all those present.
