"Too many college students are premature agnostics and atheists," declared John B. Kennedy, NBC political commentator and former associate editor of Collier's, speaking at the Associated Collegiate Press convention in Louisville, Ky. "They are often accused of being materialists but are really skeptics."

In his address, Mr. Kennedy stated that youth in college today "wants security rather than success," and is forming new social, economic, and governmental concepts constantly.—Los Angeles Junior Collegian.

Mrs. Raymond Binford was hostess to the Art club on Tuesday afternoon, March 2. Mrs. Algje Newlin gave the program which was a comparison of Da Vinci, the painter and sculptor; Shumann, the composer; and Browning, the poet.

On Tuesday, March 2, Dr. Clyde Milner was the main speaker at a banquet of the Business Woman's club of the Y. W. C. A. in High Point. On Wednesday, March 3, Dr. Milner spoke on "Building Attitudes" at the luncheon meeting of the Woman's club of Winston-Salem.

A social meeting of the Faculty Wives club was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. F. C. Shepard on Friendly Road.

On Friday, March 5, Mrs. Clyde Milner gave a tea at her home in honor of Mrs. Joseph Hietel, of Merchantville, N. Y., and Miss Hattie Osten, of New Britain, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Furnas have as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Furnas, of Media, Pa.

On March 9, Mrs. Clyde Milner was guest speaker at the supper meeting of the Charlotte meeting of the A.A.U.W. Her subject was "Psychology for Normal People." On March 10, Mrs. Milner spoke at the Century club of Burlington on the topic "We Create," using examples from her classes in appreciation of art and Children's Literature.

A student at S. M. U., working on his master's degree, intoxicates grasshoppers by getting them drunk on alcoholized lettuce, and he observes that human-like, they pass out and revive later. The nice thing about 'em is that they don't hicough or get sick. He hasn't discovered a test for hang-over yet.—Los Angeles Junior Collegian.
