STUDENTS WONDER WHERE THEIR NICKELS GO

One-Third of Students Advocate Change in Student Budget; Two-Thirds Approve.

ALLOTMENTS QUESTIONED

Bigger Allotment for Social Committee Advocated; Opinion Runs High on Entertainment Course and A. A.

Statistics compiled from cryptic comments and figures on "dope" sheets handed into the appropriations committee during last Monday's chapel, show that student opinion, interest, and intelligence have hit a new high for 1938. According to figures, compiled by the committee's president and wizard of finance, Charlotte Parker, opinion for the allotments ran highest in the entertainment course, social committee and Men's Athletic association, with others close behind.

Thirty-two neglected wall flowers voted for an increase in funds for the social committee activities, none voting for a decrease. Entertainment course

STUDENTS INTERESTED IN A. S. U. TO MEET TODAY

Will Discuss Union's Program of Peace, Economic Security, Equality and Self-Expression.

STUDENTS AND OTHERS IN GROUP

A group of students interested in the problems of America will meet this afternoon in the Student Affairs hut to discuss the possibility of affiliating with the American Student Union. Guilfordian members of the organization, which has been meeting informally for some weeks, are Charlotte Parker, Jynette LaRosa, Milton Anderson, Ruth Hopkins, Flora Huffman, Thornton Conrow, and Joe Carter. Also interested are Mrs. Harry Wallace and Mrs. Bard Logan, of Greensboro, and Fred Myers and Miss Jones, of Chapel Hill.

The American Student Union is a non-partisan, non-political organization of students with a four-fold program: peace, economic security, equality, and self-expression. The motivating idea of the organization is to make possible a nationally organized program for the united students of the nation's campuses who are interested in active participation in the struggle for real democracy.

The A. S. U. originated with the amalgamation of the Student League for Industrial Democracy and the National Student League, in December, 1935. Since that time it has carried on an active program for peace. Outstanding among its activities has been the student strike against war which has been conducted during the month of April for the last four years. Beginning with 25,000 students in 1935 the student strike grew to a million participants last year.

In the field of economic security the Union has taken action for the passage of the American Youth Act, which provides for an extended system of Federal aid to American youth, both to those in schools and to those who are unemployed. The A. S. U. has also concerned itself with establishing student cooperatives on many campuses, both independently and in cooperation with other groups.

Faculty Members Will Discuss Four Aspects of Quakerism.

SUNDAYS IN LIBRARY

Inaugurating a comprehensive lecture series Dr. Clyde A. Milner, president of Guilford College, and college faculty members, Dr. Russell Pope, Ernestine C. Milner, and Dorothy Lloyd Gilbert will each speak on varying aspects of Quakerism during four consecutive Sunday afternoons, beginning February 27.

"The Rise of Quakerism," given on February 27, will be prepared and presented by President Milner as the first of the lectures. The second, "Quietism in Seventeenth Century France; Jeanne Marie Guyon," given on March 6, will be delivered by Dr. Pope.

"Mysticism in English Poetry," the lecture to be presented March 13, will be given by Miss Gilbert. "Psychology of Mysticism," the final lecture in the series, will be delivered by Mrs. Milner, of the psychology department.

"The lectures will draw a parallel between the religious ferment which expressed itself in part as Quakerism in seventeenth century England and the movement in France, called 'quietness,' with special attention to poetry, psychology, and the mystical way," announced Publicity Chairman David Parsons, Jr.

JUNIOR CLASS PLANS PRESENTATION OF PLAY

"Three Taps at Twelve," by Allen Saunders, Chosen by Class of '39.

Spawmed in the storm of incoherent pros and cons that erupted in last Monday night's meeting of the Dramatic Council, Jynette La Rosa's new brain-child is rapidly taking the form of a three-act, double-barrelled, blood-and-thunder melodrama of the old school. Designed to promulgate sub-zero chills up and down the collective spine of the student body (and incidentally to raise money for the erection of the new gym) the play, Allen Saunders' "Three Taps at Twelve" promises to dish up a melodramatic hash of heart-throbs and gore. Scheduled to come off on the night of February 26, the play will be directed by Milton Anderson and will include in its cast Richard Earle, George Wilson, Jynette La Rosa, Betty Locke, Kathleen Leslie, Ned Johnson, Carl Wolfe, Oscar Weyll, and Lyndon White.

FACULTY THERMOMETER NEARS BOILING POINT

Professors Lead in Campaign for Bricks; Approximately 40 Per Cent of Total Goal Has Been Reached.

ARCHDALE IS HOTTEST DORM

The campaign for 300,000 bricks is going full blast with the thermometers between a simmer and a boil. The student committee which is soliciting the $4,500 worth of building material is finding all the students interested in moving from the north pole to the tropics which we might facetiously call the move from the old to the new gym. Of the thermometers that of the faculty who are always red hot on issues is registering a temperature which is toward the boiling point. As the paper goes to press the faculty hits a new high of 76 per cent. The student block is steamed up to the highest peak of Archdale which august and windy dormitory is registering 47 per cent. New North and Old North tie for positions as next fastest crawlers up the little hallow tube with 37 per cent of their allotment of thousands of bricks accounted for. Founder's with the help of West Porch and even though many of the enthusiastic members are still writing letters to mama and papa, hits a temperate-torrid zone for 36 per cent.

Old South is not far behind on the wide red track with a 34 per cent of pledges and cash for bricks. Maybe they do their propagandizing at the cocoa co-op. Yankee Stadium has 25 per cent of her territory interested and if you consider the good old Yankee Stadium tradition you just can't expect anything but heat from that end of

HENRY ADAMS TO LEAD DISCUSSION

Guilford Institute Will Also Present Emergency Peace Campaign Head.

PLAN SIX WEEK PROGRAM

The Guilford Institute, a regular yearly function of the college, community, and church, held its first session at the Meeting House last Sunday night, at which time two college students, Charlotte Parker and Dave Stafford, together with two faculty members and two community leaders led a panel discussion on the subject, "The Christian's Attitude Toward Organized Labor."

Tomorrow night Henry Adams, labor organizer, will be the speaker at the Institute and lead an open discussion. Mr. Adams spoke in chapel several weeks ago and his remarks at that time provoked a great deal of discussion among the students.

A week from tomorrow night Ray Newton, head of the Emergency Peace campaign, and secretary of the American Friends Service committee, will present "Vital Issues in Present Legislation," and then lead the discussion which will follow his presentation.

CAMPUS "CATS" INCREASE YUMPH OF G-MAN FETE

Swingster Furman and His Guilfordians Provide Hot Licks for Club Dance.

NEW GYM TO BENEFIT

Suave Monogramist Butch Wilson Is Charge d'Affaires for Swing Session; Uncle Push Morris to Be Featured.

Campus excitement has been running high the past week over the biggest event on the year's social calendar, the event being the annual Monogram club dance, to be held in the library tonight from 7:45 to 10:45 o'clock.

Dr. Willie Furman, his faculty and board of trustees will provide noise in the modern manner. Stout, senatorial "Butch" Wilson, leading political big wig among the broad chested "G" wearers, recently in a strictly non-confidential interview pointed out that Dr. Furman's band would give a definite "yumph" to this dance. "The annual Monogram club dance is the social highlight every year," stated shrewd Mr. Wilson. "This year, as we did last year, we have engaged renowned Willie Furman and his swingsters for the brawl," he said, hastening to add that the affair would be semi-formal with all the conventional rules being enforced. "Willie," said political Mr. Wilson, "has recruited his orchestra, reputed to be the best in this locality, from the immediate college vicinity and the larger neighboring cities. Uncle Push Morris has hinted that he will do some specialty numbers as a treat. Oscar "Catfish" Weyll will also take the spotlight."

Business man Wilson stated that surplus funds from the dance would go to the building of our new super gym.

JEROLD FREDERIC TO PRESENT CONCERT HERE

Great Student of Liszt Was Child Prodigy and Received Bachelor's Degree at 17.

TO APPEAR AT MEMORIAL HALL

Guilford College-community entertainment course presents Jerold Frederic, pianist, in concert in Memorial Hall Saturday evening, February 12, at 8 o'clock in the fourth number on the current series, Prof. W. O. Suter, chairman of the entertainment committee, has announced.

Descriptions of Frederic include such phrases as "legitimate successor to a musical realm which lay open to the first bold invader since the advent of the twentieth century," "genius of a new order," and "incarnation of Liszt himself."

Press releases on the young musician indicate his breadth of training, which is attributed to travel. He has visited countries throughout Europe and spent two years in Syria and Palestine. "Beginning his study on the piano at nine, he soon astonished his teachers and friends. They declared he was a 'born musician'."

His first recital was at eleven; two years later he toured much of the United States as a boy prodigy. After academic study he won four successive competitive scholarships and, after graduation, took a post graduate course which obtained for him the Bachelor's degree at the age of 17.
