Student Governments Press Honor System Debate; No Solution

Implementing Suggestions Discussed by Student Units; Retention Favored

After two weeks of intermittent discussion and several conferences of various student units, the controversy over the Honor system has not yet been settled. Prompted by suggestions from the student body and from within the associations, the Student Government associations have compiled a list of suggestions for the implementing of the present system.

In meetings of the associations, the dormitory units, day students, and private groups, the suggestions have been submitted for open discussion. At this writing no definite decisions had been reached. The retention of some form of an honor system, however, has been endorsed by the majority of students who have expressed an opinion.

The suggestions submitted by the Student government follow:

1. All examinations, quizzes, and tests are conducted under the honor system administered by the Student Government associations.

2. Under the honor system no person, either student or faculty member acts as official proctor during examinations. The responsibility for the proper conduct of all examinations rests upon each student.

3. Each incoming student is required to sign a pledge accepting the honor system and all of its implications.

4. At the end of all examinations each student shall sign a pledge (a) that he has neither given nor received aid in the examination and (b) that if he has seen anyone else do so, he will notify a representative of the Student Government associations within 24 hours.

5. The Student Government associations receive and investigate any report of a violation.

6. If the accused person be found guilty, the Student Government associations will recommend to the faculty that for a first offense, the student be given "F" in the examination or test in which dishonest methods were employed; that for a second offense, the student be given "F" in the course in which the second offense occurred; that for a third offense, the student be dropped from the student body for not less than one-half semester.

7. The Student Government associations earnestly desire that every Guilford student should live up to his obligation to observe the details of the honor system and not to rely too heavily on the enforcement of penalties on offenders.

Jacques Hardre Called For Service in France

Jacques Hardre, instructor in French and German at Guilford from 1937 to 1939, has been ordered to France for military duty, it was announced in Greensboro last week. M. Hardre, a French citizen, left for New York October 20.

Hardre, the son of M. Rene Hardre, professor of French at Woman's college took his A.B. at Guilford in 1936 after graduating from the Lycee Lakanal in France. He told a GUILFORDIAN reporter just before his departure that no orders other than those for his reporting to New York. He will be stationed in France at Le Havre for three months as a member of the 129 infantry.

Board of Trustees Will Convene Here; Dr. Milner to Speak

President Will Outline Five Year Improvement Program Before Executive Committee

Meeting in regular session, the Board of Trustees of Guilford college will convene on November 3 in its 3rd meeting of the current year. The board meeting will be held in the Student Affairs building and will open immediately after the regular student chapel which will be addressed by Elbert Russell, board member and dean the school of religion at Duke University.

At the morning session of the board Dr. Milner will outline the achievements of the college in the past five years.

Present at the open meeting will be several faculty members and the executive committee of the alumni association composed of William Alpheus White, Jr., president, Katherine C. Ricks, secretary, Scott Parker, Jr., treasurer, Robert Jamieson, Ernest M. Scarborough, Thomas Ashcraft, Murray C. Johnson, John G. Frazier, Edgar H. McBain, Elizabeth W. Yates, and Paul S. Nunn. Also present at the morning session will be representatives from each of the eight North Carolina quarterly meetings. They are: W. Jasper Thompson, Woodland; Mildred Marlette, Graham; Earl Edgerton, Seven Springs; B. Clyde Shore, Winston-Salem; N. C. English, Thomasville; Gurney Robertson, White Plains; Hope Hubbard, Farmer, and Holmes Wilhelm, East Bend.

The executive session of the board, which will be held in the afternoon, will be featured by a speech by Dr. Milner outlining a proposed program of improvement in physical equipment of the college during the next five years. Indications are that three of the first proposed additions to the physical equipment of the school will be the erection of a new gymnasium and two new athletic fields, one for boys and one for girls.

It is understood that the necessary money for all three of these projects has been raised and that favorable action by the board is all that is lacking for the starting of immediate construction.

English Department Makes Course Changes

Plans for More Thorough Training Announced By Furnas

Mr. William Edgerton presented the subject of by-laws for the Cercle Francais at its first meeting in the hut last Friday night, October 20. The Cercle ratified the suggestion and named Grace Beittel to draw up a tentative constitution.

This year being the tricentenary of Racine, famous French dramatist, Dr. Russell Pope suggested that they study one of his plays as a possible chapel program.

Officers elected by the small gathering were Kathleen Leslie, president; Rachel Fortune, vice-president; Bernice Merritt, secretary-treasurer, and Rosaleen Leslie to continue program chairman. Mary Caulfield and David Parker were named joint heads of the refreshment committee.

New members approved by Dr. Pope and Mr. Edgerton received personal invitations to the second meeting which took place in the hut last night.

W. A. A. Frolic Tonight Scheduled for 7:30

The W. A. A. is sponsoring an informal dance, a Farmer's Frolic, in the barn tonight from 7:30 to 10:30. Square dancing will be the main diversion of the evening, and the association urges everyone who attends to wear his oldest clothes. The admission will be 10 cents a couple or a stag. The boys are urged to bring dates and the girls not having dates are also urged to come. Appropriate refreshments will be served during the intermission.

Milner to Speak at "Y" Installation

Change in Policy To Involve Voluntary Membership

With the establishment of voluntary rather than automatic student membership the Y. M. and Y. W. organizations have instituted a complete change in policy this fall in order to stimulate more specific than general interest and participation in the programs of the two organizations.

This membership will be accomplished by singing the Y pledge, filling out an interest blank and attending the recognition service tomorrow night. At this service Dr. Milner will speak and there will be music by Dr. Emerick and a double quartet. After the program there will be a moonlight hike.

Already this year the Y's have been responsible for many student activities. There have been several interesting discussions in the hut on such subjects as the arms embargo, world peace, the international situation, Communism, and the honor system. Vesper services on Sunday evenings have included a talk by Dr. Furnas, one by E. Daryl Kent, a moonlight migration to Hamilton Lake, and an evening of singing. The hike to the Battleground, a revival made last year of an old custom, was another successful affair of the joint Y's. The Big Sister organization, the open faculty homes on Sunday evenings, the party given at Founders early this fall for the girls and the Sunday morning classes in Mem for discussion and enlightenment on important problems are just four other activities sponsored by the Y's. Plans for a dance Thanksgiving night and open house meetings at the hut are underway.

News Briefs

Furnas Speaks

Dr. Philip W. Furnas, head of the English department, has been asked to speak before the meeting of the North Carolina Folklore society in Raleigh December 5.

Dr. Furnas will give a review of his thesis written at Harvard university on the folklore and ballads of the Serbo-Croatian countries of Europe.

Biology Club

The Biology club held its second meeting of the year Wednesday and viewed an educational motion picture, "Radium." Tobey Laiten addressed the body on the life and works of Madame Curie, and Stewart Aiston reviewed a recent biological publication.

Sunday Morning Meetings

An interested group of Guilford students has been meeting regularly every

Homecoming Plans Completed; Ricks to Make Address

Football, Cross-Country, and Hockey on Program; A Capella Choir to Sing

James Hoge Ricks, Judge of Juvenile court and Domestic relations in Richmond, Va., and member of the Guilford board of trustees, will be the principal speaker at the annual Homecoming day celebration here on November 4. Judge Ricks will speak at the special chapel session in the morning.

Other plans for the day have been announced by J. Wilmer Pancoast, chairman of the Homecoming day committee, and will feature a football game between Guilford and High Point on Hobbs field.

Judge Ricks, a graduate in the class of 1905, is the brother of Katharine Ricks, librarian. The a capella choir will sing at the assembly which he addresses and student organizations will be recognized.

An unusually large crowd is anticipated for the day's events which will center around the football game and the alumni meetings in the afternoon. Plans are going forward rapidly to make the events colorful.

The morning classes on Saturday will be shortened to make room for a special assembly. The assembly will be addressed by Judge Ricks with President Milner presiding. After the speech the a capella choir will sing for the first time publicly this season, and the campus organizations, past and present, will be recognized.

Immediately after assembly, at 10:45, the cross country team will run against the North Carolina reserves. The girls' hockey team will engage alumnae squad at 11:15.

After an alumni luncheon at Founders hall, there will be alumni meetings beginning at 1:30, attended by the president of each local alumni group and the permanent representatives of the graduated classes.

The football game will climax the program at 2:30 o'clock.

Alumni Association Makes Three Student Awards

Best Athlete, Most Improved, and Key Senior to Be Honored.

The alumni will make a series of new student awards each year, William A. White, Jr., president of the Guilford College Alumni association, announced in chapel on Monday, October 23.

The three awards are to be an athletic, an improvement, and a senior award. These awards will probably be made at the annual alumni dinner, and announced at the annual commencement.

The athletic award, $25 in cash, will be given to the outstanding athlete in any class. All lettermen will send a secret ballot to the coach before May 20. The alumni ballot athletic chairman will select the recipient, giving recognition to the votes of the lettermen, and securing the approval of the administration before the award is made.

Any freshman, sophomore or junior is eligible for the improvement award, to be given to the person making the most improvement, college life, social, and physical, during the year. This award will consist of a $50 scholarship to apply to the student's expenses of
