Students Will Vote on Drastic Budget Cuts, February 5

Capital University Choir Will Present Program Tomorrow

The Chapel choir from the Capital University Conservatory of Music in Columbus, Ohio, will present a concert of religious music tomorrow afternoon at 3 p. m. in Memorial hall.

The choir, composed of 50 voices, is under the direction of Ellis E. Snyder, conductor, singer, and former member of the faculties of Ohio State University and the Chicago Music College. This is one of the few choirs in the country which has built its national rating by singing nothing but sacred scores in concert.

Their program includes Nikolsky's "The Earth is the Lord's"; Kuhnau's "Tristis Est Anima Mea"; "All Breathing Life, Sing and Praise Ye the Lord" from Bach's Motet "Sing to the Lord." Also "Exultate Deo" by Al Scarlatti; "My Joy" by F. Melius Christiansen; "Teras Adonai" a traditional Hebrew Chant; "O Sing Unto Him" by Morten Luyvaas; "Oh, Yes" a negro spiritual arranged by Sigmund Spaeth; "Divine Praise" by Bortniansky; "Thou that Destroyest the Temple" by Charles Haubiel; "Oh, What a Beautiful City" by William Dawson. The group concludes with "Come Quickly Lord, and Take My Soul to Rest" by Harl Me-

Ann Schneider Will Report On Assembly At Y Meeting

There will be a membership meeting of the campus Christian associations on Monday evening, February 2, at 8:30 in the Music building.

The results of the campus drive for the World Student Service Fund will be announced at that time. Anne Schneider will give a report on the meeting of the "Y" Christmas assembly in Ohio. All "Y" members are urged to attend the meeting.

The "Y" cabinets are planning a retreat for cabinet members on Sunday afternoon, February 1.

Snipes and Durham Submit To First Aid Students

By BARBARA SPRAGUE

Was there an ulterior motive behind the beginning of First Aid classes at Guilford right before exam week, or was it merely the order of the day? We wondered as we heard tales of Herbert Montgomery, instructor for the First Aid course which is being given at Guilford for two and one-half hours every Wednesday and Friday evening for four weeks.

Mr. Montgomery, a Guilford graduate of '36, familiarly called "Herb," has already taught his apt pupils how to identify various kinds of cuts and bruises, points of pressure for bleeding, and bandaging.

Now the class is working industriously on artificial respiration, termed "resuscitation" by those in the know. You can ask Darrell Durham or Brad Snipes what it is. If they answer with a grunt you'll know it's a conditioned reaction due to hours of applied pressure—to the tune of "Out goes the bad air, in comes the good."

ELLIS E. SNYDER and the nationally known chapel choir of the Capital University of Columbus, Ohio, which will present a concert here tomorrow at 3 p. m.

Brinton, Milner, Kent Give Quakerism Talks

Brinton Was Former Acting Head Here

Dr. Howard Brinton, director of Pendle Hill, a graduate school for religious and social study in Wallingford, Pennsylvania, will speak at Guilford on Friday evening, February 13, at 8 o'clock in the auditorium. His lecture will be the last in a series of three talks on prominent Quakers. Dr. Brinton will be on campus from February 12 to 15.

Mr. E. Daryl Kent, assistant professor of religion here, will be the second speaker of the series with a talk on John Woolman, to be given on Friday, February 6, at 8 p. m. Mr. Kent will show the significance of John Woolman in the Society of Friends.

Dr. Clyde A. Milner, president of Guilford college, gave the first in this series of talks last night. He spoke on "The Life and Ministry of George Fox."

Dr. Brinton has long been associated with Guilford college. He came to Guilford as a member of the faculty in 1915. During his stay here he held almost every position on campus. He

Lewis Hoskins Will Lecture On Television Tonight at 8

Mr. Lewis Hoskins will speak on television this evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium. He will demonstrate his lecture with television equipment.

Mr. Hoskins is being sent here by the Southeast School Assemblies, a booking agency in Pennsylvania. For a number of years he has lectured on and demonstrated electrical equipment, and more recently has been interested in television.

Beittel Will Talk Today At Greensboro Y. W. C. A.

Dr. A. D. Beittel will address a conference of Girl Reserve Secretaries at the Y. W. C. A. in Greensboro today. He will speak on "Our Attitudes on the Social Issues of the Day," in the afternoon, and on the "Religious Interpretation of Our Present Situation" in the evening.

Dr. Beittel will speak in chapel at Winthrop college at Rockhill, South Carolina, on Sunday, February 1. His subject is "Being a Christian in Time of War."

Council Selects "Winter's Tale" as Spring Production

The Dramatic Council chose "The Winter's Tale," by William Shakespeare, for its spring production, at a meeting on January 27.

The council will work with the class in play production in presenting the play. There will be try-outs announced, and all those interested in acting are urged to attend.

Furnas Gives New Course

Dr. Philip W. Furnas is teaching a new class in Play Production. The class meets on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons in the auditorium from 3:10 to 4:00.

Dr. Furnas is endeavoring to give the members of the class a working knowledge of the difficulties connected with presenting a play. They will study directing, arrangement, acting, scenery, make-up, lighting, finance, and general organization.

Guilford Choir to Sing At Interracial Concert

Choirs Will Meet At First Baptist Church Tomorrow at 3 P.M.

The Guilford College A Capella choir will give its first program since Christmas vacation at the Interracial concert to be held at the First Baptist church in Greensboro on Sunday afternoon, February 8, at 3 o'clock.

The group's program will include Let the Words of My Mouth, by Hyde; A Lamb is Innocent and Mild, by Eichhorn; O Lord God of Hosts, by Gaul; and Wake, Awake, by Christiansen.

The concert is sponsored by the Interracial Intercollegiate Commission, and is presented annually, featuring white and Negro choirs. The commission is made up of representatives of all colleges in and around Greensboro and has as its aims the promotion of friendly relations between the two races.

Also representing programs at the concert will be the choirs of Greensboro college, Woman's college, Bennett college, A. and T. college, Emanuel Lutheran, and Palmer Institute.

Any Guilford students interested in attending the concert, may sign up on the bulletin board outside Memorial hall and the student Christian associations will provide transportation for them.

Cora Worth Parker Works As Secretary and Teacher

By CORINNE FIELD

We took a deep breath and plunged madly into the semester exams which inevitably follow Christmas vacation.

Few of us were conscious enough to notice Dr. Milner's new secretary, Cora Worth Parker, Guilford '33, sister of David Parker, '40, and a member of that family which has taken a very active interest in the college.

But "Corky," as she is known to the few remaining seniors of today, has a record which speaks for itself. An honor roll student, and a marshal, her list of extra-curricular activities in the Quaker, which she edited, is as long as any in the class. It includes athletics, student government, Chris-

Students to Consider Two 1942-1943 Budget Proposals in Chapel

Two student organizations budgets—the recommended budget for 1942-1943 and an alternate plan—will be placed before the entire student body for discussion and voting, on Wednesday, February 5, in regular chapel.

The plans were formulated by the Student Affairs board budgets committee, composed of Charles Lewis, Bette Bailey, Miriam Cummin, Ernest Morris, and Mr. Suiter, and approved by the Board itself in a meeting on January 29. (Compilation form of the proposed student organizations budget is on page 3.)

Both plans are based on an estimated enrollment of 300 students. There was an enrollment of 352 students last semester and there will be a probable 310 this semester.

There is now an unappropriated surplus of $698.15, which can be drawn on to make up deficits in the general budget. Under the first plan, the decrease in enrollment will necessitate a minimum budget cut of 15%, amounting to a cut of $845. Subtracting this amount from the current total leaves the budget recommended by the committee for next year at $4775. The anticipated Activities fee income, based on an Activities fee of $15 for 300 students, would amount to $4500, leaving a difference of $275, which would have to be made up from the unappropriated surplus.

An alternate plan was presented by the budgets committee. It was likewise approved by the Student Affairs board, which specified that the plan should go into effect only if the college found

Juniors To Give Informal Dance In Gym, February 7

The junior class will give an informal dance in the gymnasium on Saturday, February 7, at 8 o'clock. Music will be provided by records, and there will be some planned dances, including an elimination dance, a cake walk, and a jitterbug contest. Refreshments will be served.

The committee in charge of the dance is composed of Virginia Pope, Paul Carruthers, and Tom Purdy. Officers of the class are: president, Ruth Weisgerber; vice-president, Paul Carruthers; secretary-treasurer, Mildred Pegram.

tian association, choir, French club, Fine Arts, Guilfordian, play cast, and Student Affairs board. She certainly ought to understand the problems of Guilford students.

Cora Worth hasn't been to a faculty meeting yet, and she can't quite picture the situation because, as she expresses it, "It's awfully hard to grow out of being a student."

After graduation, Cora Worth founded a typewriter at Katherine Gibbs Secretarial school, which released her honorably after a nine-months' course. Having had actual experience in the business world, she is well able to instruct Guilford students in commercial studies.
