

May Court Members Compete for Crown Today

Enrollment Continues To Rise As Second Semester Draws Near

Thirty-Seven Men, Five Women Already Registered; More Enrollees Expected

According to the records in the registration office, there are 262 students now enrolled at Guilford College. The enrollment for the second semester will show a marked increase over this figure.

At this time 37 men and five women are expected to enter. There are several more possibilities, so by the time the semester actually has started, the total may be much higher.

Among the men who have registered, several are former students, namely Jack Arzonico, David Solotog, Henry Pollock, Roy Christiansen, David Spiegel, Jimmy Andrew, Norman Shaen, Tom Pleasants, Hoyt Hinshaw, and Owen Lindley.

Three of the women who are expected have sisters already here. These are Betty Blair, sister of Jane Blair, Mary Grey Warden, sister of Rosa Lee Warden, and Lois Carmien, sister of Beatrice Carmien.

The ratio of men to women the first semester has been about 1 man to 1.7 women, so with the relative increase of men, the ratio for the second semester will be nearer the balance of one man to one woman.

S. C. A. News

An SCA meeting will be held at 7:30 in the Hut on January 28. Mr. Kent is to speak. His topic will be "Religion and the War."

There are several families in the community who go to church in town and who will be glad to take students with them. Among the churches are: First Presbyterian, First Moravian, Methodist, and Episcopal. See Beatrice Carmien for details.

The SCA Cabinet has chosen a committee to have charge of devotions at breakfast in Founders. Different persons will be asked to read a short passage of scripture, a verse of poem, or a sentence for the day. If there are students who would like to volunteer to be in charge of two or three days' devotional period, see Norman Goodridge, Eddie Hirabayashi, or Beatrice Carmien.

Chemistry Professor To Haunt Mem Hall Again

By JEANNE VAN LEER

Guilford College faculty and students are happy to welcome Dr. Harvey Ljung back on the faculty. Dr. Ljung, who left for the Navy in May, 1943, was well known for his chemistry tests and interesting lectures—mainly the chem tests.

During the time he was in the Navy, he was stationed at various parts of this country and abroad, always holding positions of trust and confidence. He took his boat training at Fort Schuyler in New York. After that he was transferred to Portsmouth in New

Class Of '46 Elects Court: Students Elect Queen, Maid-of-Honor

The annual election of the May Queen is being held today in Memorial Hall from 8:30 in the morning to 4:00 in the afternoon. The eight candidates for the queen who were elected by the senior class are: Nancy Miller, Mary Britton, Linda Pell, Iris Beville, Grace Siler, Frances Siler, Peggy Taylor, and Martha McLellan.

The candidate who receives the highest number of votes will be crowned queen at the May Day festivities to be held sometime in May under the sponsorship of the Woman's Athletic Association. The runner-up will be the maid-of-honor and the remaining six will comprise the court.

All students are urged to cast their vote today. Each voter is to check only one candidate or else the ballot will be void.

The election is held under the regulations of the Student Affairs Board. The election committee in charge is Paulie Fuller, chairman, Midge Ridge, and Kemp Foster.

Exam Matinees

The W. S. G. announces that 4:30 to 6:00 will be tea time after those finals next week. On Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday, Founders, Mary Hobbs, and Archdale will serve tea to weary exam-takers.

On Monday and Thursday, at this same time, music will be played in the library for relaxation.

Two Councils To Sponsor 'Open House' In February

Ray Wood and Sue Shelton, presidents of the student governments announce that the two councils will sponsor open house in each of the dormitories for four consecutive Sundays in February.

The exact hours will be decided upon by the dormitory serving as host. At no time will a dorm be open for longer than two hours at a time.

On February 3, Mary Hobbs Hall will have open house, on February 10—Archdale Hall, on February 17—Founders Hall, and on February 24—Cox Hall. All students and faculty are invited to share in this program.

Additional Courses Offered Next Semester

Natural Science, Social Science, Language, Art Subjects To Be Taught

The second semester schedule for courses shows Guilford with some 13 courses that are offered only in alternate years. Primary among these are class room management and child psychology, both of which are essential for teaching in the grammar grades.

Vertebrate Embryology, better known as Biology 32, and Chemistry 24 are also being offered at this time.

Two religion courses and two histories are scheduled. Contemporary history plus Dr. Newlin's pet subject, the history of North Carolina, will be added to the history department while Dr. Russell instructs in Old Testament History and History of the Christian Church.

Eighteenth century French literature is offered for advanced French students.

Other courses to be given are Dr. Newlin's international organization and Mrs. Milner's abnormal psychology.

Among the new courses are three advanced language classes made possible by Dr. Hayes' return. Dr. Victorius will teach economic geography. Two new math courses, analytic geometry and trigonometry, will be under Dr. Hohn.

Religion 36, the follow-up of Religion 35, the new junior required year's course, and a class in Quakerism will be assumed by Dr. Russell as soon as he returns from vacation. Another required course, sociology 26, in place of sociology 11-12 will be taught for the first time.

Physical education 15 will be continued this semester under Coach Newton.

Mr. Kent will offer a two-hour course in public speaking to be given Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

Dr. Furnas is to teach contemporary literature, and Mrs. Kent will instruct interested students in drawing and painting.

Wanted: Staff Members

The Guilfordian needs your help. All new students interested in news or feature writing, see the editor as soon as possible. Those who would like to work on the business staff, contact the business manager.

Milner Appoints Ginn Head Resident At Mary Hobbs

President Clyde A. Milner announces the appointment of Mrs. Bertha Stevens Ginn of Smithfield as the head resident of Mary Hobbs Hall. She will also assist Mrs. Robson in the home economics department.

Mrs. Ginn is a graduate of Scarritt College, Nashville, Tenn. Prior to her appointment to Guilford, she was house mother at McMurray College, Abilene, Texas and at Pineman Junior College, Clinton, N. C. She is the wife of the late Dr. Ginn, prominent Goldsboro physician.

In the absence of a head resident at Mary Hobbs, Miss Julia Cannon and Doris Coble, house president have assumed the responsibilities.

The Heathen and Me; or Why Are You So Queer?

By SNAKI KNIGHT

In China, the heathen Chinese is reported to relish stewed rats with his chop suey. Toasted worms are voted as tops on the menu in Mexico. Polynesian natives shake feet instead of hands. From these examples, one may readily see that customs are queer—because no self-respecting Guilfordian would eat rats if he knew it. Neither would he approve of worms in his noodle soup. But:

In Guilford, we used to have an unusual custom—an old, revered, respected custom. On Tuesdays and Thursdays when the professor in charge nodded his head and the chapel audience rose as one man, the seniors

Martin Reports Progress To Date On College Annual

M. J. Martin, editor of the Quaker, announces that the business matters are up to date. Kemp Foster, business manager, has done a wonderful job of selling the ads. The class pictures have been received from the photographers and are mounted. Art work by Dottee Shute and Snaki Knight is well under way.

The staff, composed of M. J., Kemp, and Peggy Stabler, managing editor, is having difficulty with the photography, and would like all members of organizations to please be present when a picture is scheduled so that it will be complete as the deadline prevents re-takes of pictures.

If students have recent pictures showing life on campus which they would like to loan to the Quaker, the editor will appreciate them, because film shortage and lack of photographers have cut down on the usual quota.

The Quaker is expected to come out at the usual time—the latter part of May.

If there are students who want to help with the yearbook in any way, now is the time for services to be offered.

marched out first, gravely and with dignity, as seniors should. And then came the Juniors. And then came the sophomores. And then came the freshmen. This, however, is such an ancient custom that few of us recall it, but those few often feel a sort of nostalgia about twice a week.

And there are other customs at Guilford. Where else do the bleachers fall precisely at the most exciting point in a basketball game when the score is tied and only one minute to play? Where else does a patriotic dining hall sing happy birthday to Christopher Columbus? Where else does every clothes-conscious male on campus wear
