Enrollment Includes 69 Descendants Of Former Students

Guilford's own "Bureau of Statistics" in the personage of Miss Era Lasley once more provides our readers with some interesting facts and figures about ourselves.

For instance, this year there are 561 students, of whom only 158 are women. According to records provided by Miss Lasley, 69 students are direct descendants of former students, 306 students have been previously enrolled at Guilford, 43 are transfer students, and 211 are freshmen. Of the 309 veterans on campus, two are women. Two hundred and forty-four students are day hops, and there are 19 men and women living in the pre-fabs who attend classes.

Twenty different religions are represented in the student body. There are 149 Methodists, 124 Quakers, 94 Baptists, 69 Presbyterians, 27 Episcopalians, 26 Catholics, 14 Hebrews, 15 Congregationalists, eight Lutherans, five Reformed church members, three Christian Scientists, two Moravians, two Greek orthodox, one Holiness, one Mennonite, one Nazarene, one Seventh Day Adventist, one Unitarian, and 18 students not belonging to any particular church group.

Nineteen of the 48 states are represented this year. The individual figures are as follows: Three students from Alabama, two from California, five from Connecticut, three from Florida, one from Iowa, one from Maine, one from Maryland, two from Michigan, 11 from Massachusetts, 22 from New Jersey, 38 New Yorkers, one from Ohio, one from Oregon, 15 from Pennsylvania, three from Rhode Island, five from South Carolina, eight from Virginia, two from Washington, and 432 natives of North Carolina. In addition to this there is one student from the District of Columbia and one from our good neighbor, Peru.

Reserved Section To Aid Quaker Cheering Power

Head Cheerleader Jitter Hauser announced that the center section on the north side of Greensboro's Memorial stadium will be roped off and reserved for the Guilford College students, faculty and other immediate supporters of the Quakers. It is pointed out that more effective cheering can be done with the students confined to one area. It is the desire of the cheering squad that all Guilford students use these reserved accommodations.

Battleground Hike Takes Place Sunday

For those who enjoy walking and the great outdoors the annual Battleground hike under the sponsorship of the SCA will be held tomorrow. Hikers are asked to meet promptly in front of Founders Hall at 2 o'clock.

Following a picnic supper around the bonfire, Dr. Newlin will speak on the historical background of the Battleground. Inge Longerich is in charge of the outing, and David Hadley will lead group singing. There will be no meals served at either of the dormitories tomorrow night.

Veterans Group Plans Dances

The Veterans Association mapped a plan of action for the coming year at its first meeting, Oct. 3.

Leonard Twinem, president, was in the chair for the session, which was highlighted by discussion of a program for the semester and methods of encouraging students support of athletic events.

Naming Fred Bray, social chairman, the group set Oct. 19 as date for a hayride, December 18 for a Christmas dance, and voted to support the school Monogram Club's Thanksgiving dance.

Resolutions were adopted to request transportation for all interested students to the Catawba and High Point games in Salisbury and High Point, and to assist the Woman's Athletic Association with organization of an effective cheering squad.

The veterans elected Mrs. Cosmo Gaskins, only woman member and wife of a veteran, secretary; Sol Kennedy Jr., publicity chairman, and Mackie Frye, head of a committee to coordinate activities between the association and the college administration. Brooks Hansard is vice-president of the group and J. D. Garner is treasurer.

The Campus Chest Drive needs your support.

Student Affairs Board To Revise By-Laws; Other Changes Made

Eddie Hirayabashi, president of the Student Affairs Board, has announced that there are to be several changes in the board for this school year.

Joe Lasley was appointed to head a committee to bring the Student Affairs Board Constitution up to date. He is to be assisted by Elizabeth Hare, Dorry Loesges, and Dr. Newlin as faculty advisor.

The Points Committee has worked out a system by which each student office holds a certain number of points, and set up specifications that a student enrolled in the school must maintain in order to be able to hold office. Roxie Roberson is chairman of this group, and she is to be aided by Gerry Garriss, Brooks Hansard, and Miss Era Lasley as faculty advisor.

The Student Affairs Board was allotted $180 last spring to be used to help finance those who are sent as delegates to different conferences during the year. A committee has been formed to handle the problems that may arise such as, how much should be given to the delegate, and what conferences are constructive enough to warrant the board to send a delegate. This committee is to be called the Conference Delegates' Finance Committee and Joe Lasley was appointed chairman with Dorry Loesges, Jackie Ijames and Dr. Newlin, faculty advisor, to help him.

Hadley To Preside Over Fine Arts Meetings

The Fine Arts Club, which includes all applied music students (those taking piano, voice, and instrumental lessons), in the music building. An expanded group with several new members this year attended.

Dr. Weis, in keeping with the assumption that the Club is interested especially in the fine arts, passed around some well-known paintings to the group. This was followed by a business meeting, with the collection of officers for the coming year foremost on the agenda. The new officers are as followed: president—David Hadley; vice-president—Ethel Edwards; and secretary—Virginia Hauser. The president appointed Louise Richardson as chairman of the social committee, and Howard Coble and Cassie Williams to assist her. A time for future meetings has not yet been decided upon but will be in the near future.

Lasley Confident College Drive Will Be Successful; Solicitations To Continue

With a quota of $1500 in view, the Campus Chest Drive has passed the halfway mark and slightly more than $850 has been realized. Joe Lasley, President of the Students Christian Association and Chairman of the Drive, has announced that solicitations will continue until the goal is reached.

"Of course the dormitory representatives understand that the large majority of the veterans are anxiously awaiting their subsistence checks, but we hope the temporary lack of funds will not deter them from making their pledges," Mr. Lasley stated.

Ordinarily, students signing their pledge cards are requested to pay half at the time they sign and the remainder by November 12. However, all pledges will be gratefully received in any case and arrangements can be made with the Chest representative to pay whenever convenient.

Single Drive

The outstanding feature of this year's drive is that it is incorporating many different nationally known and recognized drives into just one. This consolidation will be appreciated when students are reminded that in 1941 Guilford College had seven different drives on the campus ranging from the Salvation Army to Bundles for Britain.

This innovation should prove to be successful in that students will only be asked for one contribution this year and that single donations will be split into four different, worthwhile agencies. The American Red Cross, the American Friends Service Committee, World Students Service Fund and the Greensboro Community Chest will all profit by money pledged to the Campus Chest Drive.

Another aspect that may be construed as a bit different from the ordinary drive is that if the contributor should entertain any particular desire to help one of these organizations more so than another, he is permitted to check the particular relief work that he wishes his money to help. As an example, if John Jones wishes to donate $3 and checks the Red Cross, the American Friends Service Committee and the World Students Service Fund, then each of these worthwhile relief agencies shall receive $1 apiece.

Chapel Talk Recalled

Students will remember the talk given by Miss Eleanor Durham in Chapel period a few weeks ago in which she stressed the almost incredible needs of the school children of war ravaged Europe and Asia. Part of the money raised on Guilford's campus will go to the organization Miss Durham represented: the World Students Service Fund. With headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland, their worldwide motto is well worthwhile pondering. "There is no quarrel between the youth of the world."

"I certainly hope that the Guilford students will contribute as much as they feel they can afford to part with. Last years drive undertaken for the World Students Service Fund averaged only fifty cents per person throughout the United States. This year, more than ever before, students all over the world are depending upon your support and we can't let them down after what they've done for us. Books and buildings are what they need now and with your help and cooperation we can see that they have both," Mr. Lasley concluded.

Dormitory representatives are: Founders Hall, Eldora Haworth; Mary Hobbs Hall, Rachel Thomas; The Pines, Eleanor Cornelson; Cox Hall, Jack White; Archdale Hall, John Charles Rush; day students, Jim Roueche; pre-fabs, Grimsley Hobbs.
