Campus Carnival To Be Here October 29

Seven Professors Added to Faculty At Guilford

The Guilford College faculty includes two new deans this year as well as several other new members.

Mildred Marlette has been appointed Dean of Women and Assistant Professor of English. Since her graduation from Guilford College, (she's really one of us) her experience has included teaching in high schools in North Carolina and study in Graduate School of the University of North Carolina, from which she received her M.A. degree. This past summer she took professional courses in the field of guidance and personnel at Columbia University. Miss Marlette is a native of Alamance County and a member of North Carolina Yearly Meeting.

Paul Lentz is the new Dean of Men. He has served as Assistant Director of Men's Physical Education on the campus for the past two years and is therefore, not a newcomer.

Dr. Frederick R. Crownfield started his work as Professor of Biblical Literature and Religion this summer. Recently at Pendle Hill, he was prior to that, a member of the faculty of the New Church Theological Seminary, Cambridge, Massachusetts, for about twenty years. He took his B. S. at City College, New York, and received the S.T.M. and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard Divinity School. He is a member of Cambridge Friends Meeting.

With outstanding training in theology, history, and the languages, Dr. Peter Dalbert joins the faculty of Guilford College as Assistant Professor of French and History. He was awarded the degree of Doctor of Theology in Church History, cum laude, from the University of Zurich, and was ordained a minister. His interest in church history directed his further study into the field of general history, in which he won a Ph.D. degree, magna cum laude. He was a tutor in languages and history at the University of Zurich. He began his work at Guilford this past summer.

Hiram Hilty is the new Assistant Professor of Spanish. Mr. Hilty has an A.B. from Bluffton College and a B.D. from Hartford Theological Seminary, has been for five years a missionary in Cuba under the Board of Missions of the Five Years Meeting. Previously, while studying at Hartford, he was minister of the Friends Meeting at Clinton Corners, New York.

Helen R. Cooke has been appointed Instructor in Speech and Dramatics. Mrs. Cooke has had specialized training in speech and drama at the University of Michigan, teaching experience in public schools, and unique responsibility in public address, radio performance and drama during the war years.

Harold M. Bailey, recently appointed Associate Professor of Education, received his A.B. at Grove City College and his M. Ed. at Penn. State College. He has done two years of further graduate study at the University of Wisconsin and at Pennsylvania State College. He has had some twenty years experience as a teacher, principal, and superintendent of public schools and as a teacher and supervisor of student teachers.

Lee R. Miller of Kirksville, Missouri, Assistant Professor of Economics, holds the B.S. degree from Northern Missouri State Teachers College and an A.M. from Peabody College. He comes to Guilford with splendid recommendations from his former teachers.

Staff Meeting

There will be a meeting of all members of the Guilfordian Staff this Monday at 7:30 in the West parlor of Founders Hall.

Miss Mildred Marlette, new Dean of Women at Guilford College talks with Gail Schaffert, freshman from Greensboro.

A Cappella Choir Has Well Balanced Group Plans Trip to Dallas

The Guilford College choir is off to a new start in this, its 22nd season. Membership starts with 75 voices, well balanced in parts. Choir members come from eight states, Vermont, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio and North Carolina. The home state is represented by forty-seven of its members, seven being from Greensboro and five from Guilford College.

Eight religious denominations are found in this year's choral group. The Friends are predominant, with Methodist, Presbyterian and Episcopal next in number.

The proposed annual spring tour will take the Choir to Dallas, Texas, where the group has been invited to appear before the National Convention of Federated Music Clubs.

Hendricks Returns From Trip Abroad

Last June twenty-fifth the "Marine Shark," a U. S. transport ship set sail for the British Isles with Charlie Hendrix, the manager of the Book Store and Soda Shop, aboard. He visited Ireland, Scotland, England, and Holland as the representative from North Carolina Yearly Meeting to the American Young Friends Fellowship. Thirty young people from all over the United States went on this tour.

While Charlie was in England, he spent two days at Stratford-on-Avon and Ann Hathaway's cottage. He stayed in London for several days and saw Westminster Abbey, St. Paul's Cathedral, Buckingham Palace and heard "Big Ben" strike twelve times. He found the people in England gloomy and sad because the food and clothing was so acute. He thought that people took this outlook because they have to export most of what they produce.

In Ireland, Charlie got a look at Barney Castle and kissed the Barney Stone and as some of you may have noticed he got the gift of gab. He liked Eire better than Northern Ireland because he thought that it was more nearly like the United States and the people seemed very hospitable.

The things in Scotland which impressed Charlie most were the mountains, highlands, kilts of many colors and bagpipes. In Edinburgh

Senior Class Elects May Court Members

The Senior class has elected the members of the 1948-1949 May Court. The girls selected were Aileen Belton, Margie Benbow, Jo Carroll Bray, Sarah Farlow, Jackie Ijames Inman, Inge Lonzerich, Jean Presnell, Phyllis Stevens, and Ada Wayne Stuart. There is one vacancy to be filled. From this group the May Queen and her Maid of Honor will be chosen in the fall elections.

Dramatic Society Announces Play

On November 20, the Dramatic Society of Guilford College will present a drama titled "Under the Gaslights."

An interview with Miss Cooke, dramatics instructor, revealed the stage crews is sorely in need of help, experienced and inexperienced. Anyone with a little time on their hands two or three weeks before the date of production will be welcomed to volunteer. Those who know of any period furniture and costumes which would be loaned to the Club are asked to inform Miss Cooke of such material.

The play itself is a melodrama of the post Civil War era. It concerns an aristocratic hero, a villain, an adopted society belle, and the morals and ethics of New York's upper crust. It is a play that is easily adapted to amateur theatricals and should add up to an interesting and enjoyable evening.

Season's First Lecture Given by Feagins

The Friday night lecture series at Guilford College opened last week with a presentation by Carroll S. Feagins, assistant professor of Philosophy.

Mr. Feagins emphasized the need of a liberal and integrated education for the American people. "The greatest danger to cultural progress of man today is specialization," asserted Feagins. "American and world culture are too dependent on specialization whereas a greater diversity of learning would and could improve over all conditions everywhere."

Mr. Feagins lecture was the first in a series to be given on Friday nights at Guilford College. These lectures are being sponsored by your request; let's support them!

National Five Arts Award Sets First Of Annual Contests

The National Five Arts Award, Inc., a non-profit organization, designed to discover, aid and stimulate creative writing in the Colleges and Universities in the United States has announced the first of its annual contests for its Awards and Fellowships totalling one hundred thousand dollars.

Open to all writers, the contests are primarily for new, college age writers in the fields of the full length play, the radio script, the popular song, the screen original, the short story and short short. There are six cash Awards in each category, a $2,000 first prize, a $1,000 second prize and four prizes of $500 each. In addition, and in a special effort to obtain recognition and financial assistance for young writers, $70,000 of the total Awards will be granted in the form of 140 Fellowships of $500 each.

The Fellowships, like the cash prizes, will be awarded on the basis of merit alone, rather than age or academic degrees, and will be granted to writers of talent and promise. Further, such writers may use the fellowship money in whatever manner will best further their writing careers for it is not conditioned upon project outlines or specific writing or study commitments.

Sponsored by Norman Gerstenzang, Inc., manufacturers of the Normandy Pen, The National Five Arts Award has begun to contact Colleges, Universities and Writers' Clubs for entries in its first national contest.

The National Five Arts Award proposes to arrange for the Broadway production of this winning play. Under this plan, in addition to the cash award of $2,000, it will undertake arranging the production of this play by a reputable, professional producer. The playwright would then receive a Dramatists' Guild contact providing full royalties for a Broadway production and standard royalties for radio and television adaptations which might follow. He would also receive the proceeds of the sale of his work to motion-pictures.

In each category, as with the play, The National Five Arts Award proposes to obtain professional production and publication of the most meritorious scripts, stories and songs. And in each case the author will receive full royalties in conformity with the highest standards set by all Writers' Guilds.

Vets To Sponsor Queen of Carnival In Gay Evening

Copy 1
It'll be terrific! It's for one night only! Unfolding under cover of the gym Oct. 29th, the night before Guilford, in her home-coming game, beats High Point, will be none other than the lavish Campus Carnival, presented for the first time at Guilford under the auspices of the Veterans' Club.

Manager Bill McCracken has been successful in obtaining the services of not one—but two Masters of Ceremonies. The famous team of "Frisco" Bray and Jack White will attempt to hold the fun and laughter down to level of bedlam. Amid the decorations, to be extravagantly arranged in the true spirit of Halloween, will be found ample space for dancing to the latest spine-tingling tunes. When her agent related Bubbles La Rue's, (The world-renown fan dancer), price for her services, cost was waved aside. The sky's the limit in this production. At the moment Madame Olga Skwzvdlaimphy is being imported direct from Venice, along with her gem-studded crystal-balls to officiate between this world and the others, known only to mediums of her power.

Famed cuisines and gourments around college will show their magnificent art in the forms of luscious, tempting-hot cakes and pies which promise to be secretly made behind locked doors from menus guardedly kept in their Southern families for generations and generations. Plans are under way now in hope that these artists may be persuaded to permit their delicacies to be auctioned off to the highest bidders.

Known only to three gentlemen in black ties and tails, are the details for the greatest Hall of Horrors yet seen by human eyes to be built under cover of the darkness in the basement of the gym. The House of Jones and Glenn are poring over architectural plans for the erection of a swimming pool for the benefit of the public to witness the only swimming act ever to be held indoors on Guilford campus. And arrangements for the most rib-tickling games of the year, fishing and others too numerous to mention here are already underway.

Highlighting the show will be the Queen of the Carnival whose identity will not be discovered until the fateful night of Oct. 29th. There is some dispute over the hours which the doors of the Carnival will remain open to the public. A recent cablegram from Madam Olga professed twilight as the best hour for

World Federalists To Hold State Convention

The United States World Federalists, an organization that has attracted young people from all over the country, will sponsor its second annual state convention in Greensboro, on October 16-17.

The main purpose of the Federalists, who claim chapters in hundreds of colleges throughout the nation, is to encourage a reorganization of the U.N.O. in order to make it a true world government. They advocate, in this reorganization, relinquishment of national sovereignty as the only reasonably sure way of maintaining peace. The liberal aspect of the Federalist movement has gained for it an ever increasing number of members and sympathizers.

Leland Stowe, Pulitzer prize-winning foreign correspondent and authority on Russia, will speak for the Federalists in Aycock Auditorium at Woman's College at eight o'clock, Saturday, October 16. The public is invited to this address. Certainly such liberal, progressive ideals as the Federalists stand for, deserve at least a hearing.
