

The 1949 Basketball Season . . .

Pictures often portray what words will not, and so we give you some of the highlights of the 1949 basketball season. In the upper left hand corner is the varsity. No need to name them, for you all know the Lentzmen of this year. Below is a shot taken at the action-packed Hanes game here. Johns and Ralls fight for the ball, which Ralls eventually got. The team went on to an upset victory by the score of 61-59. The lower left hand corner shows one of the starting fives, composed of Ralls, Chatham, Venable, Johns and Ferrell.

Red Richardson, Catawba's star player, upper right hand, puts in a one-hander in the game here which ended in a heartbreaking 54-53 score. The two seniors who have played their last game for Guilford are Brooks Hansard and Jack Chatham.

On the next page is Jase Ralls in the upper left, who was named as the 63rd Athlete of the Week by the Greensboro Daily News as a result of his playing in the first Hanes game.

The picture below needs little explanation. After seven years of waiting, hoping, and praying, we beat Catawba. In the first round of the North State Tournament at Elkin, the Quakers upset first-seeded Catawba to advance to the second round of the tourney.
