

Shown above, at the N. C. Student Legislature, are (left to right) Ellis Love, John Clark, Speaker of the House Talley from U. N. C., and James Benjamin.

Students Attend Legislature; Rakestraw, Clark Are Officers

The 13th meeting of the North Carolina State Student Legislature, which was held in Raleigh December 1 through 3 was a great success to all concerned. Not only was it a great success, but two things happened for the first time: a Guilford delegate became an officer, and a resolution was passed censuring a newspaper.

To go over these one by one: a Guilford delegate had never before been an officer, but this time Guilford supplied not one but two of the ten officers. In the House, John Clark was elected sergeant-at-arms, while Garland Rakestraw held this same office in the Senate. On Friday evening the Raleigh Times printed a picture of the officers of the House on page one. Conforming to their usual policy of not printing non-segregated pictures, the parliamentarian, a Negro, had his picture cut from the print. Senator Morton Salkind of Guilford wrote a resolution censuring and publicly rebuking the Raleigh Times, and it passed both the House and Senate.

Many interesting bills were taken up by the Legislature. The Senate after some debate passed an extensive Civil Rights bill. A sobbing Bennett College girl brought tears to the eyes of many in the House as she cried, "How can you be so prejudiced?" The House passed a Civil Rights bill, but not as extensive as the Senate did. Finally a compromise was enacted. Both houses, after a good deal of debate and an attempted filibuster by Wake Forest and State, passed a bill condemning loyalty tests for teachers in the University of North Carolina.

Amid many cries of "Unconstitutional" and "This is Socialism," a bill providing for a state electrical project similar to the T.V.A. was defeated in the Senate and tabled in the House.

The big fight came over a bill commending Governor Scott for his "go forward" program. The opposition consisted of Wake Forest, State, and Elon. They tried in every way to stymie the bill from going through, but it finally passed both houses. Wake Forest, State and Elon went on record as opposing the bill: Carolina went on record as in favor of it; Guilford College was split on the bill.

Guilford College introduced a bill providing for an Academy of Social Scientists to advise the Legislature. After limited debate, both the House and Senate passed the bill.

The Guilford delegation elected Betty Jane Hughes to the Interim Council for 1950.

To summarize: we all feel the 1949 session of the Legislature was a great success, and hope the 1950 session will be just as successful.

Student Sees Radio As Possible Harm To College Student

By EARL TYSON

Is radio pernicious to the efforts of the student in applying himself to his studies? Possibly many of you will consider this question insane, but it is one that is not to be answered with disregard. To answer any question satisfactorily, one should weigh both views with care before reaching a decision that suffices.

The need for the individual student to ask himself this question and to come forth with a satisfactory answer is palpable. No doubt many of you would reply if asked this question personally, "Why no, of course not. When I wish to listen to the radio, I do so. And when I need to study, I do so. But I wouldn't say that the radio is a hindrance to my studying." Be reminded that the daily act of switching on the dial of the radio may easily become a habit, the same as smoking, drinking, or even eating and sleeping, and we all know how difficult it is to dispose of those habits once we have acquired them.

There are approximately 150 radios on our campus. How many of these are listened to less than two hours a day? That is totaling the amount of time spent by all the occupants of the rooms wherein radios are located. Very few, we would say. Let's see now—two times 150 gives us 300, we observe. So, that's 300 radio hours daily that could very easily be transformed into study hours. Can you imagine the results in Miss Lasley's office if 300 more hours were spent daily by the students in preparing their studies?

Now we ask ourselves the question: what of the disparate knowledge that is received from the two hours that are spent daily listening to the radio? By the radio much light is thrown on current events. From the radio we receive daily information concerning the happenings throughout the universe. Many think that the relaxation, recreation, and information which is received by the radio is definitely indispensable, and that the knowledge gained by the two "radio hours" could never be matched in value by spending these two hours reading text-books. Do you agree?

There is much worthless entertainment on radio, and also a considerable amount of the facts and figures which we attain from our books will never be helpful in our daily living. The question has been asked. The answer depends entirely upon you.

We have no desire to transform any of you into "bookworms," but neither do we want you to be servile fans of radio.

Exam Schedule

FIRST SEMESTER 1949-1950

Friday, January 13

9:00 A. M.

Education 35
History 21, sec. b
Music 15
Physical Ed. 21W
Religion 11
Greek 13

1:30 P. M.

Chemistry 11, sec. a
Economics 23, sec. a
English 11, sec. c
French 11, sec. a
German 11
History 21, sec. a
Mathematics 21
Philosophy 41
Physical Ed. 15M

Saturday, January 14

Physical Ed. 33W
Spanish 11, sec. a
Spanish 11, sec. b
Spanish 11, sec. c
Spanish 13
Spanish 21

Business 11, sec. a
English 11, sec. f
History 35
Physical Ed. 25M
Religion 21

Monday, January 16

Mathematics 13, sec. a
Mathematics 13, sec. b
Mathematics 13, sec. c-5
Mathematics 13, sec. d
Mathematics 13, sec. f

Biology 21
Economics 21
English 33
French 13, sec. a
Home Economics 11
Mathematics 15
Music 11
Music 21
Physical Ed. 11W, sec. a
Physics 11
Psychology 31
Religion 47
Sociology 21

Tuesday, January 17

Biology 41
Biology 31
Business 13
Chemistry 23
Economics 41
English 11, sec. a
English 35
Philosophy 25
Psychology 21
Religion 15

Business 17
English 23
English 39
French 11, sec. b
History 31
Mathematics 11
Music 33
Physics 21
Psychology 43
Physical Education 47
Religion 37

Wednesday, January 18

History 37
Physical Education 13
Spanish 41
Latin 13
Music 25

Biology 13
Business 21
Economics 11
Economics 31
Education 21
English 11, sec. b
English 31
Geology 21
Mathematics 35
Physical Ed. 11W, sec. b
Religion 35, sec. b

Thursday, January 19

Biology 43
Business 11, sec. b
Chemistry 11, sec. b
English 11, sec. d
English 37
French 13, sec. b
German 13
Physical Ed. 35M
Religion 35, sec. a
Sociology 20
Sociology 33

English 21, sec. a
English 21, sec. b
English 21, sec. c
Physics 41

Friday, January 20

Education 31
Chemistry 21
Economics 25
Education 37
Education 47
English 43
Pol. Science 41
Natural Science 11
Sociology 23

Economics 23, sec. b
English 11, sec. e
Philosophy 31
Physical Education 37
Physical Education 31
Physical Education 41

Saturday, January 21

French 41
Philosophy 11
Political Science 31

BULOVA
BENRUS
ELGIN

GIFTS
DIAMONDS
SILVER

LONGINES
HAMILTON
GRUEN

SASLOW'S
Greensboro's Largest Credit Jewelers
214 South Elm Street

The Boar and Castle
Greensboro's Most Popular
Sandwich Shop
Greensboro, N. C.

Meet and Enjoy Your FAVORITE SNACK
at
TUCKER'S TERMINAL
"We serve only the best"

Welcome,
Students
SANDWICHES
SUNDRIES GROCERIES
Hollowell's

Ham's Sundry Shop
Merry Christmas and
A Happy New Year

CAROLINA
Starts Sunday
LARAINE DAY, DANE CLARK
FRANCHOT TONE
in
"WITHOUT HONOR" NATIONAL
Starts Sunday
Dennis O'Keefe, Gale Storm
in
"ABANDONED"
CENTER
Starts Sunday
Robert Cummings, Ann Blyth
in
"FREE FOR ALL"

Hats Shirts Sweaters Neckwear
TURNER'S CLOTHING STORE
MEN'S and WOMEN'S TAILORED SUITS
227 S. Elm St. Greensboro, N. C.

MEYER'S
GREATER GREENSBORO'S GREATEST STORE
Carolina's Christmas Store

open till 6
Friday
open till 9
Saturday

The Garden Room will be open for dinner 5 to 9 Saturday