

SWIMMING AREA IN LAKE PROPOSED

S. C. A. Holds 'Cynic's Clinic'

The S. C. A. conducted one of the most successful religious emphasis weeks in several years on the campus during April 4-8. The "Campus S-N-A-F-U" program featured Leonard Detweiler of Johns Hopkins University. Alvah L. Miller, Secretary of the Near East Foundation; Sankey L. Blanton, President of Crozer Theological Seminary, and Gordon W. Lovejoy, Educational Consultant for the National Conference of Christians and Jews, were on the program, which was intended to "destroy the students' cynical attitude." This was the last program of which the 1950-1951 S. C. A. Cabinet had charge. However, many of the new cabinet members helped out on the "Cynic's Clinic."

The program started off under the name of "Campus S-N-A-F-U." However, before the week end was over most people were referring to it as the "Cynic's Clinic." Many weeks of extensive planning on the part of the S. C. A. Cabinet went into the successful week end. The wonderful response on the part of the students was due mainly to good planning and the magnetic personality of Mr. Detweiler.

At the Wednesday chapel, Joshua Crane introduced the whole "S-N-A-F-U" program and presented Mr. Detweiler. Mr. Detweiler immediately won the respect and good will of the students. His subject was "The Students' Cynical Attitude."

Wednesday afternoon Mr. Detweiler spoke to the S. C. A. Cabinet on "Guilford's S. C. A. and Johns Hopkins' 'Y.'" Sally Haire, the new 1951-1952 President of the S. C. A., was in charge of this meeting.

Wednesday evening a panel discussion on "What's Wrong With Guilford College" was held. Hank Semmler was moderator. Dr. Muriel Tomlinson, Morton Salkind, and Mr. J. Floyd Moore headed up the panel. Dr. Tomlinson suggested that the faculty quit treating the students like babies. She said if they expect students to act like mature people they must be treated that way. Morton Salkind re-emphasized Dr. Tomlinson's stand and brought out the lack of student participation in extra-curricular activities. Pete Moore concluded the short talks with a very thorough evaluation of the college.

On Thursday morning Dr. Lovejoy of the National Conference of Christians and Jews gave a very interesting talk on group relations and spoke to the sociology classes. That evening a panel discussion on the subject, "Is Pacifism Practical?" was held. Great interest was shown by the students in this. Mr. Carol Feagins and Dr. Crownfield stood on the pro side of the question, while Dr. Raymond Smith of Greensboro College and Dr. Richard Bardolph of Woman's College held down the con side. Dr. E. G. Purdom was moderator. Even though the question was not given full treatment because of the limited time, this meeting served to create a great deal of interest and discussion among the students.

(Continued on Page Five)

SOCIAL CALENDAR

- Sat.-Sun., April 21, 22—S. C. A. Retreat at Quaker Lake.
- Fri., April 27—Chapel: Rev. Howard Yow, Missionary-Educator.
- Sat., April 28, 8:30 P.M.—Spring Play, "Death Takes a Holiday."
- Mon., April 30—Chapel: Guilford Choir.
- 8 P.M.—Senior Voice Recital, Joe Gamble.
- Fri., May 4—Chapel: Recital by Mr. Underwood.
- 8 P.M.—Senior Voice Recital, Rebecca Gardner.
- Sat., May 5—May Day.
- 8:30 P.M.—May Dance.
- Sun., May 6, 8 P.M.—Piano Recital, Miss Ware.

The new marshals selected for the year 1951-1952 are shown above. Seated, left to right, are Marilyn Linhart, Bethesda, Maryland; Lynn Jessup, Merchantville, N. J.; Glenn Faulk, Chief, Pilot Mountain, N. C.; and Ann Yarrow, Flushing, N. Y. Standing are Richard Staley, Liberty, N. C.; Morton Salkind, New York City; and Richard Clemmons, Greensboro.

Dramatics Council Presents Spring Play April 28

The Guilford College Dramatics Council will present "Death Takes a Holiday," Saturday, April 28, at 8:30 P.M. in Memorial Hall. It is being directed by Bill Kerr. It is originally an Italian play written by Alberto Casella and rewritten for the American stage by Walter Ferris.

It is the moving story of Death, portrayed by Horace McMannus, of Washington, D. C., on a three-day holiday trying to discover the secret of life and why mortals fear to die. He reveals his secret to Duke Lambert, who is forced to let him remain in his home, the Villa Happiness, until midnight of the third day.

All of the guests in the house feel that there is some strange mystery about the Prince (as he is now called), but it is only Grazia, Jo Cameron of Southern Pines, who realizes the depths of his nature. Two other women, Alda, Daga Hammond of New York City, and Rhoda, Lucy Leake of Winston-Salem, are attracted to the Prince.

There is compelling interest as the play progresses, and the Prince comes into contact with all the guests, and mounting suspense and terror as he announces that he is in love with one of the guests! The dramatic climax is very effective and should excite great interest.

Others in the play are: Cora, the maid, Lynn Jessup; Fedele, the butler, Ann Newton; Duchess Stephanie, Geri Mays; Princess of San Luca, Polly Edgerton; Baron Cesera, Karl Reinhart; Eric Fenton, Bobby Wall; Corrado, Gayle Craddock; and Major Whitreal, Dave Seabold.

Dr. Sapp Drafted; Fondren May Come

The school and community physician, Dr. Oscar L. Sapp, III, will board a train tomorrow night for Brooke Army Medical Service School, located at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Texas. Dr. Sapp received his orders to report for active duty with the army some weeks ago, and has been commissioned a First Lieutenant. He is being called under the new doctor draft law.

According to Dr. Sapp, Dr. Frank Fondren, a 1939 graduate of Guilford, and now practicing at the Lloyd Noland Hospital in Fairfield, Alabama, is seriously considering coming to the community. Dr. Fondren is formerly of Greensboro.

DOT KISER

Students, Faculty Would Furnish Labor; School Furnish Materials

A student-faculty proposal to construct a swimming area in the new lake will go before the Board of Trustees today. The measure would assure student-faculty labor, with the college supplying the materials. The swimming pool proposal was dropped for a number of reasons, according to Mr. Parsons, Guilford's Business Manager.

"Filtration processes would cost, initially, approximately $10,000, if they were to meet state health requirements, and the Federal Government will not allow more than $750 for such a project at this time. Also, liquid chlorine, which would be indispensable for the filtration, is becoming practically non-existent for commercial purposes because of the Korean war," Mr. Parsons said.

According to President Milner, a student committee, composed of class presidents and the respective presidents of the two Student Governments, and headed by Doctor Purdom, has presented the proposal to build a swimming area in connection with the lake. The measure apparently will meet little opposition in the Board of Trustees.

The swimming area would include a sand-bottomed non-swimmers' area, and a pier with a diving board for swimmers.

Doctor Milner, in commenting on Board of Trustees action, stated that the need for swimming, boating, and fishing facilities has long been felt, and that the Board of Trustees has for some time had plans of constructing such facilities.

The construction of the proposed swimming area would depend almost entirely on student-faculty cooperation in offering the labor, while the school would furnish the necessary materials.

Authorities expressed the hope that the students would throw full support behind the project, should it be approved by the Board of Trustees.

John Haesloop Gets Assistantship at UNC

John Haesloop, Senior, and Biology Major here, has been offered a Graduate Assistantship in the Botany Department at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill. The offer was made in a letter to John recently.

The scholarship includes tuition, laboratory fees, and seven hundred twenty dollars living expenses for one year. The offer could continue for a longer period on the basis of satisfaction.

Draft Qualification Tests To Be Given Here in May, June

The Selective Service System announced recently the dates of the college qualification tests. They are to be given at centers throughout the country, including Guilford College—on May 26, June 16, and June 30 of this year.

All students now in college, and under the age of 26 are eligible to take this test, it was announced. Scores on the test, together with scholastic performance in college will be used to determine eligibility for occupational deferment as students.

Application cards and information bulletins are available at all local draft boards. Guilford students can get their forms at the Greensboro office, located at 255½ North Greene Street.

Students now classified 1-A may have an opportunity for re-classification on the basis of their test scores, and on the basis of the broader limits—three-fourths of the present juniors, two-thirds of the present sophomores, and one-half of the present freshmen.

This is an opportunity which is open to all male students.

Dot Kiser Awarded Grad Scholarship

Dorothy May Kiser, a Guilford Senior, has been awarded the Friends College resident graduate scholarship in the Department of Mathematics at Bryn Mawr College, Bryn Mawr, Pa.

According to Dr. Lilly Ross Taylor, Dean of the Bryn Mawr Graduate School, who announced the awards, she is one of the 54 Graduate Fellows and Scholars selected for the academic year 1951-52 beginning next September.

Dot is the daughter of Roger C. Kiser, of Laurinburg, N. C., a 1919 Guilford graduate now serving his second term as representative in the N. C. Legislature from Scotland County.

An honor graduate with an academic average of 2.7, she serves as secretary of the Guilford Scholarship Society and as president of the Women's Student Government. She is also a member of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Although she has been interested in mathematics since the days when her father taught mathematics in high school, she is undecided as to what use she will make of her training, but is considering both teaching and industrial statistics.

Recitals by Students, Faculty Members Will Stress Music Week

Recitals by two faculty members and two students will be the features of National Music Week, April 30 through May 4. The recitals are being sponsored by the Music Department here.

On Monday, April 30, the Choir, directed by Mr. Underwood, will give the chapel program. That evening at 8 o'clock, Joe Gamble will be featured in a Senior Voice Recital. Mr. Underwood will return on Friday at chapel, but without his choir. He will be featured in a number of his own interpretations of mostly foreign selections. Rebecca Gardner will be featured soloist in another of the Senior Voice Recitals on Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Sunday, May 6, will bring to an end the National Music Week observance, with a featured piano recital by Miss Dorothy Ware, piano instructor. The recital will be at 8 o'clock, and will feature selections by Bach, Schumann, and other composers.

The program for National Music Week has been designed to provide a wide and diversified selection of classical music, with both faculty and student participation.

INDEX

Editorial	Page 2
Features	5
Josh-N-Along	2
Post Scripts	2
Organizational News (S. C. A., I. R. C., etc.)	3
Society	4
Spectator	2
Sports	6, 7
Vic Vet Says	3
W. A. A.	6