Dr. Campbell To Take Trip Abroad

The time has just about arrived for Dr. Eva Campbell to take her long awaited trip to Europe. This trip began to materialize just about a year ago when at the annual alumni banquet Dr. Campbell was told that all of her "graduate family" had contributed to make possible a trip abroad.

As plans stand now, Dr. Campbell will leave on Wednesday, June 1, 1955 for Europe. She plans to sail on the Ryndam, leaving from New York.

Dr. Campbell will be met in Rotterdam by Dick Staley, a former Guilford student and recipient of a Fulbright Scholarship. Bill Yates, also a Guilford graduate, now serving with the United States Army, will meet them in Stuttgart. All of them will then proceed to Zurich, Switzerland.

After her reunion with these former Guilford graduates, she will go to Italy for a visit with friends. She plans to spend a month there. She then plans to go to France for three weeks.

Dr. Campbell will end her vacation with a visit to England and Scotland.

This is a very fitting tribute to the senior member of our faculty and we wish her a grand trip.

Gene Gray Awarded Graduate Assistantship

Gene Gray, a member of this year's senior class, and an outstanding student of chemistry, has been awarded a graduate assistantship to Clemson College. It should be mentioned here, that he was also offered two other graduate assistantships; one for graduate study at the University of North Carolina and the other for continued study at the University of Tennessee.

Gene and his wife Rebecca decided, after much thought, that the award to Clemson would be the most suitable. He will try to complete his work for a masters degree during the two years he will study there.

While at Clemson, he will be in charge of three freshmen chemistry labs along with the job of checking the roll for his own class in general chemistry.

Gene has not decided for sure what he will do after he obtains his masters degree. He may go ahead and prepare for a Ph.D. degree or he may go into industry or teaching. Whatever he decides, we wish him the best of luck and at the same time extend our congratulations to Gene.

May Day Celebration Is Successful

May Day, in its usual glorious pageantry, reigned supreme in thought and action on May 7th. The green was transformed into a reunion of the nations who sent representative dances to perform for Her Majesty.

Queen Edith Meyers, escorted by Jim Vogel, had for her Maid of Honor, Bonnie Ferrell, escorted by Howard Waynick. Other members of the court and their escorts were: Marty Burton, Bob Padgett; Ruth Dobbins, Claude Ivey; Marion Gravitt, Fred Jones; Janet Jay, Nick Guerere; Marjorie Jenkins, Keith Roberts; Phyllis Redman, Bill Jarvis; Kathleen Shumaker, Chester Baker, and Trilby Tucker, Bobby Wall.

The stately little David Neil Stafford was crown-bearer, and the petite Linda Meredith was flower girl.

Of course, the day was completed by the annual dance. Holland welcomed all the guests with the tulip fields, and the turning windmills.

Appreciation tokens cannot express the gratitude to all those who cooperated so graciously. Our special thanks to Margaret Anne White, May Day Chairman, and to Rachel Richardson, Dance Chairman.

Chapel Programs Planned By Seniors

Beginning Monday, with the observation of Senior Week, we take the final step in honoring the seniors, short of the commencement itself. The main features of this week are two chapel programs planned by the seniors. These chapel programs will present us with our first chance to see the seniors in their caps and gowns as they will be in full graduating attire for both programs. The Monday chapel program is to be of a serious nature while the Wednesday chapel program will be on the lighter side.

Monday's program will consist of speeches of appreciation of the seniors by the freshmen, sophomore and junior class presidents. On the following Wednesday, the seniors will present a play depicting some of the outstanding happenings during their four years in college. There will be approximately sixteen persons in the play with Don Percise, Marty Burton, Betty Humble, John Church, Rachel Grogan, Neva and Reva Watson, Trilby Tucker and Andy Bristow holding some of the most important roles.

These chapel programs will be interesting as well as entertaining and will present us with an ideal opportunity to show our appreciation to the members of the senior class.
