Campus Improvements Feature New Year At Guilford

Pictured above are a group of Guilford College students enjoying supper in the new cafeteria. The cafeteria has made a very favorable change in the mealtime atmosphere.

Student Union Under Construction

Growth! With growth in our student body and spirit, physical improvements and growth in the school plant are necessary.

The sidewalk to the corner which was the boys' unfinished project last May Day was completed by the college workers this summer. Other new sidewalks include those poured around the ends of Cox Hall.

More of the modern Frazier apartments were added, and one by one the old pre-fabs were torn down.

The renovation of Founders Hall has been of major interest to all students. Besides the new dining hall with its modern facilities, the infirmary and home economics labs are being completed. The new dining hall was opened at the end of orientation week.

The ground floor of Shore Hall is now a modern playroom, kitchen, and storage facility room. Ping pong and luxurious furniture have been added. This room is for Guilford women only. Sport clothes are allowed when lounging there.

The ground has been broken for long-awaited Student Union building which will probably be completed for use next semester or next year.

All of these improvements signify the growth of our school. These along with many others highlight the Guilford College extended building program.

Honor Roll Announced For Past Semester

The Honor Roll for the past semester, 1955-56, contains the names of all students who attained an average of 2.50 or more. Those who attended summer school have their summer school averages combined with those of the previous semester.

Sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have achieved the Honor Roll are extended special privileges. They are not required to attend class and are not held strictly for daily preparation although it is understood that they will maintain a high standard of work, and that they are responsible for all materials covered by the course. They are required to take announced quizzes, suarter, and semester examinations.

Seniors named on the honor roll for five consecutive semesters are excused from final examinations.

Listed below are the members of first semester honor roll, and their respective quality averages.

William B. Edgerton Speaks At Guilford

This past summer, William B. Edgerton was one of the six American Quakers who made an extensive two months tour through the Soviet Union.

Mr. Edgerton graduated from Guilford in 1934 with honors. He was awarded a scholarship to Haverford, receiving his M. A. in 1935. He is a past member of the Guilford faculty and of the Perkiomen School in Pennsylvania. At the present time, Mr. Edgerton teaches at State College in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Edgerton spoke at Guilford this past Friday, October the 7th, on his trip to Russia. He showed many interesting slides of the people and how they lived. According to Mr. Edgerton, the Russians share our love of bigness as is shown in the completion of the new part of Moscow University. One of the buildings is thirty three stories high.

There is a tremendous thirst for works of literature. The Government prohibits bad literature such as murder mysteries and comic books as well as some of the good literary works. There is such a demand for books, that a black market has developed in the selling of the precious copies. Some
