Honor Over All Things

What with final exams starting tomorrow and a full week of tests in front of us, it would be a good idea to give some thought to honor and the Honor System at Guilford.

The important thing is to be able to sign the honor pledge in full at the close of each test, and be able to do so with a clear conscience.

Many students do not realize the full significance of the Honor System. It means that we are not policed on any of our tests; we are considered old enough and nature enough to realize the importance of honor. There are always some students who don't observe or realize the importance of the rules of honor as specified under the Honor System. In a good honor system, the majority will force the minority to conform to this system. This is the way it should be on our approaching finals and on every test we take as well as on any work we turn in to be graded.

The honor pledge states three specific rules. These rules prohibit the giving and receiving of help, and the observing of one of these two without reporting it. If every student at Guilford College is able to pledge that they have not violated either of these three rules on the forthcoming finals and on all future pledge work, the Honor System at Guilford College will be something we can be proud of.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

CHESTER BAKER

Margaret "Boe" Wooten

The Baker family is unique in the fact that they have sent four of their sons to Guilford and three of them are on campus coaches; Chester, who will graduate at the end of this semester, and Mack, who is a sophomore.

Our Senior Spotlight for this week is focused on Chester. He is a Physical Education major from Burlington, North Carolina.

His freshmen and sophomore years were spent at Brevard College. He was President of the Monogram Club while there, besides playing football.

In the fall of 1953, Chester entered Guilford as a Junior. During his junior year, he played football, was a member of the Spanish Club and the Monogram Club. Also in sports, Chester was Guilford's number one pole vaulter last year and placed fourth in the North State Meet. Chester's greatest achievement was being made Director of the New North Choraleers, who have given the girls dorms many a pleasant serenade.

During his senior year, Chester, again played football, was in the Monogram Club and directed the New North Choraleers. He was also chairman of the Christmas dance and served on the Men's Student Government.

Chester did his practice teaching at Bessemer High School. He also just recently passed the ap-

This week our senior spotlight shines on Margaret Wooten, better known as "Boe" Wooten, who hails from Winston-Salem. Margaret will complete her four years at Guilford, with a major in Sociology, and a minor in English, in June.

Aside from her studies, Margaret has participated in many activities. She has been a member of the choir for four years, the WAA for two years, and the SCA for three years. In her freshman year, she served on the WSG and as secretary of the SCA. In her junior year, she was secretary of her class.

At present, Margaret is Secretary of the WAA, Treasurer of her senior class, and participated in the Student Legislature this fall.

Margaret has no idea as to her future plans, but this summer she plans to work at a resort. Sometime later she hopes to deal with juvenile delinquent problems.

pitude test for Aviation Officer's Cadet School. He is now waiting word as to whether he passed his physical exam. If so he will then be trained to become a Navy pilot, which is his prime ambition. If this does not work out, he plans to go to graduate school.

Whatever he does, we know he will be a big success. We wish him the best in everything.

In Memorium

The student body and faculty regret to hear of the death of one of its students, Hans Grocnveld. A freshman in school, he died a few days ago after undergoing brain surgery.

Hans became ill during Christmas Holidays and was hospitalized for the purpose of examination. An operation followed and he died shortly afterwards, on January 13, 1956. A memorial service is to be held on January twenty second at Silver Springs, Maryland.

Hans, who was born in Holland, had been in the United States about five years. He was a quiet and reserved student around campus. However, once you got to know him personally, he was the kind of person you rarely forget. The boys who live in Upper Archdale, where he lived, and everyone that knew him regret his passing.

Religious Emphasis

pers that evening will be in Shore Hall.

The Young Friends will direct morning worship Wednesday. Freshman chapel will feature a talk by Dr. Walker, and vespers in the evening will be in Founders Hall.

Thursday the Presbyterians will lead morning worship. Upper classman chapel will be the same as Wednesday's program. Vespers will be in the Hut at 6:45, and at ten o'clock there will be bull sessions in each dormitory.

The Baptist Student Union is in charge of morning worship Friday. A student panel, directed by Bill Davis, will be held in the auditorium during chapel period. At 7:30 that evening the Bennett College Choir will present a program of music in the meeting house.

Ann Rae Thomas is chairman of Religious Emphasis Week. Her committee is composed of Mary Ann Long, Lucy Herrin, Marietta Kaiser, Bill Davis, Dick Brown, Frankie Brown, Carol Smith, Dorcas Eperson, and Sandra Craddock. The faculty advisors are Dr. Crownfield, Mrs. Morris, and Dr. Lovejoy.
