

With Malice Toward None

The forces of organized bigotry are being routed in America. Steadily and surely, in education, employment, housing, and in all human relations, discrimination is waning. Much remains to be done, to be sure, and Brotherhood Week is a reminder to us that the task is still incomplete.

To discriminate against a man because of race, color, creed, or national origin is antithetical to democracy and dangerous to America. In this time of democracy's testing, we must proclaim our faith in it and live closely by its principles. In these days of danger to America we can permit nothing to undermine the unity which is so essential to our safety. Nothing is so destructive of unity as the hate, discord, suspicion and bitterness which prejudice breeds. We must all remember the words With malice toward none; with charity for all . . .

There can be no second class citizen in America. As we expect each man, black and white, Jewish and Christian, natural and foreign born to bear the responsibilities of citizenship, so we demand that each share in its rights and privileges. We seek that all shall live in mutual respect, understanding and friendship. The time will come when Brotherhood Week will be a reminder, not of the presence of discrimination in our midst, but of its eradication. Until that time, we must, each of us, work to break down its barriers, fight bigotry wherever we find it, and cleanse our own hearts of blind animosity against our fellow men.

A Square ? ?

No, the members of the Class of '60 are far from being "squares," but they are having a SQUARE DANCE !! This is a dance solely for fun. You may come dressed as comfortably as you like!—no gowns and no tails—

You can't square dance? Well, that's no problem! We are having an experienced caller to carry us through the figures. Even if you have never seen a SQUARE DANCE, you can follow this caller!

Now, what's the other excuse? SQUARE DANCES are for "Hicks" you say. We-l-l-l, what's wrong with being a "Hick" for a few hours, so long as you enjoy it?

Don't be a "square," come to our SQUARE DANCE and bring all of your friends! It's bound to be fun, so remember: March 1, 1957 at 8:00 in the Gymnasium. Admission is 25¢ per person. There will be a string band, and a caller!

Upper Classmen: Come and enjoy a new variety of fun. It will loosen up some of those stiff bones!

Freshmen: Support your class! Come and see that others come!

NO BETTER WORDS TO DESCRIBE "BROTHERHOOD"

Why We Have More Vets in College

The total number of veterans returned to civil life, as of December 31, 1956, was estimated by the Veterans Administration as approximately 22,599,000.

Of these, the greatest number were World War II veterans, totaling an estimated 15,355,000. The further breakdown was: veterans of the Korean conflict, (with no service in World War II), 4,099,000; World War I, 3,017,000; other veterans, 128,000.

A significant number of the World War II veterans, to an estimated total of 885,000, also saw service in the Korean period.

By states of this area, the veteran populations were estimated as follows: North Carolina, 498,000; Virginia, 443,000; Kentucky, 364,000; West Virginia, 278,000.

A & T Choir Sings

The A and T choir presented a concert at the New Garden Meeting House on Friday evening, Feb. 15.

An invitation was extended to them to appear in connection with our Religious Emphasis Week Program. Howard T. Pearsall conducted the concert and Rosemond S. Lawson acted as accompanist. As soloist the choir featured the baritone, James Barnes. The program was presented as follows:

A Mighty Fortress Is Our God, arr. Mueller; Salvation Is Created, Tschesnokoff; Kyrie Eleison, Richter; He Watching Over Israel ("Elijah"), Mendelssohn; Bless Are They ("Requiem"), Brahms; How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place ("Requiem"), Brahms.

Rise, Shine; Lord I Want To Be A Christian, Traditional; Better Be Ready (Collection of N. Dett); Great Day, Warren; Walk Together Children, Smith; Ezekiel Saw de Wheel, Dawson.

The concert was followed by a social hour at the Student Union.

Girls Play Day On Campus

Under the sponsorship of the Women's Athletic Association, an intercollegiate volley-ball play day will be held in the gymnasium on Saturday, February 23, beginning at 1:00. Three games will be played simultaneously until all teams have played each of the others.

Participating teams have been invited from Salem, Catawba, Woman's College, Elon, Greensboro College, High Point, and of course Guilford will have a team.

Following the games, a supper will be served in Hobbs Hall to the visitors.

Mary Cashwell, chairman of the Play Day, has organized a full afternoon of activities. Co-operation of the members of the W.A.A. Council and others who are assisting is appreciated by the organization's president and its advisor, Miss Helen Fortenberry.

Spectators are invited to attend and help welcome our guests.

Dining Hall Rules Announced

The following are the rules of the dining hall committee:

1. Only hosts and hostesses will be allowed to come into the dining hall before the doors are open.
 2. No seats will be reserved in the dining hall, except in such cases where faculty guests are being entertained.
 3. All men students are expected to wear coats and ties to the evening meal. Women students are expected to dress appropriately.
- It is naturally expected that students will conduct themselves as ladies and gentlemen. Please let these rules be respected.

Last semester football players were allowed to come to dinner without ties because it was felt that after a hard evening's practice they should be spared the inconvenience of dressing for dinner, and allowed

Brotherhood Week and Our Quaker Tradition

One of the blessings we students at Guilford might pause to reflect on is the passing into oblivion of certain "Rules To Be Observed By The Scholar," rules formulated back at the founding of the college for the due guidance of all eager students. Though some few may disagree, their passing doubtlessly reflects the close pace Guilford keeps with the liberality of the times. Requirements to "refrain from all unnecessary noise, talking, or whispering" or to "endeavor to keep your bodies still and erect" and the general admonition to sober behavior, I think it must be admitted, have somewhat mellowed with passing decades.

Fine Increased for Delinquent Books

In an effort to benefit Library borrowers by attempting to stimulate a greater turn-over in the circulation of two-week books, the Library announces a slight increase in fines imposed on overdue books which are loaned for two-week periods. The new fine will apply to books which are borrowed after March 1 and become overdue after March 16.

The fine is being increased from one cent a day to two cents a day, if paid when the book is returned. This is in line with fines which are charged by other libraries in this area. The new fine will be doubled, as in the past, if the borrower of an overdue book delays payment instead of paying when the book is returned to the Circulation Desk. All other fines will remain the same.

It is hoped that the fine will bring about speedier return of due books, thereby making them available sooner to others for recirculation. In many cases, renewal of books can be arranged at the desk when they are needed for extended use. The fine applies to off-campus borrowers as well as on-campus borrowers.

Thought for the Week

Not both can you believe in the Fatherhood of God and discrimination.—Ruby

The intention of the founders and early rule-makers of Guilford College was to create the atmosphere George Fox prescribed for students: students "must be meek, sober, intelligent, quiet, and loving, and not give one another any unkind word, in school nor out of it." This is not merely pious, outdated sentiment although the specific rules it gave birth to might seem ridiculously austere. Deeply reflected in the words of George Fox and in the intentions of the college's founders is the most challenging, most presently relevant sort of ideal. The belief in the universal brotherhood of man, grounded in a firm conviction of the worth of every man, and revealing itself in complete love and respect for every man and group commanded the firm allegiance of the Friends who founded Guilford College.

Edward Grubb, writing about the Friends of Fox's day, asserted, ". . . whenever and wherever they saw humanity oppressed and degraded, the Divine image in men's souls distorted and disfigured, they felt a burning sense of shame and an irresistible impulse to set men free."

In our day, a recent Friend's Yearly Meeting has reaffirmed this concern:

" . . . we are deeply concerned with the patterns of segregation that have developed in our communities, and with the suffering, the waste of talents, the antagonisms, the blocks to spiritual and cultural growth which they involve . . ."

These sentiments stem from noble and inspired insights. They

Rhythm Vets Pace Valentine Dance

The "Rhythm Vets," the 10-piece A & T College dance band, furnished music for the annual Valentine Dance sponsored by the Social Committee on Saturday evening, February 16. The semi-formal affair was held in the gymnasium from 8:30 until 11:30.

Refreshments consisting of punch and a variety of cookies were served during intermission.

Miss Pat Lifsey, Chairman of the Social Committee, and her date, Sandor Haydu, headed the receiving line. Miss Helen Davis and Dr. Marjorie Williams, sponsors of the organization, also stood in the receiving line.
