stands in at 195, and Jack Stuart, the other letterman at that position, is a 212-pounder. The guard position, as far as experience goes, one of the two weakest positions on the team, is headed by the 185-pound Cecil Smith, a second-year man. At center are Jackie Conrad and Russell Pope, both of them sophomores. Both players weigh 190 each.

In the backfield Bobby Cooper, at quarterback, has been the star for the Cats thus far this season. The lanky junior from Andrews, N. C., has consistently been close to the top on total offense in the North State with his deadly passing arm. Behind him, Cooper has Boogy Bass, Arnold Isaacs, and Bobby Watts at the halves; Lowell Jennings holds down the fullback post. Each of the three halfbacks are small with Isaacs the heaviest at 160. Jennings is a 185-pounder.

Robinson, one of the youngsters in the coaching profession in the North State, was graduated from Western Carolina in 1950, and returned to take over the reins as head football coach in 1956. Since then he has had a record of three wins, 14 losses, and one tie, not counting this season. Last year his charges finished the season with a 2-5-1 record.

Overall the Quakers have the edge on the Cats, but will have to stop the passing of Cooper if they expect to return home with the win. The rushing game of the Cats has not been powerful this year as it was last year. Therefore, the Quakers must stop the passing

Bonnie Carlisle Is New Guilford Nurse

Miss Bonnie Lou Carlisle, our new nurse, hails from Marion, North Carolina. After graduating from Reidsville High School, Miss Carlisle went to Immanuel College, Franklin Springs, Georgia, where she remained for one year. Leaving Immanuel College, she got her nurse's training at Memorial Hospital, Danville, Virginia. Following her graduation from nursing school, Miss Carlisle took a job in Leaksville Hospital, but after a short time she left Leaksville and came to Wesley Long Hospital in Greensboro where she remained for five and one-half years before becoming our school nurse. Miss Carlisle plans to eventually get a B.S. Degree in nursing and to become a clinical instructor in nursing arts.

Miss Carlisle's office hours are as follows: Monday through Friday—7:45 to 8:45 a.m., 12:45 to 1:45 p.m., 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., Saturday—7:45 to 8:45 a.m.

game, and this they should be able to do. It will be a rugged battle with both teams battling to better their position in the North State standings. Barring injuries the Quakers will be ready to take the Catamounts as they are battling to finish with the best record Guilford has had in recent years.

Hart-beat

The boys that play the sports must love the game, and must play it only for the love of it. Again, let it be stressed that this is the way sports ought to be. And, this is the way QCG Teachers runs its sports' program.

On this basis Apple, Metchum, and Sureton must, and do work. They do a commendable job, and should not, by all means, be criticized for what kind of teams they produce. They do their best, and must be admired for their efforts.

Such is the case of QCG Teachers.

out on an ineligibility. During the years of 1943 and 1944 the second World War halted action.

TEAM, INDIVIDUAL RECORDS

In checking over which player and team has the record for most points, most yards rushing in a year, most passing yards, and the best total offense in a year, you find that the Bears have a definite upper hand. In team scoring, rushing, passing, and total offense the 1957 version of the Bears hold all the records. During 1957 the Bears scored 387 points, ran up 3318 yards on the ground, passed for 1281 more yards, and had a total offense of 4599 yards. Bill Ackard, the tailback of the '57 Bears, holds the record for the yards a player has gained both running and passing with 1362. While the Bears were running from the T in 1951 Steve Trudnak scored more points than anyone else before or since with 119 markers. Another Bear holds the record for rushing yardage. In '56 Harold Bullard racked up 1075 yards overland. Lou Rochelli of Elon is the other person that breaks the monopoly Lenoir Rhyne holds. In 1951 Rochelli hit on 62 of 126 passes for 1002 yards, a record that still holds.

NOVEMBER 22, 27 GAMES

Turning to games for tomorrow you find Appalachian going to the Sunshine State to face Tampa, while the Quakers journey to Western Carolina. The Mountaineers have been a rugged foe against all but Lenoir Rhyne this season, but will have to hustle to beat Tampa. The Floridians have been tough on North State foes, and this game should not be an exception. But, with the Apps' beefy line and speedy backs in Ansel Glendenning and Glenwood Wilson going at full speed, give Appalachian the nod, winning by a touchdown or better.

Going by comparative scores the Catamounts of Western Carolina are overwhelming 20 point favorites. The Cats lost a close game to Lenoir Rhyne, 30-36, while the Bears conquered the Quakers by a 30-0 score. While the Quakers lost to Elon 7-14, the Cats also dropped a verdict to the Christians, 6-15. Against Emory and Henry Guilford came out on top 14-0, while WCTC dropped a 6-0 verdict. But comparing scores usually proves nothing. Last year the Quakers outplayed the Cats in the rain before Western Carolina was able to gain a 7-7 tie. This year the same should be true, the outcome being close. The Cats' main strength rests on the throwing arm of quarterback Bobby Cooper. With both teams being closely matched, the outcome will rest on the breaks, so take it from there.

On Turkey Day Lenoir Rhyne travels to Catawba to end the season for both teams. Last year the two teams met in what was supposed to be a close affair. But, when the afternoon was over, Catawba looked like Hiroshima, and had been battered into the ground, losing by a 75-0 score. This year should not be too much different. Make the Bears a three to four touchdown favorite.

The Quakers will also close out their season on the same day, going to Greenville, N. C., to face the East Carolina Pirates. The Bucs have been a more or less inconsistent team this year, winning the first four of five games, then dropping the next three by margins of two or more touchdowns. Injuries, however, might be one reason for the Bucs' record. If they get into shape, the Pirates will be tough. But, the same can be said of the Quakers. For the Quakers it will be going from "Murphy to Manteo" in less than a week, and that will be a disadvantage for Guilford, especially since ECC played its last game November 15. The advantage of rest will give the Bucs a slight edge over the Quakers, and might be able to close the season on a winning note. But the margin will not be over a touchdown, and look for the Quakers to reverse the score.

And that winds up the tour for another week or so.
