

World Renowned Theologian John Baillie, Visits Campus

Dr. John Baillie, world-known theologian and dean of the faculty of divinity at the University of Edinburgh, is a campus visitor here at Guilford College yesterday and today, February 5-6. His visit here is sponsored jointly by the Danforth Foundation and the Arts Program of the Association of American Colleges. Interesting and provocative topics were announced for his lectures and addresses in chapel yesterday and today and at a dinner meeting last night. He will deliver the last in his series of lectures tonight in the Union at 8:00 p.m.

A native of Gairloch, Scotland, he entered Edinburgh University and earned his M.A. degree with first class honors in Mental Philosophy. He also attended New College at Edinburgh and the Universities of Jena and Marburg.

During World War I he served under the YMCA with the British Armies in France and was assistant director of education on Lines of Communication. During the World War II he was director of YMCA religious and educational activities with the British Expeditionary Forces.

Dr. Baillie has held visiting or special lectureships at several outstanding institutions. He has been awarded degrees by various colleges and universities. Since 1952 he has been Chaplain to the Queen in Scotland and was Chaplain to King George VI for the previous five years.

Dr. Baillie has also written numerous books and articles for philosophical theological, and literary journals.

TEACHING POSITION INTERVIEWS SLATED FOR COMING MONTHS

The Education Department announces that on Monday, February 16, at 1:45 p.m., Mr. Clark Jones, an official from the Harford County, Maryland schools, will be on campus to interview students interested in acquiring teaching positions in that area. On the following Thursday, February 19, at 9:00 a.m., Mr. Claude De Haver of Prince William County, Virginia, will be here to interview seniors who are interested in teaching in his locale. Miss Louise Luxford will arrive at 9:00 a.m. Wednesday, March 11, to talk with seniors who are interested in acquiring teaching positions in Princess Anne County, Virginia. Two representatives from Forsyth County, N. C. will be on campus March 31 at 9:00 a.m.

All of these interviews will be held in the College Union.

It is interesting to note that this will be Mr. Jones' third visit and Miss Luxford's fourth visit with us. Last year Miss Luxford was lucky enough to hire seven of our seniors. Among them were Clara Atkinson, Mandy Godwin, Charlie Atkinson, and Janet Glover. As of the last reports they were doing excellent work for the Old Dominion State.

Jackie Glisson, Mary Nell Parker, and Gertie Murrow will put further information concerning interviews for prospective teachers on the bulletin boards in their respective dormitories. Lee Andrews will place the same information in all of the Men's dormitories.

Falls On Exact Day

Valentine Dance Is Scheduled For February 14 At 8:00 P. M.

The annual Valentine Dance, which is sponsored by the Social Committee, will be held in the Guilford College gymnasium February 14 at 8 o'clock p.m. Dress is semi-formal. Music will be furnished by a local band, and the gymnasium will be decorated in the usual Valentine tradition of cupids and hearts. It will be a no-flower dance free of charge.

The Valentine Queen will be crowned during the intermission at approximately 9:00 p.m. This year will see a new system concerning the voting for the Valentine Queen. There will be a ballot box at the door where the couples enter, and the girls' escorts will drop their nominations into the box. Only Guilford College girls are eligible. Later in the evening one of the ballots will be drawn and the girl whose name appears on the slip will be crowned as queen.

All Guilford College students are invited to come out for an evening of dancing and entertainment.

Among the hard-working members of the Social Committee preparing for the Valentine Dance are Jimmy Boles, in charge of seating; Miss Upchurch, sponsor; and Carolyn Nimitz, in charge of decoration.

MINISTER'S SHORT COURSE TO BE HELD HERE FEBRUARY 17-20

During February 17-20 the Pastor's Short Course of the North Carolina Yearly Meeting of Friends will be meeting here on campus. The purpose of this course is to help younger ministers in training and to refresh and to present new insights and experiences to the group.

Three outstanding speakers are scheduled on the program. They are Dr. Howard Wilkinson, Chaplain of Duke University and specialist in counselling; Leonard R. Hall, former Secretary and Editor of Friends Board on Christian Education from Richmond, Indiana; and Reverend E. F. Bradley, Chaplain of Keeley Institute, Greensboro, and Pastor of Groomtown-St. Andrews Methodist Church. These men will speak in both upper and lower class chapels Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

Overnight guests will be accommodated in the Alumni House. If the crowd is overflowing, some may stay in the gym.

Approximately 50 ministers, directors of religious education, and wives will be on campus for this event. Students are welcome to any of the talks or discussions free of charge.

The Carolina Theatre is now admitting all college students in Greensboro on the special student's admission price. All you have to do to take advantage of this student admission rate is present your I.D. card to the cashier. Remember, gals, give your date a break; carry your I.D. card with you on your movie date. With this special rate you can afford to date twice as often (or twice as many).

Instrumental Ensemble To Be Next Event In Culture Series

The next event on this year's "Special Cultural Events Series" will take place next Friday at 8:15 p.m. in Memorial Hall Auditorium. This will be a program of chamber music and will be played by an ensemble composed of members of the music department of Duke University and of the University of North Carolina. They are Julia Mueller, violinist; Allan Bene, clarinetist; William Klenz, cellist; and Wilton Mason, pianist.

Admission for this event is by Season Ticket for the entire series or $1.00 for a single ticket at the door. The Guilford Student Body will be admitted to this event, as to all college events, included in the regular activities program, free of charge.

Mrs. Julia Mueller has been on the Duke faculty since 1939. Mr. Bene since 1944 and Mr. Klenz since 1947. All three are professors in the Duke Department of Aesthetics, Art and Music. Mrs. Mueller is a former member of the National Symphony Orchestra of Washington, D. C.; Mr. Bene is the conductor of the Duke Symphony Orchestra and of the Durham Civic Choral Society; Mr. Klenz is active in the fields of both composition and musicology and has carried on research in 17th Century instrumental music in Italy under a grant-in-aid from the American Council of Learned Societies. Dr. Mason is a well-known member of the University of North Carolina music faculty, having appeared as soloist and assisting artist in many cities in the state.

Talent Show Set For Tuesday Night

Come one! Come all! The big event's in Memorial Hall! And the big event is the huge campus-wide talent show that will be staged by the Monogram Club on next Tuesday night, February 10, at 8:00 p.m. The slight admission charge is only fifty cents.

Acts in the show will include such famous Guilfordians as Johnny Shields, the Gene Kruppa of Guilford College; Pat Estes, the singing rage from Mount Airy; Bob Marsh, High Point's greatest comedian; Caroline Primm, the gal from Snow Camp; and many, many more. Jordan Washburn, Monogram Club president, also informed us that they are trying to engage an added attraction in the form of none other than Polly Yow, who has been on the Eddie Fisher program, starred at the Latin Quarter, and has played all over the South.

Judges will pick the best act or talent and a valuable prize will be awarded to the winner.

Guilfordians interested in being a part of this great show may contact any member of the Monogram Clubs for information concerning participation.
