

THE GUILFORDIAN

Guilford College Guilford College, N. C.

IF YOU DON'T HELP --- DO YOU HINDER?

Too often we find evidence in a college such as this one—in any college for that matter—that although the average chronological age of the college student shows him up as a mature individual, the average maturity is not up to par.

A building such as the library is built with a definite purpose in mind. It is to be used for the purpose of instruction, not destruction. Yet lately there have been some students in the college who have been abusing their library privileges. Someone has been tearing articles out of the magazines, and marking up pages in books. Articles are missing from newspapers, and some of the magazines up on the third floor of the stacks have been missing when the librarians go to look for them.

Facing facts, the whole situation is ridiculous. The magazines as well as the books are there for use by everyone. They may be checked out for a period of time and then returned. There is no reason whatsoever why students shouldn't be able to check them out and return them with just as many pages in them as were there originally.

Actually, there is doubt as to whether you would be too pleased either if you went to read a magazine that you wanted or were required to read and found the articles or one of the articles that you were looking for torn out. The library staff works hard to keep the right books and the right magazines in their right places so they will be there when you go to look for them. They also do their best to keep the material up to date and in circulation. Most students are not expected to help in this work, but the least they could do is not hinder those who are trying to do a good job.

NEWS BRIEFS

Merle Mallard, a sophomore music major from Wallace, N. C., was chosen to reign over the annual Valentine's Day festivities at the Valentine Dance sponsored by the Social Committee on the night of February 13. Five girls were chosen in an election by the student body previous to the night of the dance, and judges selected the winner from these five.

Scott Morrison will present a Conversation Piano Concert in Duke Memorial Hall on the night of March 4. This will be a unique program with dramatic presentation of the composers in contemporary costume, with their musical instruments, in addition to the performance of their compositions. Mr. Morrison's program will begin at 8:00 and is another in the series of Friday night Lectures.

The Guilfordian

Published bi-monthly during the collegiate year by the students of Guilford College

EDITORIAL STAFF
 Editor-in-Chief Carolyn Nimitz
 Managing Editor Margaret Haworth
 Business Manager Arlene Sheffield

SPORTS STAFF
 Sports Editor Herman Clark
 Sports Staff Glenda Watson, Judi Nelson, Groome Fulton, Philip Fulton.

NEWS EDITOR Anise Joyce
 Reporters Sara Lou Phillips, Betty Koster, Robin Holland, Mary Greenwood, Gary Dent, Richard Golby.

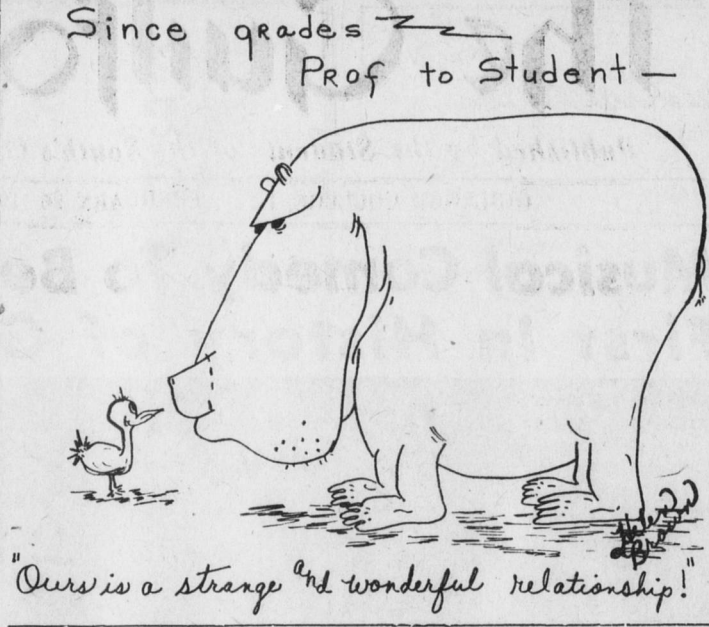

ART EDITOR Helen Brown
 Cartoonists John Huffman, Don Bell.

TECHNICAL STAFF
 Advertising Manager Danny Moore
 Exchange Staff Judy Wells, Jane Coltrane, Melinda Goble
 Typists Judy Hamilton, Cleavie Wood.
 Circulation Manager Patty Gibbs
 Assistant Circulation Manager Bill Rhoades
 Circulation Staff Susan Forrest, Brenda Ferguson, Marianne Lancaster, Margaret Mcharen, Linda Sheppard, Gloria Stadler.

SOCIAL SCIENCE FELLOWSHIPS ARE BEING OFFERED

The Social Science Foundation of the University of Denver in Colorado is offering graduate fellowships for the 1960-1961 school term. These grants are for the study of international relations leading to a degree of Master of Arts at this western University.

There are a number of these fellowships available, ranging from tuition to $1600.00 Anyone may apply who is a college graduate holding a baccalaureate degree (or the equivalent) by September 1, 1960, with outstanding undergraduate records. Completed applications and supporting papers must be postmarked no later than March 1, 1960. For further information and application forms write to the director of the Social Science Foundation at the University of Denver, Denver 10, Colorado.

A LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor;

I am writing this letter in the hope that all Guilford students will stand by their belief in fairness on all procedures and problems that are concerned with college life.

I know that every student wants to be given a fair and just decision in whatever problem may arise that he or she may be involved in.

It has just recently come to my ear that several weeks ago students in three different classes, during the previous semester were given a final grade that was unfair, unjust and without any consideration given to homework, tests, lab work and class contribution.

It is a fact that all students of these three classes were graded solely on the basis of the final examination.

For instance, one student had a grade of "A" before the final but made a grade of "C" on the final examination. This student was given a "C" for the course and not the averaged grade of "B". This was only the case of one student of the nearly hundred that were in these three classes. All classes were taught by the same teacher.

It has also been heard that several of these students have met with the fair and just president of our college concerning this matter. I am quite certain that this matter will be dealt with accordingly and that the deserving grade will be administered to the students.

You, the Guilford students now know of this matter and I am sure, you, as I, will want the students concerned to be given the fairness deserved as you would want if you were one of these students.

The eyes of the Guilford student body now look upon the administration of Guilford College. We are sure they will not fail in doing their proper duty.

A concerned fellow student

LEFTOVERS

There is always something the matter with a man or a motor when knocking.

A French mystic claims that women will soon be able to call their husbands back from the spirit world. It seems that a lot of hubbies aren't going to have any peace, even after death.

The chief of police in a small New England town was also the town's only veterinarian. An agitated woman called up his home. "Do you want my husband in his capacity of veterinarian or chief of police?" asked the chief's wife. "Both," came back the reply. "We can't get the bulldog to open his mouth, and there's a burglar in it."

As he watched a revolving door, an inebriated gent saw a man walk in. As the door swung around, a pretty girl stepped out. "Darned good trick," he muttered, "but I still don't see how that guy changed clothes so fast."

A little girl, sitting in church watching a wedding, suddenly exclaimed—"Mama, has the lady changed her mind?" "What do you mean?" the mother asked. "Well, she went up the aisle with one man, and came back with another one."

If you think old soldiers just fade away, just try getting into your old army uniform.

To be pleasant is an achievement. In some people it rises to the level of genius.

If some people lived up to their ideals they would constantly be stooping.

WC Theatre Presents Spanish Comedy

The Theatre of Woman's College will present a Spanish comedy, Take Two From One, by Gregorio and Maria Sierra on February 25, 26, and 27 at Aycock Auditorium in Greensboro. This production is being directed and designed by Ray Smith, who when in Cleveland, Ohio, had considerable experience in directing Spanish plays.

The Martinez Sierras, two of Spain's most prolific playwrights have turned out a delightful and probing satire on the manners, mores, and religion of present day life. A young Madrid lawyer, assuming his first wife has been lost in an accident at sea, remarries a year and a half later only to have his first wife return from Africa where she has been worshipped as a goddess by the tribe who rescued her. The problem of the young lawyer in his home, surrounded by two spirited young wives, a highly conventional Spanish family, the Church, and his own conscience rapidly develops into an extremely hilarious situation.

Cathrine Wright, a member of the Woman's College Far East touring company, plays the part of Dianna, the first wife. As Marcela, the second wife, Willett Dickerson portrays the good, sweet type—whose surface hides a nature as violent as Diana's own. Faustino, the young man suddenly caught in this irregular situation is portrayed by Pierre Schlosser.

As the third event in the Woman's College Theatre's International Season, Take Two From One reflects the innate warmth, charm, and passion of the Spanish people. This social satire, written with beautiful sensitivity and with exquisite good taste, has much in common with Shaw, but barbs are softened by an abundant humanitarianism.

Curtain time at Aycock Auditorium is 8:00 P. M. Tickets may be obtained at the box office in Aycock from 2 P. M. until 5 P. M. February 17 through 27 or at the door.

SEVEN GRADUATE IN JANUARY

Seven students who registered for the fall semester in 1959 have completed their work for a bachelor's degree at the end of January, 1960. They are: Charles D. Andrew, Bobby L. Barham, Oliver G. Brewer, Jane Lanier Gallimore, Pattie Sue Hackney, Robert F. McNeely, and David Q. Wood.

WANT TO TEACH!

By Gary Dent

Would you like to obtain a Master's Degree with little or no expense? Would you like to teach and yet you don't have the qualifications to obtain a teacher's certificate? Well, this is your chance. Several colleges and universities are offering a graduate program in elementary or secondary school teaching to those students who have or will graduate with a degree in science, mathematics, English, social studies, or a field related to teaching. Some of the colleges offering this program are as follows:

High school teaching—John Hopkins University, Baltimore, Maryland; Duke University, Durham, N. C.; Brown University, Providence, R. I.; and the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N. C. Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., is offering a program in junior high teaching and Goucher College in Baltimore, Maryland, is offering a program in elementary teaching.

Continued on Page Three

