

CHAPEL PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS 1960 SENIOR DAY ACTIVITIES

Senior Day has been set for May 16 for upperclassmen and May 17 for freshmen. Highlighting the day will be a program during chapel period. There will be no chapel the preceding Thursday and Friday, but attendance will be required for this program on Monday and Tuesday.

The Seniors will march in dressed in the traditional cap and gown outfit. Tom O'Briant, Senior Class president, will preside over the program and will cite briefly the purpose of Senior Day and how it originated.

John Pipkin has been asked to deliver the invocation on Monday. He is the first and so far the only person to receive a Master's Degree from Guilford College's new graduate department of religion. Wade Macey, vice-president of the Senior Class, will deliver the invocation Tuesday.

Speakers for the program will be Dr. Carroll Feagins, philosophy professor, on Monday, and Coach Herb Appenzeller on Tuesday. They will review the four years the Seniors have spent at Guilford College mentioning people and events which have come and gone during that time.

The Seniors will conclude the program by singing the college alma mater.

In explaining the program, Tom O'Briant said, "We're trying to have the program partly serious and partly light and entertaining because graduation is formal and serious and class night is usually a "take-off" on people. For this we want something in between."

Pipkin Will Receive First MA Degree Given at Guilford

John Pipkin, minister of White Plains Friends Meeting, will be the first person ever to receive a master's degree from Guilford College when he marches in the graduation exercises with the Seniors this May.

Mr. Pipkin graduated from Guilford in 1954 and returned to do graduate work in the newly-formed graduate department of religion. He started work toward his degree three years ago and has now completed 30 hours plus his thesis.

Along with this school work, Mr. Pipkin has served as minister of Marlboro Friends Meeting for six years and of White Plains Meeting since July. "The meetings that I have served have been very cooperative," he said. "They have been very lenient in their demands."

Speaking of the new department he said, "This is one of the best things that could happen to N. C. Quakerism. As the meetings grow, the demand for qualified leadership increases."

Lincoln Donevant and Louis Adkins will receive their master's degree in August.

Commencement Will Be May 28-30; Bolling, Noble To Deliver Addresses

Two noted educators will give the principal addresses during Guilford's 123rd commencement program scheduled for May 28-30.

They are Landrum R. Bolling, president of Earlham College, Richmond, Ind., and Hubert C. Noble, general director, Commission on Higher Education of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.

Dr. Noble will give the baccalaureate sermon at 11 a.m., Sunday, May 29, and Dr. Bolling will deliver the commencement address at 10:30 a.m., Monday, May 30. Both events will take place on the central campus.

Dr. Bolling, a native of Tennessee, holds degrees from the University of Tennessee, the University of Chicago, and Valparaiso University.

He served on faculties of Brown University, Beloit College and Earlham College.

He joined the Earlham faculty as a professor of political science in 1948 and was appointed president in 1958.

Dr. Noble, appointed to his current position in 1955, holds degrees from Occidental College, Union Theological Seminary, Columbia University, and was an exchange student for post graduate study at the University of Strasbourg in France.

A recipient of an honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity conferred by the University of Duquesne, the English-born educator is an ordained minister in the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. He has served several churches in California, and as chaplain and professor of religion on the faculty of Occidental College, Los Angeles, Calif.

Approximately 110 candidates will receive degrees during the commencement exercises.

Alumni registration, reunions, luncheons, receptions, and the annual Guilford College Alumni Association banquet will be held Saturday, May 29.

May Day Festivities Start Early Saturday

Girls' Performance Begins at 4 P.M.

"Holiday Capers," the theme for the annual Guilford College May Day scheduled for May 14, will feature seasonal celebrations and their historical significance. The representational dances will be presented by underclassmen members of the WAA; Dr. Daryl Kent will be this year's narrator. The program will begin at 4 p.m. on the green in the center of the campus.

The first dance is focused on the month of June and weddings. A wedding procession from the 16th century will be re-enacted in ballet form. Margaret Haworth is chairman of the number.

A July 4th celebration sets the background for an appropriate march number led by Sue Ellen Barker.

The next dance represents a convict's holiday on our national Labor Day. Anne Taylor, Mai Liis Luide, and Robin Holland are in charge of this one.

Circus Day, a memorable occasion each fall, brings stunts from a colorful group of tumbling clowns. Lynn Hundley heads this group.

Halloween will be represented by a group of eerie ghosts weaving a dance to the accompaniment of ghostly music. Head ghost is Ingrid Kolls.

Christmas is the holiday of toys, and we find the toys dancing after the shop closes on Christmas Eve. Maxine Brantham and B. J. Banning lead the dolls and tin soldiers in this dance.

Valentine's Day will be represented by a Dance of Love put on by Kay Smith and Linda Newlin.

A typical Irish jig lead by Helen Brown will represent St. Patrick's Day.

Even bad weather cannot dampen spirits during a time like Spring Holidays, and this point is proved in a dance entitled "Singing in the Rain." Ann Barnes is chairman of this dance.

The last number will be the traditional May Pole dance led by Ethel Ann Little.

The Court

May Queen, Miss Juliana Trimble, will reign over the festival. Her flower girl will be Lynn Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Johnson of Greensboro. Crown-bearer will be David Holt, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Holt, also of Greensboro.

The court includes Jo Ann Cook, maid-of-honor; Kaye Burton; Caroline Primm; Cleavie Wood; Pat Garner; Margie Haworth; Sarah Jane Helton; Sarah Atkinson; and Betty Lou Chilton.

Gaye Burton is chairman of May Day this year with Jane Allen, assistant chairman. Technical assistants are Bob Windsor and Richard Golby. Faculty advisors are Miss Upchurch, Miss Reddick, and Miss Perry.

Boys Schedule Parade For 6 A.M.; Dance Will Conclude Events

Boy's May Day, planned by the MSG, will begin at 6:00 Saturday morning with a Diaper Parade for all freshmen boys. It will begin in front of Cox Hall and go by Founders, Shore, and Hobbs, and then down the walk in front of King Hall to the bleachers which will be set up.

The boys who are not in the skits will sit on the bleachers during the program. Each section will present a skit.

A May King and Queen will also be crowned and the May Day Bucket presented to the section with the best skit.

Dance

To top off the festive activities of boy's and girl's May Day, the WAA is sponsoring a formal dance from 8:00 until 12:00 p.m. in the gymnasium.

The theme for the dance is "Starred Finale."

Music will be provided by Johnny Shields and his Mellotones. The highlight of the dance will come when the May Court is presented in a figure during intermission.

Flowers are optional. Appropriate dress for the girls will be long or short formals and for the boys, dark suits or dinner jackets.

Tickets may be obtained in advance from any WAA cabinet member; the price will be $1.25 for couples and $.75 stag.

Senior Gift is Chosen

Members of the Senior Class have selected a class gift to leave to the school. It will be a table to keep diplomas on during graduation exercises, and will be kept in the new auditorium-chapel when it is completed.

The seniors hope to have it for this year's graduation.

Cook to Give Recital

Jo Ann Cook, a religion major and music minor, will present her Senior Voice Recital this Friday at 8:00 p.m. in Memorial Hall auditorium.

She will sing "My Jesus is My Lasting Joy" by Dietrich Buxtehude, "Breaking Grief" by Bach, "My Heart Ever Faithful" by Bach, "Angels Ever Bright and Fair" by Handel, "How Beautiful are the Feet" by Handel, "Panis Angelicus" by Franck, Biblical Songs (Book 11), by Dvorak, "O Savior Hear Me" by Gluck, "All in the April Evening" by Diack, and "Thanks Be to God" by Dickson.

A reception will be held afterwards in the College Union Lounge.
