Ward Plan Defeated In G'boro

The modified ward plan was defeated in a Greensboro referendum last Tuesday.

The unofficial vote totals were 11,231 against the modified ward system and 8,247 for it.

Tuesday was the second time within a year that a ward system had come before Greensboro voters.

Ward system proponents were encouraged by the closeness of the vote. Last December, the "Plan B" ward system was defeated by a ratio of over 2 to 1.

Most of the city councilmen elected in recent years have been residents of precincts located in the predominantly white, wealthy northwest section. These precincts voted heavily for the present system.

BLACKS FAVOR WARD PLAN

Blacks in the southeast area of Greensboro voted heavily for the ward plan. There was also considerable support for the defeated plan among the predominantly white, low- and middle-income precincts.

The proposed ward plan would have divided the city into eight wards, each electing a councilman. A mayor and two additional councilmen would have been elected at large. The city manager would have been retained under the ward plan.

Guilford College students and faculty, along with students and faculty members from other Greensboro colleges, were active in the Citizens for Representative Government, an organization formed to promote the ward system.

Other civic organizations which endorsed the modified ward plan include The League of Women Voters, and the Greensboro Chapter of the NAACP.

WSC Polls Women On Hours

A presentation of the systems of self-regulated hours which have been under study by the committee of WSC on women's hours will be presented to the student body in an assembly Tuesday morning at 10:00 in Dana Auditorium.

In dorm meetings either Tuesday or Wednesday night a survey will be given to all women students to determine if they want self-regulated hours, an extension of present hours or no change in the closing hours system. At this time women students will also be allowed to choose among the many systems of self-regulated hours available.

This survey, which was given to 20 women students last Tuesday in a test run to find possible problems, represents only a polling of the women; it is not a vote, but the results of the survey will be given to the Board of Trustees for consideration.

FORMER TRUSTEE CHAIRMAN ROBERT H. FRAZIER

Robert H. Frazier, member of Guilford's Board of Trustees for 38 years, retired as its chairman last Friday.

He was succeeded by Edwin P. Brown of Murfreesboro.

Members of the Board, holding its quarterly meeting, endorsed a resolution praising Frazier for his many years of service and leadership to the college.

Frazier, a Greensboro lawyer and former mayor, was chairman of Guilford's Board of Trustees since 1950.

Earlier in the week Frazier stepped down as chairman of the A and T State University trustees. He was made "honorary chairman."

Edwin Brown, who received an

A.B. degree from Guilford in 1926, was first named to the board in 1941. He is the retired president of American Timber Products Co., in Murfreesboro and has been associated with many companies as an officer and board member.

Joplin Plans Sun. Show In Charlotte

Janis Joplin, a leading female hard-rock vocalist, will be appearing in concert at Charlotte's Park Center on Sunday evening, November 9, at 7 P. M.

Janis exploded on the national scene in the summer of 1967 at the Monterey Pop Festival when she was then lead singer of Big Brother and the Holding Company. Since then she has recorded as a single, "Ball and Chain" - "A Combination of the Two" - and her most recent "A Piece of My Heart."

Cashbox describes Janis as "kind of a mixture of leadbelly, a steam engine calamity Jane, Bessie Smith, an oil derrick and rot-gut bourbon, funneled into the 20th Century somewhere between El Paso and San Francisco!"

Janis has played to standing room only crowds for the past six months. This includes a standing room only crowd at Forest Hills, New York, July 19, grossing $68,000.00 and a record $100,000.00 at the Hollywood Bowl.

She has received headline billing at the top festivals for the past 12 months at Atlanta, Woodstock and Houston. Her appearances have also included the Tom Jones Show, Ed Sullivan Show and the Music Scene.

This concert is being presented by Concerts, Incorporated of Charlotte, North Carolina, and tickets are available in advance at $4.50 and $5.50 at the door, on sale at the regular locations.

Guilford Art Series Features Viols, O'Neill This Week

Ex-Prime Minister O'Neill

Captain Terrence O'Neill, former Prime Minister of Northern Ireland, will be featured by the College Union in an Art Series appearance on November 14.

There will be an afternoon seminar and a lecture at 8:15 P.M. in Dana Auditorium, "Northern Ireland - Can There be Peace?"

Captain O'Neill retired after six years as Prime Minister of Northern Ireland in April, 1969.

While Prime Minister he was well known for his attempts to heal the strife between Catholics and Protestants in predominantly Protestant Northern Ireland. O'Neill undertook this goal with what he considered to be a policy of moderation and conciliation, combined with a program of social and political reform.

However, his efforts with regard to the Catholic minority were met with opposition by the extreme Protestant faction.

Despite his resignation, Captain O'Neill still remains a member of the Northern Ireland House of Commons.

He has served the government of Northern Ireland over 20 years, his first post having been Parliamentary Secretary, Minister of Health.

Before being elected Prime Minister in 1966 he was Deputy Speaker and Chairman of Ways and Means, Minister of Home Affairs, and Minister of Finance. He has been a member of Parliament for Bannside, County

Antrim, since 1946 and a Privy Councillor of Northern Ireland since 1956.

His latest book, "Ulster At The Crossroads," was published recently and tells of Captain O'Neill's role in the struggle for religious equality in Northern Ireland.

The former Prime Minister was educated at Eton and served with the Irish Guards during the Second World War.

CHICAGO -- (CPS) -- Chicago. Protesters. Pigs. Clubbings. Violence. Law and Order. Daley. Daily.

Protesters are milling around the Federal Court House, selling "I am a Chicago Conspiracy Booster" buttons, giving out score cards, chanting, worshipping a huge gold paper mache pig. Someone gets bored, rocks are thrown, and there are some beatings. Cops order people around.

Protesters are milling around. "She wasn't doing anything but standing there," and the pigs moved in and hit her and cart her away.

"There are two nations on trial here--the pig nation and the nation of the future," according to Abbie Hoffman, one of the eight "conspirators." It is the United States of America versus the nation of the future. Or the world series of injustice with the Chicago Conspiracy vs. the Washington Kangaroos, Downtown Daleyland, And U. S. District Judge Julius J. Hoffman predicts that this is going to be a long trial.

The scene is a refined version of the 1968 National Democratic Convention. Instead of park permits, the eight-man "conspiracy" is mainly worried about a fair and open trial. The main concern of 74-year-old Judge Hoffman is maintaining a "dignified" courtroom.

"There seem to be two laws in Chicago--one for the people and one for us," says Dave Dellinger, one of the defendants.

Agriculture College Revised

Kingston, R. I.-(I.P.)-The name of the College of Agriculture at the University of Rhode Island has been changed to College of Resource Development.

The recommendation for the change in name originated with the College of Agriculture, which is also planning to replace one of its agriculture curriculums with one in resource management and conservation.

The dean of the college, Dr. James W. Cobble, said the change in name to College of Resource Development more accurately reflects the evolution of the college program during recent years, and more accurately describes the direction the faculty of the college thinks it should go in the future to best serve a primarily urban state.

"The problem-solving, public service philosophy and experience of the College of Agriculture in the Land Grant tradition must be extended to all areas of human knowledge if the University as a whole is to continue to be useful to today's society," Dean Cobble said.
