

Dickinson, Newman, Johnson Announce Senate Candidacy

We, as a ticket, would like to share with the Guilford community the issues that are of major significance to the operation of this college. Though there are issues, such as visitation, which we are concerned with we feel that among Guilford students there is little real debate about the fact that we all would like the freedom to visit whomever we want to when we want to. We are not children. There are several other issues of major importance that we would like to present here:

1-We recommend a review of the operations of the Recruitment Committee. The reason for this is that there are only 26 Blacks on this giving the President a personal column in the Guilfordian, through which he could communicate with the student body on a personal level.

It is our contention that these issues affect the lives of every student here and that if students are apathetic (as is often stated) it is because the present administration had failed to offer an alternative to boredom. We offer a chance to break the bounds of apathy, a chance to work for important goals, to contribute to the real issues that affect us all. We urge you to give us and yourselves a chance on March 5.

campus and we feel that the Recruitment Committee should make an effort to recruit many more Blacks, on an intellectual basis as well as on an athletic basis.

2-We would recommend a reduction in the P.E. requirement from 4 semesters to 2. We would also recommend that the program be expanded to include more activities.

3-We strongly recommend the establishment of an Academic Review Board. At present if a student feels that he has received a grade that is unsatisfactory, his only avenue of appeal is the Academic Dean. We would seek the establishment of an appellate board consisting of four students and three professors to review decisions handed out by the Academic Dean.

4-We feel that students should have the right to petition for the retention of a professor who is being dismissed by the school, or to call for the dismissal of a professor or a dean through a petition signed by 75% of the student body.

5-We feel that there should be absolutely no recruiting by the military on this campus, as we find the ideals of a Quaker institution incompatible with the goals of the military establishment.

6-We would recommend the establishment of a House Council Co-ordinating Committee, the purpose of which would be to co-ordinate inter-dorm activities. The Union would have the option of having a representative on this board. We would also support this committee in order that they could execute their plans.

Burrows At Bennett

Bennett College will feature the noted black Broadway actress, Vinie Burrows, in "Walk Together Children," a portrayal of the black scene in prose, poetry, and song. The lyceum program will be presented on March 5, 1973 in the Annie Merner Pfeiffer Chapel at 8:00 p.m. The public is invited. No admission is charged.

Rice, Lathrop, Haddad Make Bid For Coveted Senate Positions

Of itself alone, any student government organization is virtually powerless to effect changes in school policy, except in its role as a collective student voice. This is the role we envision for next year's Senate - a lobby for change within the academic institution. Assumedly, a proposal originating in Senate, and thus representing a consensus of student opinion, carries more weight as an effective lobby than a complaint or recommendation by a few students.

We have decided to run, basically, in order to raise certain issues which might not otherwise be discussed publicly. We hope that our candidacy will encourage the other nominees to confront certain common problems that may not have been aired previously, so that, no matter who is elected, our common concerns will be dealt with.

We are concerned primarily with the "quality of life" at Guilford. The fact that so many people are moving off campus is evidence of the lack of satisfaction with the present living situation in the

To Run For Senate Executive Council

We have been asked by the Guilfordian to write a statement on our platform. We feel the most important areas of concern with regard to student power and student rights are the evaluation of Guilford College as well as the continuation of such current programs as faculty course evaluation and academic grievance procedures.

In the coming year, Guilford will be undergoing a process of self-evaluation -- and on that basis, changes will probably be instituted in college policy. Areas of our present system that will probably be under consideration are: incompletes, Wednesdays and faculty and student rights. It is terribly important that students have a voice in this evaluation. This is the greatest opportunity that we have had to transform our ideas about what Guilford should be into reality. We will make sure that our voice is heard in this evaluation.

We are also interested in the continuation of our current programs. Faculty course evaluation is most important to us, in that it will provide students with concise and objective information both on courses and faculty at Guilford. The necessity of an academic grievance procedure will also be dealt with under our program. This procedure will provide students with the opportunity to be heard on questions of grading and course discrepancies. We would like to promote a committee composed of an equal number of students and faculty to judge academic grievance cases. Provisions will be made for a committee to formulate standards concerning faculty as well as student rights.

We feel these issues are of great importance and affect every student at Guilford. We will therefore concentrate on part of our program, on giving students the voice they deserve in deciding their futures and in forming the policy that they will live by.

We have had the experience of working for the Senate for the past year and have all worked on various faculty committees and are familiar with the workings of the Senate, as well as the different levels of the administration with which we will have to deal.

Shore Proposal

A student-initiated proposal to redirect the use of Shore Hall has been submitted to the Student Personnel Office and the Administrative Council. The proposal asks for the authorization of a co-educational learning center. Information has been sent to various segments of the College Community and it is hoped that a decision can be reached at an early date.

Students who are interested in this proposal contact one of the following for current information: John Ellison, Penny Parson, Jody Wood, Jim Baxter, Melissa Meyers, Debbie Davis.

the main campus could be made available to on-campus students who would like to plant their own gardens).

We are concerned, too, with Guilford's over-all priorities, directions, and goals. Senate must use its lobbying power in the self-evaluation planned for next year in order to make students' concerns known. In line with this self-study, the Senate could be a vital force through its continuation and expansion of the faculty course evaluation program, the creation of a faculty-student academic review and appeal board, and re-evaluation of the athletic program's goals and needs, particularly concerning scholarships. We favor, also, the at-large election in the fall of at least one freshman representative to the Senate.

We would stress again that our main concern is with issues and priorities, and we sincerely hope that the winner, whoever (s)he is, will honestly and realistically confront these basic common concerns.

Japanese Exhibit

The massiglias cordially invite the Guilford College faculty and students to visit a Japanese Cultural Exhibit, a family tradition, given yearly in honor of Hinamatsure, the Japanese Festival of Dolls.

The exhibit will be Saturday and Sunday, March 3 and 4, from 1-7 p.m., at 1314 Le Clair Street, Chapel Hill, N. C. (Briarcliff sub-division off 15-501).
