Novelist Jessamyn West at Guilford

The author of such bestsellers as "Friendly Persuasion" and "Massacre at Fall Creek" will be the Distinguished Quaker Visitor at Guilford College April 5-11.

Jessamyn West, whose 15th book will be published April 16 by Harcourt Brace Jovanovich, will meet informally with Guilford students and faculty and speak at meetings of two literary groups.

She will address the luncheon meeting of the North Carolina Historical Book Club at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 6, in the west dining room of Founders Hall on the Guilford campus.

Apology to You - but We're Poor!

Please forgive us! Due to drastically diminished and dwindling funds, we will not be printing an issue of the Guilfordian next week! We haven't missed a week yet, so we hope that not finding that familiar pile of papers this next Tuesday, you will not be unduly traumatized. The following week we will bring you yet another issue of the Guilfordian, however!

Right away, Editors-to-be for next year's Urban Word, Quaker, Piper and Guilfordian must submit their applications. A statement of qualifications and reasons for applying must be submitted to Herb Poole, in the Library, along with two references. These must be in before April 15th.

On the same day, she will speak to the Greensboro Writers at a dinner meeting to begin at 6 p.m. in Founders.

Additional activities are being arranged through John Moses Pipkin, a poet and member of the Guilford College religion faculty.

One of Miss West's most popular books was "Friendly Persuasion," published in 1956. She also wrote the screen play for the very successful motion picture version of the novel.

Her 1974 book, "Massacre at Fall Creek," was praised as a masterpiece by leading reviewers.

The book due to appear on the book shelves April 16 is "The Woman Said Yes: Encounters with Life and Death." It is a biography of Miss West's mother and sister.

Her other books include "To See the Dream," "Cress Delahanty," "Mirror for the Sky," "The Witch Diggers," "Love, Death and the Ladies Drill Team," "Love is Not What You Think," "South of

Woodrow Wilson Senior Fellow Visits

Rufus E. Miles, a former Assistant Secretary of HEW, will be the Visiting Woodrow Wilson Senior Fellow at Guilford College April 4-9. He will participate in classes and meet informally with students and faculty.

After retiring from HEW, Miles taught a course at Princeton University on "Philosophies and Techniques of Management" and did graduate seminars on "Poverty and Public Policy."

He recently published a book, "The Department of HEW," and soon will publish another, "A Fear of the Future."

Miles now is president of the Population Reference Bureau, a private foundation in Washington concerned with problems of population growth and distribution.

His current interests are focused on energy, populations, ethics, philosophy and the governability of high-energy technological societies.

The visiting program is funded by the Lilly Endowment of Indianapolis and administered by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation of Princeton.

Apple Chill Cloggers perform with Highwoods Stringband on Saturday. See pages 4 and 5 for more details.

Arts & Crafts Fair

An arts and crafts fair will be held on the Guilford College campus Saturday, April 10, from 10 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

All artists and craftsmen are invited to participate in the fair, being sponsored by the Alumni Association as part of Alumni Day.

Persons wishing to reserve space may contact the Guilford College Alumni Association soon. Registration must be completed by April 1.

J. Binford Farlow, alumni secretary, said the fair will be held on the lawn in front of Founders Hall and Sternberger Auditorium.

Because of the possibility of rain, which would drive the fair inside the two buildings, participants will be limited to 50.

A small entrance fee will be charged for non-Guilford students and alumni. However, no commission will be charged on sales made by exhibitors, Farlow added.

Day Students Free Food!

All day students will get to eat free Saturday at 5 at the Serendipity Pig-Pickin'. The meal will be served on the lawn between Bryan and Milner and will be only a part of a day full of events sponsored by the Union. There will be an outdoor concert by the Highwoods String Band and lots of other events from 2 til 5, and a dance that evening with Smoking -- all free. Day Students will be able to eat free at the Pig Pickin' because of $500 of Day Student funds that were given to the Union. The Day Student President and Senators made the decision to support Serendipity and pay for Day Students' meals on the basis of the requests for picnics and concerts on the questionnaire recently sent out asking Day Students what they wanted done with their money. All responses to this questionnaire were greatly appreciated and more information on the responses will be printed later.

The Union would like to express its appreciation to Day Students for their contribution which had made it possible for them to have a better Serendipity week for everyone.
