Three more Choir Concerts

by Sally McAllister

On Saturday, May 8 at ten o'clock, the Guilford College Choir will sing the last of its programs for the present year, '75-'76. This commencement program, given for the Guilford graduates, will include "Onward, Ye People!" by Sibelius, and "Ain' A That Good News" by Dawson. At six o'clock on the night before (on Friday), a dinner will be given for the graduates and their parents. During this time, the choir will give a short "Pops Concert", singing selections from "Westside Story" and "The Sound of Music", a medley of songs by Sigmund Romberg, "No Man is An Island", and "Beautiful Savior" (which is the traditional ending song). It's for this latter song that we always ask any and all former choir members in the audience to join us.

On Tuesday, April 13, the choir (as a final gathering before everyone "disperses") went to Binford Farlow's for a delicious picnic of barbecued chicken. During our meal, most enjoyed by all, (thanks to you, Mr. and Mrs. Farlow), Ed Lowe opened a gift from the choir which included a large briefcase and around $5.00 worth in Tic-tacs!

We'll really miss you seniors in the group: Kathy Hood, Carol Inglis Aki, Anita Jones, Gayla Andrews,

M.C. Davidson, Ted Egerton, John Wilson, George Steele,

It's been a full and fun year in choir, and I hope that the other new members join me appreciation to you "older" members and Ed for the many fun times we've had this year. (Our fall picnic, Choir Tour especially, and our picnic on Tuesday - to mention a few). Signing off until next year, I feel that those of us who are new people gained much from our year in choir and hope there are more of the same to follow...

I think that special mention should be made concerning the special performers that were on the 1976 Guilford College Choir Tour. Number

One is our super director - Ed Lowe. Our soloists: Mary Anne Brown, Lark Wellborn, Barb Smith, Donna Beck, David Haworth, Ruthanna Haines, and Jeanne Towe. Our pianists were David Haworth and Barb Smith, and Sara Beth Terrell and Gary Farlow for special music. Additional numbers were done by Eric Jackson, Jim Hood and Ruth Shaw, Donna Beck, Jerry Sowers, Bob Gold and Ruthanna Haines, and Kathy Hood and Rob Mitchell. (Plus a number by the chamber group and the men in choir- The Men's Ensemble). Barb Smith, Donna Beck, Kathy Hood and Carol Inglis sang a quartet.

Board of Visitors, students, College administration and one of last year's recipients will recommend to President Hobbs the two candidates for the awards. The awards will be presented at the Commencement exercises.

Ballots will be distributed through the mail boxes of campus students and through the classes of Urban Center students.

The nominations are extending from Monday, April 19 through Thursday, April 22. Ballots boxes will be located in the Founders Hall lobby, the Library and in the Urban Center lobby. A box will be staffed during mealtimes on the 22nd.

The ballots provide room for the nominator to make comments in support of his nominees. Thoughtful observations on the faculty members' academic competence, ability to relate to students, and commitment to the purpose of the College are invited. This is not to be simply a popularity contest, but an opportunity to say "Thank You" to those faculty members who have inspired learning and personal development among the students.

The Committee will meet April 26th, announcement to the recipients will be notified prior to the awarding of the amounts at commencement.
