The Good Party Platform

Elliott R. Good - President
Eric Jackson - Vice-President
Robert M. Bailey - Secretary

Over the years people who have run for the senate office have constantly tried to promise "the moon" to the student body. Now there is a trend in serious candidates which attempts to be realistic in their hopes for accomplishments. No one can promise what he/she is incapable of delivering alone.

The Senate is a deliberative body within a community. It is the job of the senate to make suggestions and recommendations to the community. But more importantly, it is the job of the senate to represent the students.

Our platform is put together from concerns received from all parts of the community:

Safety

1 - The campus lighting during night hour is insufficient. We must strive to keep the esthetic beauty of the campus but at the same time maintain adequate safety precautions.

2 - The interns on the halls are representatives of the housing department. This year for the first time all interns are being equipped with first aid kits. For the safety and well being of the students, the interns should be moderately skilled through various Red Cross clinics in first aid procedures.

Scholarship

1 - Outside of Dana Scholarships, which combine leadership and academic excellence, no academic scholarships exists for the individual that excels only in the classroom. There is a need to reward those upper classmen who have excelled in solely academic pursuits.

Internships

1 - There is an urgency to incorporate the students into all phases of community life. Business, economics, and accounting majors desiring experience in their fields can be integrated into the business sector of the campus. These qualified individuals should be allowed to actually experience on the job training in their own backyard. Schools like MIT and Princeton have successfully integrated students into the business sector of the community. Incorporation of students into the food service in buying and bookkeeping can be a... valuable experience. Charlie Whites' office is another area to be explored for students interested in purchasing methods. To incorporate students into the community this way gives an added dimension to their learning experience.

Student-Senate Continuity

1 - It is important for the participants of the senate to re-examine their roles within this body. The Community Senate is a deliberative body that works with the entire school and concerns itself, primarily, with the needs of the students. The job of the senator is to bring news to and from this elected body. The senate should and must reach out for the student and his concerns. For a strong rapport between the senate members and the students they represent it is imperative that the senators organize bi-monthly meetings with their constituents. There must be a constant flow of information and suggestions between the two groups.

2 - The executive council must meet bi-monthly with the senators in informal sessions.

AN ALTERNATIVE Hosts Discussions

CONTRIBUTION

"An Alternative" would like to invite the members of the Guilford College community to attend the series of discussions they are sponsoring in order to familiarize the community with their ticket for the Community Senate elections upcoming.

Richard Phillips (President), John Richardson (Vice President), and Bob Wells (Secretary) want to provide their services for organizing the will of the community by being elected to the Executive Council of the Community Senate. In order to begin to familiarize themselves with the mood of the community, and to allow the community to become familiar with the candidates, these discussions will be held in the various housing units across campus.

We hope that many members of the community will find the time to attend one of the discussions. The candidates will be glad to try and answer questions about their hopes and impressions of the job. Please get out and vote.
