Guilford benefits from international experience

In other areas, Herb Poole is meeting with members of the consortium in seeking solutions to foreign student problems, Rebecca DeHaven is working teaching English as a second language to some foreign students, and the Admissions Office is sending letters to all International alumni to establish contacts for admissions from other nations.

But perhaps the most important real contact with foreign students is our relationships with the students themselves. We have the opportunity to learn from our friendships and growing together much about a world in which international

contact is growing

Senate matches revision money

By Jane Allen

During the regular Senate eeting held Wednesday, meeting held Wednesday, March 21 the Senate approved the Executive Council's suggestion that the Senate Vice-President be an alternate for the student member of the search committee for a replacement for President Hobbs.

Ken Schwab requested that Senate match the money allot-ted to compensate those people working on the student handbook revision this summer. Senate approved $250 for this purpose. Spence Hamrick and Jan Earl will be working on the revision project

Senate approved the request by Alpha Kappa Alpha, a national women's society, to induct Guilford students into their organization.

Senate also approved the increase from 10 to 15 minutes in the intervals between night classes, effective in fall 1979.

Regarding budget, the Senators approved $1000 for the Union in anticipation of Serendipity and other expenses. The request by the Biophile Club for Senate funds as reimbursement for expenses incurred when the group became snowbound on a trip to the Outward Bound Center will be reviewed at the March 28 Senate meeting.

The Philologists Chowder and Marching Society and the Music Ensemble presented their Constitutions for Senate approval. Senate approved PGMS and will discuss the Ensemble constitution on March 28

Members for the Residential Life and Publicity and Contact Committees are needed.

Applications will be accepted for Student Advisory Committee until March 30. Applications can be obtained in the Senate Offices

East Asia expert leads discussion on China's horizon, despite abberations in its national policy

The last ten months have been witness to the tendering of new relationships between the United States and China. The question now, stated Dr. Bailey, that The Great Leap. . . was an educational process.

Currently, China is operating on past remembrances of foreign imperialism, and her ac-tions as a nation in the future will be influenced by this. Dr. Bailey sees China as needing to show her independence from all the other powers and establishing and maintaining a separate identity. The question of development looms foremost is "how do we respond?" When asked of his impression of Guilford, Dr. Bailey responded "I am impressed by the number of students who ask questions in the classes I've visited and the quality of the questions they ask."

For this appraisal Guilford can be proud. Still, it takes more than just intelligent students to respond to a speaker. It takes a dynamic speaker who lends himself to an audience for inquiry. Jackson Bailey was just that.
