

American students sought for Europe

Work this summer in the forests of Germany, on construction in Austria, on farms in Germany, Sweden and Denmark, in industries in France and Germany, in hotels in Switzerland.

There are these jobs available as well as jobs in Ireland, England, France, Italy and Holland, by the consent of the governments of these countries, to American university students coming to Europe the next summer.

For twenty years students have made their way across the Atlantic through A.E.S.-Service to take part in the actual life of the people of these countries. The success of this project has caused a great deal of enthusiastic interest and support both in America and Europe. Every year, the program has been expanded to include many more students and jobs.

Already, many students have made application for next summer's jobs. American-European Student Service, on a non-profitable basis, is offering these jobs to students for Germany, Scandinavia, England, Austria, Switzerland, France, Italy, and Spain. The jobs consist of forestry work, child care work (females only), farm work, hotel work (limited number available), construction work, and some other more qualified jobs requiring more specialized training.

The purpose of this program is to afford the student an opportunity to get into real living contact with the people and customs of Europe. In this way, a concrete effort can be made to learn something of the culture of Europe. In return for his or her work, the student will receive his or her room and board, plus a wage.

Students should keep in mind that they will be working on the European economy and wages will naturally be scaled accordingly. The working conditions (hours, safety regulations, legal protection, work permits) will be strictly controlled by the labor ministries of the countries involved.

In most cases, the employers have requested especially for American students. Hence, they are particularly interested in the student and want to make the work as interesting as possible.

Employers are informed of the intent of the program, and will help the student all they can in deriving the most of his trip to Europe.

Please write for further information and application forms to: American-European Student Service, Box 70, FL 9493 Mauren, Liechtenstein (Europe).

Surf and turf in May

By Jackie Ludel and Lynn Moseley

Immediately after graduation, the Biology Department will offer a two-credit seminar and field experience, formerly called Biology 250: Coastal Ornithology and Cetology, although "Surf and Turf" has somehow become its nickname.

The course will begin on Monday, May 5, and end on Friday, May 16. Most of the time will be spent in the field at the coast.

The first off-campus location will be the University of North Carolina's Institute of Marine Sciences facility at Morehead City. After a brief stay there, the group travels north by ferry to the Outer Banks for several days at the Bodie Island National Park Service Dorm (also known, lovingly, as the "Bodie Island Hilton").

Both locations, as well as the ferry rides, should provide ample opportunities to study the residential and migratory birds of the coast, and near-shore or stranded and beached whales.

Before and after the trip course meetings devoted to ornithology and cetology will be held. The combination of the field experiences and the court meetings should provide a fine introduction to the ecology and natural history of Aves and Cetaceans.

The course will have not prerequisites and is open to all majors. It will be graded on a Pass/Fail basis only. Students will be required to do the assigned readings, to keep a journal throughout the course, and to undertake their share of communal responsibilities during the field experiences.

Because of transportation and lodging limitations, enrollment is limited to only twenty students. More detailed course information and application forms are available from Lynn Moseley in King 105. Students who have already expressed their interest in the course should also see Dr. Moseley immediately to receive these items.
