

Clay Tyson plays the stripper while under hypnotic suggestion during Serendipity. Steve Linvill rushes to censor two-year-old Angle from the Ghastly sight.

APRIL 9, 1982

Volume LXVI Number Thirteen
Guilford College
Greensboro, N.C. 27410

The Guilfordian

Porter to serve as Union President

By Paige Hogan

At 6:15 on Wednesday afternoon, the last of the 371 votes were counted and the ticket of Roy Porter, Karen Oppelt and Teresa Calio was elected as next year's Union Executive Board. Porter—who will serve as president-listed meeting with old officers in order to discuss budgets, new committee chairpersons, etc. as the board's first priority. This objective was closely followed by initiating student enthusiasm and educating the students to the importance of the Union. "The main thing that I want is justice. I want the students to be heard. I want to give them what they want such as a choice in concerts, more pleasing dances, ..."

Porter feels that in the past, too many of the decisions have been made by committees. He wants to involve "the whole student body as opposed to select groups", adding that their ticket feels there should be more unity of the school as a whole under the union. "We have all the resources ready, we just need to gather them up and put them under one scope." However, Porter also heavily stressed that the student apathy must be conquered even if it takes "knocking on doors, rallying in the hallways or putting up provocative signs." "I want the students to know that the Union should represent them and that they should be more involved."

Karen Oppelt, who will serve as vice president, also made comment on the student body's unwillingness to become involved. "There definitely needs to be more student involvement. The election shows that; less than half the students voted. That shows something is wrong."

Porter feels that the three officers will be able to work well together as the executive board. Teresa Calio, who will serve as treasurer, carried this same sentiment. "We worked together on the film committee and we thought alike. I think this will make us more cohesive in working on the Union."

Next year's executive board, as a whole, wants to initiate "new areas" and change such as altering the election procedures by making the open forums a larger part of the election. Porter commented however, that they "realize they can't do everything in one year."

"As many changes as possible" was also the platform for the defeated ticket of Eric Zilling, Stacie Poulos and Charlie Hill, according to Zilling. "I'm not really upset that Roy won. He's a great guy and he will do a good job. "However, "He'll have a different type of union than we would have had. Their tentative plans included smaller but more numerous concerts, with perhaps an outdoor concert in the fall; dances featuring rock 'n roll and punk bands, trying to get a T.V. in the grill room, student body meetings in order to get input on various issues and "as much as the Union could, to revise the alcohol policy." Zilling also felt that there should be more than one day between the deadline for tickets to enter the running and the election itself.

Roy Porter, the man of leisure, will be entertainment director next year as president of the student union.

Upcoming Concert

Choir sets spring program

GREENSBORO—The Guilford College Choir directed by Edward Lowe will present its annual spring concert at 4 p.m. Sunday, April 11, in Dana Auditorium. Admission is free.

Student soloists are Deborah Phelps of Clewiston, Fla., Donald Howie of Davidson, Tracey Welborn of Stoneville, Cathy Gaddy of High Point, Catherine Hodgins of Coleridge and Alison Horan of Bethesda, Md.

Accompanists are Dale Easley of Walnut Cove and David Messick and Donna Haney of Greensboro.

The program will open with two selections from "Judas Maccabaeus" by George Frideric Handel, "Sing Unto God" and "Hallelujah, Amen."

The Handel will be followed by the Franz Schubert "Mass in G" and Ralph Vaughan Williams' "The Souls of the Righteous."

Following intermission the choir will perform "Dixit Maria" and "cantate Domino Canticum Novum" by Hans Leo Hassler. The chamber choir them will sing "Zigeunerlieder, Op. 103" by Johannes Brahms.

The choir ensemble will perform "Geographical Fugue" by Ernst Toch, and the male quartet will do the spiritual "Joshua Fit de Battle of Jerico." Another spiritual, "There's a Man Goin' Aroun," will be sung by mezzo-soprano Gaddy.

The final group will include "Russian Picnic" based on Russian folk tunes and three spirituals, "Ain't that Good News" by William Dawson, "Elijah Rock" arranged by Jester Hairston and "Ain't Got Time to Die" by Hall Johnson.

Future appearances by the Guilford College Choir include the Spring Honors Convocation on campus April 18, with the Greensboro Symphony Orchestra in the War Memorial Auditorium on April 19, at the annual meeting of the Guilford College Board of Visitors on April 28 and during commencement weekend May 7-8.