

Senate: A look at the four tickets running in Monday's primary for Senate Executives

Raymond Jones president Eric Adamson vice president Jon Jester treasurer Chad Anderson secretary

My friends and I have decided to run for the Senate executive body because we have not been satisfied with the direction in which our college has been going.

We are concerned with the way the students' money is being spent. Keeping in mind the tremendous budget deficit, it seems foolish to be spending money on trivial items such as the new lights on top of the security vehicle. We are also concerned about some of the policies currently being discussed in the Senate (i.e. keg policy). Another of our major concerns is the judiciary process, where it seems that one is guilty until proven innocent.

The traditions of this school are important, and they are not being upheld. The basic Quaker philosophy of consensus is currently being compromised, the Mary Hobbs situation is a perfect example.

Joe Wallace president Carl Christie vice president Andy Hultberg treasurer Mike Stone secretary

Our Platform:

1. Putting the community back in the Community Senate.
 - The floating Senate (Conducting Senate meetings in the different residence halls) to promote non-senator attendance
 - Strongly encouraging Senators to report and talk to the people they represent on a regular basis about Senate activities.
 - Making upcoming events known, well in advance, so interested people may attend.
 - Encourage Senators to become involved with other organizations
 - Holding "office hours" to enable any individual with a concern to speak out about it

- in order to have more direct input. After all, it is the "Community's" Senate!
2. Increased involvement in environmental affairs.
3. Increased Student Service emphasis upon quality and efficiency during meals.
4. On-going campus beautification projects, including support on a project to place more benches around campus for people to use and enjoy the scenery.
5. Any other concerns the students in the Guilford College Community would like addressed because we are here to listen to what others have to say instead of telling them what we want to do!

Jennifer Hill president Jamie Whitehead vice president Keith Valbuena treasurer Brian Sugioka secretary

Our Platform:

- Stronger bond between Senate and student body.
- Greater student voice in administrative affairs.
- Widespread understanding of Senate by student body.
- Extended knowledge of student issues discussed in Senate.
- Promote senatorial involvement in other campus organizations and activities.
- Increased independence of the Student Union.

- Greater community involvement in environmental issues.
- Student involvement in reconstructing first-year student seminars, formerly IDS.
- Improved first-year student orientation.
- Greater emphasis on career development and counseling.
- Support the review of 24 hour visitation policy.
- Legislate initiatives to confront the issue of sexual harassment and violations.

Jason Smith president Chuck Dunn vice president Reggie James treasurer Suzanne Moore secretary

What we would like to accomplish next year in Senate are predominantly realistic, high energy, high profile goals. We want Guilford College students to know what Senate does. We are speaking to students across campus to see what they want accomplished next year. Students have continually expressed concerns about security, a sexual harassment policy, Painter Boulevard and health services. Suzanne Moore has been instrumental in past improvements in student services. Chuck and Reggie's experiences with Residential Life and my own with Judicial Review Task Force and Senate give us the sensitivity and competence necessary to effectively deal with these issues. Also, we would like to improve training for our student Judicial Board. Again, Chuck's experience as Co-Chair of Judicial Board and our close contact with one of the current co-chairs would be vital. Few people realize that the Senate Treasurer is responsible for a student activities budget of nearly a quarter of a million dollars. As Budget Manager of WQFS, Reggie is quite capable of effectively budgeting this money. Student opinion so far seems to show that students are interested in increased student activities, such as better bands on campus. Through some clever budgeting, we believe we can increase the funding for Union next year. These are certainly not all of the goals we hope to accomplish next year, but it is a solid start.
