Senior guard Andre Ricketts said "I wasn't shooting well early in the season. But I feel if you're a good player, your abilities come out eventually. My ability just came out late in the season."

His ability lately has been clear. In the game against Methodist he was 8 for 13 from the field, 6 for 8 on three-pointers and he captured three rebounds. In his brief playing time of 21 minutes, he boosted the score by 25 points. When the team challenged Bridgewater on Saturday, Ricketts was 6 for 13 from the field and 4 for 7 on three-pointers, grabbed four rebounds, and put 16 points on the scoreboard.

Coach Jack Jensen told Ricketts to "try and have fun this season," and that is exactly what Ricketts has been doing. Ricketts, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., said, "I've been feeling more comfortable and confident on the (basketball) floor and even though I didn't score as much as I would have liked to (for the season), I still had fun."

He also goes beyond his duty to the team. Ricketts said he tries to assist the team in any way he can and has enjoyed helping the incoming freshman prosper in new surroundings. "I'm proud to see the freshmen playing well," he adds.

With a justice and policy studies major and sports management minor, Ricketts is undecided about his future plans. But his memories of the team will never be erased. "It [playing basketball for four years at Guilford] is something I'll remember for the rest of my life."
