Guilfordian: Hi, Roger, this is Washington Irving at The Guilfordian. We were wondering if we could do a 5-minute interview with you.

Roger: Um....great. Okay....Uh, yeah. (Long pause) Sure.

Guilfordian: So you have a second?

Roger: Is this one of the quote 5 minute interviews unquote?

Guilfordian: Yes, it is.

Roger: Okay....Go ahead.

Guilfordian: Number one: How long have you been involved in security work?

Roger: Since 1989.

Guilfordian: In all that time have you ever encountered an offense as dangerous and malevolent as attempting to keep a small kitten on campus?

Roger: Uhhhh....a small kitten?

Guilfordian: A small kitten, yes.

Roger: There was someone who had a large cat once.

long pondering silence

Guilfordian: Really?

Roger: Yeah.

Guilfordian: So, is that a higher level of offense?

Roger: Well, it weighed more.

Guilfordian: Did you have any bad or unfortunate experiences with kittens as a small boy?

Roger: A small boy, no.

Guilfordian: What about as a large boy?

Roger: Just the one in English.

Guilfordian: Do you consider yourself a hateful man?

Roger: Ummmm....Mean people suck.

Guilfordian: (puzzled) Mean people suck?

silence

Guilfordian: Alright. Can you imagine any threat to the community more severe than the living, breathing kitten?

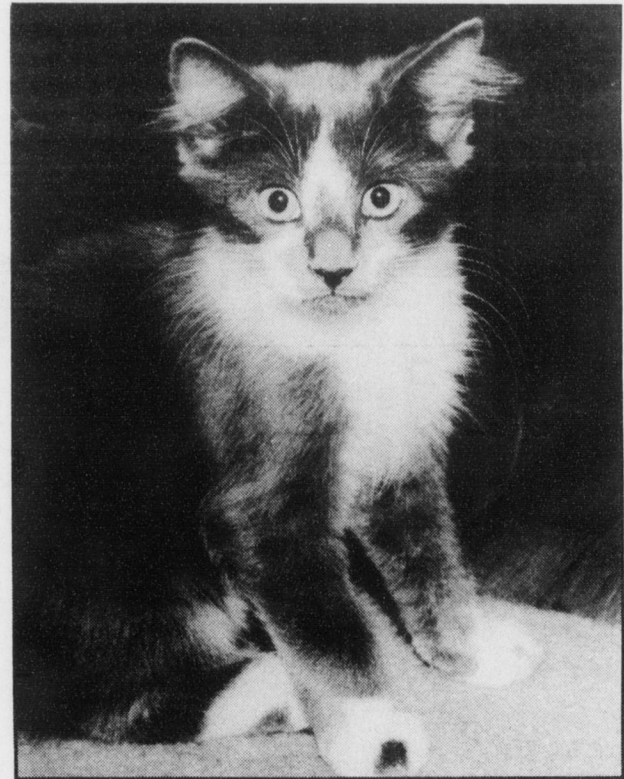

Roger: Um.....a non-breathing, non-living kitten in one of the halls.

Guilfordian: All right. If given the choice would you exterminate all kittens in one quick swift blow as in a giant gas chamber or would you prefer slowly torturing each individual kitten until each recognizes you as its sole Satan; O, Lord Protector of Guilford college Security?

Roger: I think they could be re-educated.

Guilfordian: If you encountered a small kitten on campus would you A) Shoot it dead immediately. B) Call in back-up. or C) grab the cat by the tail and violently throw it into a busy street?

Roger: Of those choices I'd have to say call for back-up.

Jay, the baby kitty cat

Guilfordian: What's your favorite color?

Roger: Uh, blue, no green.

Guilfordian: Is it true you feed on small kittens?

Roger: No, no, I feed small kittens.

Guilfordian: Do you prefer your small kittens rare, medium, or well-done?

Roger: There's relatively little that you can do to a cat that is done well.

Guilfordian: Well, whatever. Thank-you.

Roger: Okay, thank-you.
