

THE POLITICAL GREEK?

The Guilfordian's soap opera plot just gets thicker and thicker. It appears as if the leader of the local chapter of WAGAW (Women Are Greeks As Well) has focused her group's next attack on our little contest.

Amy Leacy, the leader of this political giant, has fought newspapers across the country proclaiming equal Greekdom for women.

"No more will Guilford College live under the blanket of a male-dominated hierarchy of Greeks," says Leacy, who sent a strong statement to the Guilford community by posting an 11-2 record in the last contest.

This is the second consecutive week that a woman has won the prize. And the trend does not seem to be ending as Heather Glissen, last week's winner, came

Heather Glissen

Leacy
Female Revolutionist

in a close second to Leacy with a 10-3 record.

So the Guilfordian's own version of the battle of the sexes is underway, and the women have struck the first blow.

Will the men use this week's games to mount a counter-attack? We'll just have to wait and see.

Entry Deadline:

Sunday at Noon at the Info Desk

Name _____
Address _____
Phone _____

Circle the Winner

- | | |
|-------------------------|------------------------------|
| Atlanta @ LA Rams | NY Giants @ New Orleans |
| Buffalo @ Chicago | NY Jets @ Cleveland |
| Dallas @ Washington | Philadelphia @ San Francisco |
| Detroit @ Tampa Bay | Seattle @ Indianapolis |
| Minnesota @ Arizona | Miami @ Cincinnati |
| Green Bay @ New England | |

Pick the Score (Tie-breaker)

_____ Houston @ _____ Pittsburgh

Guilfordian Top 20

Joe Wallace

Sports Editor

QUAKERS CRACK TOP 10!
QUAKERS CRACK TOP 10!

Those are the best words to describe the euphoria of this week's Guilfordian Top 20.

With Guilford's 22-3 victory over Chowan two weeks ago, and then their 24-21 win over Old Dominion Athletic Conference rival Hampden-Sydney, the Quakers climbed 5 positions in the writers' poll to claim 10th place.

As for the rest of the polls, the last two weeks have been unusual in the amount of losses to the top 20.

Washington State's victory over Miami was enough to allow the team to appear on the poll for the first time this season. The writers placed Washington State 16th on their poll while the players ranked them at 15th.

Each with an idle week and a win, Florida and Nebraska remained atop their respective polls while Penn State made its move.

Due to a loss by Michigan, the Nittany Lions jumped two positions to 3rd in the players' poll; they were even able to overtake Nebraska for 2nd in the writers' poll.

North Carolina, after losing to higher-ranked Florida State, fell nine spots to 20th in the writers' poll. The Tar Heels completely dropped off the players' poll, being "replaced" by fellow Atlantic Coast Conference school, NC State, who entered at no. 20.

But the biggest story of the week is the Quakers' ascent into the writers' poll top 10. Hopefully they can keep up the good work and move even higher.

Good luck Guilford!

Top 10 Writers' Poll

1. Florida Gators
2. Penn State Nittany Lions
3. Nebraska Cornhuskers
4. Auburn Tigers
5. Alabama Crimson Tide
6. Florida State Seminoles
7. Arizona Wildcats
8. Colorado Buffaloes
9. Michigan Wolverines
10. GUILFORD QUAKERS

Bottom 10

11. Virginia Tech
12. Notre Dame
13. Miami
14. Southern Cal
15. Texas A & M
16. Washington St.
17. Texas
18. Colorado St.
19. Washington
20. North Carolina

Top 10 Players' Poll

1. Nebraska Cornhuskers
2. Florida Gators
3. Penn State Nittany Lions
4. Auburn Tigers
5. Florida State Seminoles
6. Arizona Wildcats
7. Colorado Buffaloes
8. Notre Dame Fightin' Irish
9. Texas Longhorns
10. Michigan Wolverines

Bottom 10

11. Southern Cal
12. Miami
13. Alabama
14. Virginia Tech
15. Washington St.
16. Texas A & M
17. Colorado St.
18. Wisconsin
19. Kansas St.
20. NC State

QUOTE OF THE WEEK

SPORTS FOOTBALL GUYS—
THEY'RE WIMPY! THEY WEAR PADS!

—MEREDITH POLLIK
GUILFORD COLLEGE WOMEN'S RUGBY PLAYER