Community Senate Executive elections will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 21, from 7:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. in Founders Lobby. All students who pay the main campus activities fee have the right to vote. This includes international and Interlink students at Guilford and students living off-campus.

The Brian Burton ticket and the Stephanie Jennings ticket are running for the executive positions for next year. On Sunday, Feb. 19, both tickets will be at a forum in Boren Lounge at 7 p.m. In this forum, the tickets will talk about their goals and plans for Senate of 1995-96.

Votes will be counted immediately after voting ceases at 7:30 p.m., and the winners will be announced with a sign in Founders lobby and on WQFS.

This elections will be the fourteenth Senate elections at Guilford College. Senate was created in 1971 to provide students with a organization in which they could express their thoughts and concerns. The government is based on Quaker philosophy, with consensus being the cornerstone of the leadership process.

Both candidates for next year's Senate presidency serve as executives—Burton serves as treasurer and Jennings is secretary.

About the Senate elections, Senate President Richard Ewell comments, "I hope that students will take the time to learn about each of the candidates before they vote." He added that he hopes that students are informed so that the elections don't become "simply" a popularity contest.

Duties of the Community Senate Executives

The president must preside over all Community Senate Meetings. The president, along with the advice of the Executive Council, shall set the agenda for these meetings. The president must attempt to articulate positions that embody the views of the students. The constitution outlines the powers of the president as follows:

- Lead and control the Community Senate Meetings
- Possess the power to call Senate into session
- Serve as an ex-official member on all Senate committees to provide guidance and coordination with other Senate activities
- Attend meetings with the Board of Trustees and Administrative Council
- Facilitate Steering Committee meetings

The role of the vice president shall be to assist the president and other members of the Executive team. The vice president of Community Senate has the constitutional power to do the following:

- Chair Senate in the event the president is unable to attend
- Attend all meetings of the Board of Trustees and Administrative Council in the event the president cannot attend
- Chair the Judicial Committee

The treasurer shall oversee all the financial functions of the organization. The treasurer is charged with these constitutional duties:

- Chair the Community Senate Budget Committee
- Report in writing the receipts and disbursements of all monies received by Senate.
- Oversee, with Budget Committee, the expenditures and financial standing of all student organizations
- Prepare the Budget proposal, with Budget Committee, for the following year
- Sign requisitions and send monthly reports for Community Senate-sponsored organizations

The secretary is responsible for written communications and correspondence within the Community Senate. The secretary is authorized to execute the following as defined in the Senate By-Laws:

- Record minutes of all Senate proceedings
- Communicate Senate business to the campus
- Chair the Communications Committee
- Reply to specified correspondence directed towards Senate
- Accept and make available to the Senate all student positions
- Remind Senators of the absence policy and its implementation

Predictions

The issues next year's Senate may face, according to President Rich Ewell

1. Development of property adjacent to college—next year the issue will probably be decided, and the Senate will play a major role in representing students.
2. Development of a social honor code—the Board of Trustees will probably request that Senate help create a new social honor code which stresses a shift in general student responsibility to the individual.
3. Review club constitutions.
4. Formation of policies regarding clubs—change the role of clubs to place more emphasis on using student activities fees to produce more visible activity—look at movie rights and legality—re-open the possibility of incentives for student leaders—plan for WQFS expansion.
5. Continue to advance student representation on faculty committees.
6. Help plan for college's physical expansion in next five years—continue plans for a possible student center.
7. Decide on tuition plan—also decide whether each student should be given (or be forced to buy) a computer.
8. Possibly install computerized card-locking system in residence halls.
9. Restructure FYS and IDS classes.
10. Continue to build strong alumni relations.
11. Plan more campus service projects.
